

DECIDED TO APPROVE OF PARK ROUTE PLAN.

Mr. John Patterson Made an Application to the City Council at its Final Meeting.

Mayor Biggar, and Ald. Wifton, Chairman of Finance, Strongly Favored Application.

McFarlane Matter at Last Dropped—Move to Secure Release of Strike Riot Prisoners.

John Patterson, the promoter of the Hamilton, Watrop & Guelph road, sprang a surprise on the City Council at its final meeting of the year, on Monday night by asking it to approve the plan attached to the by-law passed, some time ago authorizing the railway to go through the park. The Dominion Railway Board practically quashed the by-law on a technicality, when it was shown that the plan had been attached some time after the by-law had been passed. The Council was preparing to give its last gasp when Mayor Biggar submitted the proposition contained in the following letter and resolution, forwarded by Mr. Patterson:

"Through a technicality as to the date of a by-law in regard to The Hamilton, Watrop & Guelph road through Hamilton Park, the chairman of the Railway Commission is doubtful as to whether the map was properly attached to the by-law or not.

"As the date when the signatures actually became of effect was on Sept. 24, and the map was approved by the commission on the 11th, and attached on that day, I think the by-law was properly signed and that if the view of it had been presented it might have changed the results.

"In order to get the work started I have spent some $10,000 on surveys and preliminary work, and to prevent the loss of this and the large amount of money previously spent, I have prepared a resolution asking the Council to give the plan attached to the by-law the same force as if it had been properly signed and that if the view of it had been presented it might have changed the results.

"In regard to the money for construction I may say to confuse some statements that have been made to the effect that the whole of it was agreed on by Montreal and Halifax capitalists, and that I am the only person locally interested, and if it fails the entire cost will fall on me.

"I would state also that I am willing to deposit a couple of thousand dollars to be paid to any one who can provide a better route, suitable for a first-class road of this kind, and acceptable to any financiers willing to take the bonds of the railway, and I will give up the plan if such a thing can be found better than it is instead of the route selected.

"In conclusion I sincerely hope that you will in this case continue to keep that good faith which I have not yet found deficient in any of the commitments of the season, I remain,

J. H. Patterson."

The resolution reads as follows: "That it be and it is hereby declared that the plan now produced is the plan referred to in by-law No. 10, of this corporation and therein declared to be attached thereto and the City Clerk is hereby directed as of the date of this resolution to sign and attach to the by-law the plan now produced, and the Mayor and City Clerk are authorized and required to attach their signatures to said plans and this resolution evidencing this Council's approval thereof under the corporate seal of the City of Hamilton, and to annex this declaration to said by-law.

Four Voted for It.

Mayor Biggar said he desired to personally express his regret at the criticism levelled at some members of the Council in connection with the route of the railway. It was to be regretted that the by-law brought a mishap and technicality that had nothing to do with the merits of the application, should have been thrown out, and that a project which would boom Hamilton the way the railway would should meet with such opposition.

Ald. Wright arose and moved the resolution because, he said, he believed the railway was something Hamilton had required badly for six or seven years to give it a direct connection with a very rich section of the country. The promoters had offered to do everything reasonable if any other feasible route could have been secured, and the city should carry out its obligation with the railway.

Chairman Wifton, of the Finance Committee, seconded the resolution and endorsed Ald. Wright's remarks. He had taken a particular pleasure in introducing the by-law in connection with the road, and regretted to see by the papers from recent occurrences that the mind of the people had been thwarted from the public interest. Ald. Wifton said to developer or any other criticism could cause him to change his mind. His policy was to transact business regardless of consequences, as long as it was in the people's best interest. It was only a few months ago that everyone was endorsing the road and complaining about being shut off from one of the wealthiest parts of the country. Mackenzie & Mann were about to build a road from Galt and Guelph to Toronto, which would be completed in time to meet with a difference in time compared with the proposed Hamilton road of about thirty minutes. This was the game Hamilton had been playing for years. Ald. Wifton insisted that the loss of the old Western. Unfortunately this proposed road had arranged for power from the Cataract Co. Two years from now the old men who would compose the Council would not be able to see the resolution, but would be clamoring to do so. Through an unforeseen technicality the plan had been upset. The damage to the park would be infinitesimal compared with the advantage to every retailer, wholesaler and merchant.

Ald. Stewart opposed the resolution, and made the rather significant remark that if Mr. Patterson hoped to get it through next year's Council he did not think the move he was making would strengthen his hand.

"It is only an endorsement of what the switches in the east end. Ald. Stewart said he understood a telegram had been received from the C. P. R. asking that the T. H. & B's application be not copied. Mayor Biggar said it was not what the C. P. R. wanted, the city was not going to have two switches.

The meeting closed with the customary bouquets.

NEW YEAR RALLY IN CENTENARY.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAD A BRIGHT MEETING.

About 1,000 Children Gathered Yesterday Morning to Sing and Hear Short, Bright Addresses.

About one thousand happy young folks from the Methodist Sunday schools of the city began the new year well by attending the tenth annual Sunday school rally in Centenary Church yesterday morning. The service was a particularly bright and interesting one, and the addresses and music were good. One of the features was the way the children took up a hint thrown out by Dr. Hunt, and every time any of the speakers expressed a wish for a happy new year for them they responded with "Same to you" in hearty chorus.

Mr. W. F. Coote was Chairman, and took him on the platform were a large number of prominent Sunday school workers, including Rev. S. B. Nelson, D. I. of Knox Church, representative of the Presbyterian, Mr. W. J. Aitison, representing the Congregational denomination, Rev. T. Henderson, representing the Baptist, Mr. E. Churton, Rev. Richard Whiting, Rev. Dr. Hunter, Rev. H. Bell, Rev. A. Foreman, and Messrs. J. J. Giesse, E. A. Manning, W. W. Main, Ed. H. A. Martin, Thomas Lovjoy, Hugh Murray, Thomas S. Morris, R. D. Spurr, J. Orr Callaghan, W. H. Cooper, T. J. Holland, and others. Mr. H. A. Martin led the singing and Mr. W. H. Hewlett presided at the organ. The programme was opened with an organ voluntary by Mr. Hewlett, and a chorus, "Ship Ahoy," by the whole body of scholars and choir. Rev. Dr. Hunter offered the opening prayer. Rev. T. Henderson read the Scripture, and Mr. Nelson the chairman gave a short and interesting address on the new year. "When Love Shines In" by the children the annual roll call was held, the Superintendent or other officer from each school responding by giving the number on roll average attendance and necessary contributions. First Methodist Church again reported the largest school in the city, and a new school to report this year was Kensington Avenue, Crown Point, reported by Rev. Mr. Foreman and Mr. Thomas S. Morris.

A solo, "Follow Me," was splendidly sung by Miss Sutherland, with chorus by the children. After an address by Rev. Dr. Hunter the greetings of other denominations were conveyed to the children by Rev. Dr. Nelson of Knox, Mr. W. J. Aitison of the Congregational Church. Both gentlemen brought new year speeches, and were followed by Messrs. J. Orr Callaghan and W. H. Cooper, who also spoke well.

Gifts from Winnipeg, Montreal and Ottawa were read, after which Rev. H. B. Bell spoke briefly, the whole company joined in singing "God Save the King," accompanied by a waving of handkerchiefs, and Rev. Mr. Whiting said the benediction.

Souvenir lesson book marks were distributed at the close.

Don't Want Street Closed.

There was a long wrangle over the proposed by-law giving the Philip Carey Company permission to close up part of Trolley street. Ald. Wallace, Lewis and others opposed on the ground that the street should be preserved, so that it could be opened through from the mountain to the bay. Ald. Wright and others said they did not have enough information to vote intelligently on the matter. They wanted it referred back to the committee. Ald. Stewart said there was danger of the city losing the industry unless the by-law passed. It was decided to allow the matter to stand in committee of the whole for next year's Council to deal with.

Dispute Over Boundary.

In connection with the legal battle over the collapse of the south wall of the Commercial Centre building at the time the new Federal Life structure was being erected, Bruce & Cousell, solicitors for M. A. Pigott, sent the following letter:

"In the pending action between M. A. Pigott and the Federal Life Assurance Company the question of title to the property at the corner of Main and Dundas streets will be brought into question. Mr. Pigott owns the north half of lot 44, and the Federal Life owns the south half of lot 44, on the northwest corner of Main and James streets. According to a survey recently made by the present owners of the north-west corner of Main and James streets is out of place by two feet or thereabouts, the northerly boundary of Main street encroaches upon the south half of lot 44, two feet or more. Would you please advise the attention of your Engineer's attention to this fact, and have the exact northerly boundary of Main street located."

That Military Account.

When the account for $2,316 for the maintenance of the regulars here during the street car riots was reached, Ald. Stewart protested that although over $4,000 had been paid, the city should not be expected to pay for anything of it. Why should the city pay an hotel bill for the officers? The soldiers were brought here against the people's wishes, and they should be held responsible for the disturbance, but he thought they could have done without the soldiers.

"The account is a just one," said Ald. Allen, who thought the people should be glad to hear that Mr. Zimmerman, the member for West Hamilton, had been able to get as much as he had off. The Council decided to pay the bill.

McFarlane Matter Dropped.

When the Fire and Water Committee report came up Alderman Dickson reported if any action had been taken in regard to the famous letters in the case of the Beach Pumping Station, and after Engineer Barrow. He did not get any information, the aldermen who were anxious to dismiss Mr. McFarlane a few months ago, were very anxious to get the matter dropped.

Ald. Allen thought the committee was deserving of great credit for saving the city from those who would have stolen it.

Central Prison Supplies.

Ald. Evans called attention to an item in the Finance Committee's report under the jail account marked "Central Prison Industries, supplies, $190.15." He tried hard to get some information on a point, but was unable to Chairman Nibbs, who could not tell. It was promised that the question would be answered when the Finance Committee's report came up, but the information was not forthcoming.

For Release of Prisoners.

Alderman Church moved the following resolution and it was carried unanimously:

"That the Mayor and city clerk be authorized to join in a petition to the Minister of Justice for the discharge of certain prisoners tried, convicted and sentenced for offences committed during the recent street car strike, as by what has already occurred the majesty of the law has been upheld and their further imprisonment is not in the opinion of this Council, in the public interests."

Music and the Drama

Grand. Briefly that tells the story of the performance of "Ben Hur" given at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening and yesterday afternoon and evening. It was the greatest production ever seen in Hamilton, or for that matter, Canada, and those who saw it will long remember the religious spectacle as presented by Klaw & Erlanger's company. While Gen. Lew Wallace's book "Ben Hur" found critics, it would seem that the William Young dramatization, as presented here, met with general and pronounced favor. Grave and dignified to the degree of solemnity and grandeur, it is poetical in theme and coloring and it was not to be expected that the audience would give loud demonstration of its appreciation of the play. There was general applause, but it was soft in tone—such as would be expected at a church concert. The audiences were very fashionable and large, the theatre being filled at all three performances with prominent society and church people.

The "Ben Hur" of the stage, as presented, seemed to fit into the title of a sublime, religious romance, with passages of the most striking and beautiful nature. The "Ben Hur" of the stage, as presented, seemed to fit into the title of a sublime, religious romance, with passages of the most striking and beautiful nature. The "Ben Hur" of the stage, as presented, seemed to fit into the title of a sublime, religious romance, with passages of the most striking and beautiful nature.

He portrayed the hero of the story with deep sentiment. While he looked the part well and acted with youthful fervor and dramatic fire, his exposition of the mental, moral and sentimental side of General Wallace's hero, rather than that of a dashing soldier and joyful victor of the chariot race. John E. Ince, Jim, as Messala, and Robt. McQueen as Simoesides, Henry Weaver as Judah, and Charles Lawrence as Malchus, are worthy of special mention. Margaret Bills, as the mother of Ben-Hur, and Helene Singer, as Ithra, were particularly good in their rôles. About 250 persons took part in the stage production, and about twenty musicians augmented the house orchestra. It is needless to say that the costuming and accessories were all the play audience gave loud demonstration of its appreciation of the play. There was general applause, but it was soft in tone—such as would be expected at a church concert. The audiences were very fashionable and large, the theatre being filled at all three performances with prominent society and church people.

"Ben Hur" will be presented here for the last time this evening, and there will no doubt be a large audience. The company numbers seventy-five, and completed the formation of a provincial organization, and elected the following officers: President, Mr. George Robinson, of the 13th Band, of Hamilton; Vice-President, Wm. Fred, bandmaster of the 10th Band, St. Catharines; Secretary, J. Statter, 45th Band, Toronto; Treasurer, John Waldron, Royal Grenadiers, Toronto. Executive Board—Bandmaster Boring, 45th Band, Lindsay; Bandmaster Zoller, 2nd Band, Berlin, and Albert Slatter, bandmaster of the Seventh Band, London.

Another Big Production.

"A Country Girl" and "The Cigarettes," two of the biggest musical successes ever produced at Daly's Theatre, London and New York, will be presented here on Thursday and Wednesday evening next, by the Augustin Daly musical company. It will be the first time this organization has appeared, and also the first time these two plays have been offered here. In presenting these two works it involves an immense amount of risk and expense on the part of the management. This is not an ordinary road show, but an organization that has stood the test, and which has never been heard outside of the larger cities of the east. The company numbers seventy-five people, including some of the best singers and actors on the American stage.

Between the Acts.

Seats are now on sale for the popular melodrama, "Human Hearts," which will be given at the Grand to-morrow night. The Way of the Transgressor is a melodrama well known here, will be the attraction at the Grand on Friday and Saturday of this week. The sale opened today. This is one of the best of the popular priced plays.

Laura Burt as Dorothy and Henry Stanford as Lord John Marmont, with a large and competent company in "The Merry Widow" will be at the Grand next Monday night. None of the theatre scenery or furniture will be used. The costumes and scenery are the best money can buy and are carried by the company.

"Mr. Hopkins," a farce written by R. C. Carton, which holds the record of a long run, that lasted over two hundred nights at Wyndham's Theatre, London, and a season attended with pronounced success in New York, will be at the Grand a week from to-morrow.

NEW YEAR WEDDING.

MARRIAGE OF MR. MARCUS COON AND MISS ETHEL STEER.

One of the prettiest events of the season took place on New Year's afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Steer, 612 Barton street east, when Ethel Steer, the bride, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Marcus Coon, of this city, by Rev. W. C. Ridgford, pastor of Barton Street Baptist Church.

The bride was given away by her father and looked very charming in a gown of white silk, trimmed with lace. Miss Edna Steer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of silk. Miss Hattie Coon, sister of the groom, was a member of the wedding party.

The ceremony took place under an arch of artistic design, crowned by a hanging bell, and illuminated by colored electric lights, which gave a most brilliant effect to the happy event.

The wedding march was played by another sister of the bride, Miss Louella Steer.

After the wedding, breakfast toasts were proposed to "Our King," "The Bride," "The Groom," and "Our Guests."

Mr. Geo. Steer replied for the bride, and Mr. Coon for himself. Rev. W. C. Ridgford, in a well worded address, replied to the toast of "Our Guests."

The presents were numerous and costly. About fifty guests were present.

Many as a carman doesn't amount to woe.

NAUGHTY "SCHOOLMA'AMS."

Not Always Fair To Themselves. "I taught school" for a number of years, writes a Vancouver lady, "and like many other brain workers forgot how necessary the right kind of food is, and therefore suffered greatly from indigestion.

"My system became run down, my blood impoverished and I had to take a year's holiday in the hope of regaining my strength."

"I saw Grape-Nuts food highly spoken of, tried the food and became very fond of it. After eating it with cream, oil, strength and energy, and went back to work."

"When I married I soon convinced my husband that it was his heavy breakfasts of most potatoes, hot biscuits and white bread that caused his feelings of languor in the morning."

"Since eating Grape-Nuts and fruit, he has become hearty and well."

"It is how many years since we began to use Grape-Nuts and the food seems as necessary in our household as salt. A favorite dessert is alternate layers of sliced apples, sugar, nutmeg and Grape-Nuts, cooked in the oven until the apples are done." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. SILVER WEDDING PRESENT.

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hoey, 40 Leominster street, when the members of Hamilton Lodge, No. 1, Ladies O. B. A., presented a beautiful silver cake basket to Mrs. Hoey, W. M. of the lodge, it being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Mrs. Magartney made the presentation. Mrs. Hoey, although taken completely by surprise, feebly replied.
