The Devil's Exchange.

The Devil's Exchange. A young man stood by a gilded sign. That swung o'er a haunt of sin; And the music bright, and the dazz- ling light

Enticed him to enter in. He panted his way to the crowded bar, And drank with the drinking through; He laughed with the rest at the vil- gar jest, And joined in the ribald song.

And when he passed through the out- er door With a hot and tainted breath, He had set his foot in the darkness path That leads to the shades of death. He had tumbled there, in the devil's lair, His first deep, awful draught;

And a wretched life of pain and strife Was the price of the cup he quaffed, So day by day we barter away Our priceless treasures rare; And we lightly part, to the devil's mart, With gems that a king might wear.

For his worthless dross we place in pawn The pledge of an honored name; And we pay the toll of a blood-bought soul As the price of a deed of shame.

O Lord, we pray for the vision clear: O! a soul that is pure within; For a heart that clings to the price- less things And shrinks from the blight of sin; For the steady step that keeps the path That the Saviour hourly trod;

For the purpose true, to know and do The will and the work of God. And when in the day of days we stand In the place where the nations meet, May it be our joy to hear the King Speak thus from the judgment seat—

"Thou has kept unsoiled from the dust of earth Full many a heavenly gem; Lo, here they are—each one a star To gleam in thy diadem!" —P. C. Williams, League Journal.

Twenty Reasons for Opposing the Saloon.

Twenty Reasons for Opposing the Saloon. 1. It never builds up manhood, but tears it down. 2. It never beautifies the home, but often wrecks it. 3. It never increases one's usefulness, but lessens it. 4. It never allays the passions, but inflames them. 5. It never stills the tongue of slander, but loosens it. 6. It never promotes purity of thought, but poisons it. 7. It never empties almshouses and prisons, but fills them. 8. It never protects the halibut box, but defies it. 9. It never makes happy families, but miserable ones. 10. It never prompts to right doing in anything, but to wrong.

11. It never prepares one for heaven, but for hell. 12. It never diminishes wars (with all its revolts), but increases them. 13. It never renders the Sabbath quiet, but desecrates it. 14. It never puts out our property nor personal safety, but endangers them. 15. It never helps one to get a good insurance policy on his life, but nullifies against it. 16. It never creates ambition and thrift, but invites laziness, prodigality, poverty, idleness and crime. 17. It never builds up the church, but peopled the station houses, prisons and chain-gangs. 18. It never refines character nor promotes Christian grace, but is a destroyer of the soul. 19. It never teaches honesty and sprightliness, but invites the incendiary to apply the midnight torch. 20. It never protects a man, but robs him of his money, his family happiness, his good name, his hopes and all endearments of life.—Free Methodist.
