Still on the Hunt

Titus J. Carter and J. L. White, M. P. P.'s for Victoria arrived in the city last evening on business with Premier Clarke. They are still urging the claims of Victoria county for representation in the provincial cabinet. Either one of them is willing to accept a fore-castle berth, but Mr. Carter is willing to concede that his colleague, having moved the famous resolution to whitewash ex-Premier Fleming, is entitled to the inside track.—Fredericton Mail.

Laws and Decisions Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions

Any one who accepts or uses any article of value is liable for payment of the same, though he may not have ordered it.

It is prima facie evidence of attempt to defraud for any person to take a periodical from the post office for months without payment, and then notify the post office that it has been refused.

Where subscriptions are paid in advance, special notice must be given at the end of the period, or subscribers will be liable for papers delivered after expiration of original subscription.

A subscriber is considered as wishing to continue unless express notice is given to the contrary.

A publisher is warranted in ignoring an order to discontinue while the subscriber is in arrears.

Where the subscriber does not notify the publisher of a change of address, he is responsible for papers sent to old address, though he did not receive them.

Failure to receive the paper through no fault of the publisher does not release the subscriber from liability.

It has been decided that a newspaper is a household necessity, and the separate property of either husband or wife can be held for its subscription price.

Arrange for Woodstock Teacher's Institute

A meeting of the executive committee of the Carleton-Victoria Counties Teacher's Institute was held in the Fisher Memorial School, Woodstock, on Saturday morning, Oct. 7. Those present were Inspector Meagher, H. G. Marr, principal of the Fisher school; Miss Bessie Fraser, vice-president of the institute; Walter Daley, secretary, and Miss Helena Mulherrin. The object of the meeting was to arrange a program for the meeting of the institute in Woodstock Dec. 21 and 22. The meeting promises to be an interesting one. The subjects to be discussed are: School fairs, domestic science, the geography of the war, civics, grammar, writing, arithmetic, parent teacher's associations. It is hoped to have present Dr. McIntosh, of St. John; Dr. Carter, chief superintendent, and Mrs. Murchie, of Calais.

Not Advisable on His Base

"We call our servants by their last names," said a mistress to a chauffeur she had just engaged. "What is your name?" "You had better call me James; ma'am," replied the man. "No I insist that you be willing to be called by your first name. Otherwise you won't do at all." The chauffeur said that he was willing that she should call him by his last name, but did not think the family would like it. "What is your last name?" asked his employer coldly. "Darling, ma'am. James Darling!"

O. L. SHAW, WOUNDED

The following letter has been received by Mrs. James Greer of Mount Pleasant:

Canadian Corps Headquarters,
France, Sept. 22, 1916.

Mrs. James Greer,
Mount Pleasant, N. B.

Dear Mrs. Greer: At the request of your son, Pte. O. L. Shaw, 445743, I am writing to let you know that he was wounded in the left leg on Sept. 17. The leg was not broken.

It was impossible to get him away from the front line immediately and on Sept. 19 I conducted a party of 90 men from the 2nd Can. Br., up to the line and we carried your son and nine of his wounded comrades out to the Ambulance, arriving there at 4.30 next morning.

The doctors gave him immediate and careful attention and described his condition as wonderfully good. He was sent on within an hour afterwards to the Casualty Clearing Station from where he will probably find his way to the base or to England.

I hope you will from time to time hear of his constant progress towards recovery.

I congratulate you on his splendid courage and patriotism. He is one of the men who have made Canada's name great.

Yours sincerely,
A. H. McGreer, Capt.

Barn and 17 Head of Cattle Burned

Fire last week completely destroyed the large barn owned by Robert McAulay, four miles from Sussex, one of the most progressive farmers in Kings county.

Flames were seen at three o'clock, too late to rescue any of the stock, and seventeen valuable cows were burned. In addition a large lot of hay and oats unthreshed were destroyed. During the summer the barn had been remodelled and a cement basement and floors installed, together with modern fixtures. The owner had only $600 insurance, and his loss will run into thousands.

Refreshing Tea

In any season—Summer or Winter—there is nothing more enjoyable than a delicious cup of tea. The flavor must be "just right," though, and that's where KING COLE TEA excels.
