ROYALTY UNDER WATER.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland enjoyed the experience of a plunge under water in a submarine. The Queen was present at the naval manoeuvres yesterday, according to the Nieuw Van Den Haag, aboard a submarine, which dived twice while Her Majesty was a passenger.

LONDON REVIEW.

LONDON, To-day. The infantry of the belligerents in the Somme region in France was inactive on Thursday except south of the river, where the French east Denicourt captured elements of trenches from the Germans and brought forward their front more in alignment with the newly acquired line running through Belloy-en-Santerre and Berny-en-Santerre. To-day, however, saw a continuation of the violent bombardments which always precede attempts at fresh advances by the Entente Allies. In addition great aerial activity was shown by the French and British, aerial squadrons bombarding points of vantage behind the German lines south of the Somme. So violent was the French artillery fire that under it the Germans were unable to make their customary counter attacks. According to Paris, the Germans are heavily shelling the French in the old first line of German trenches a mile in length between the Yauc Chaplaine region and the town of Chenoy in the Verdun sector, which were taken by the French on Wednesday night. In Gallia the Russians are still actively in quest of Lemberg, keeping up their pressure against the Austro-Germans westward from the regions of Brzezany and Halicz. Near Brzezany the Russians have driven back the Teutons from fortified positions and advanced to the Naracusk river, a tributary of the Zlota Lipa, and at some points have crossed the stream. Near Halicz the railway line has been cut by the Russians, who are now heavily bombarding Halicz, which, although in flames, the forces of the Central Powers are still stubbornly defending. In Wednesday's fighting in the Halicz sector 5,645 officers and men of the Teutonic Allies were made prisoners. Both Berlin and Vienna admit retreats between the Zlota Lipa and Dniester River. Like Vienna concedes the retreat of Austrian forces before the Roumanians near Olah-To-Pilica. In eastern Transylvania 20 miles from the Roumanian border, the retreat was made in the face of a threatened enveloping movement to the southeast. In the capture of the Turkish fortress the Germans and Bulgarians took more than 20,000 prisoners and more than 100 guns, according to Berlin. Bucharest says the fighting in this vicinity is great in violence and that the losses to both sides have been heavy. The Russians in Turkish Armenia near Ognott continue to drive the Turks from their strong mountain defences, according to Petrograd, and also have put down a Turkish offensive west of Erzincan. On the Macedonian front and in the Austro-Italian theatre fighting is still being done mainly by means of artillery.

EFFECTIVE FRENCH ARTILLERY.

PARIS, To-day. French artillery fire south of the Somme prevented the Germans from making counter attacks, according to an official issued by the war office at midnight. Some additional progress for the French troops also is recorded.

AUSTRIAN RETREAT.

VIENNA, To-day. Austrian troops have withdrawn before the threatening Roumanian envelopment of the heights west of Lepitz south of Dorna Watra, 20 miles west of the Roumanian border, says an official issued by the Austro-Hungarian General headquarters to-day.

SENSE FROM VON BETHMAN HOLLWEG.

LONDON, To-day. According to definite information reaching Berlin from Germany, says a despatch to the wireless press, Dr. Von Bethman Hollweg, German Imperial Chancellor, upon being questioned at the August meeting of the Federal Council as to why he yielded to the demands of the States regarding the unrestricted torpeding of ships on the high seas, replied that the value of the submarine was exaggerated by the adherents of wholesale torpeding. He said insistence on an unrestricted submarine warfare would cause war between Germany and the States, and that the results of unlimited torpeding would not justify such a policy. Elaborating this point, the Chancellor was quoted as saying that Germany could not effectually blockade England nor cut off England's food supplies.

SURRENDER OF TURTUKAI.

LONDON, To-day. In explanation of the capture of the Roumanian garrison at Turtukai, a Sofia despatch received here by way of Copenhagen says the Roumanians were prevented from retreating across the Danube by the violent artillery fire of the attacking forces. It became a case of annihilation or surrender, and the garrison surrendered.

NEW YORK, To-day. The subway elevated transportation lines on Manhattan Island are being operated to-day, although the officials admitted that the service of the surface lines of the New York railway company were seriously affected by the traction strike. The official Amalgamated Associated Street Electric Railway employees who are conducting the strike conceded that the schedules of the subway and elevated lines were not seriously hampered, but reiterated that efforts will be made to induce the strike breakers and employees who have remained loyal to the company to quit their posts.

ROUMANIANS TAKE ORSOVA.

LONDON, To-day. Roumanian troops occupied Orsova, an important Hungarian town in the Danube, according to a despatch to the Times from Bucharest to-day. An unofficial dispatch from Vienna on Wednesday announced that Orsova had been taken by Roumanians. Orsova is one of the principal ports on the Lower Danube, and has considerable commercial importance.

HINDENBURG MAY RETIRE HIS LINES.

LONDON, To-day. According to a Berne dispatch to the Morning Post Col. Madous, military writer of the Neuchâter Neuchâter Nachrichten, in an article indicates that Marshal Von Hindenburg, the new German chief of staff will shortly retire the length of his front. The writer is convinced, he says, that the public will realize that "our new strategists will be acting for the best, and he asked it to bear in mind that a clever move backward on one front may lead to victory on the other."

BRITISH AREOPLANE LOST.

LONDON, To-day. A British aeroplane was lost in a raid yesterday over St. Denis in Belgium, 30 miles southeast of Brussels. Yesterday afternoon naval aeroplanes attacked an enemy aerodrome at St. Denis, says an official statement issued here to-day. A large number of bombs were dropped with good effect, one of our machines failed to return. During the same afternoon a naval aeroplane successfully attacked and brought down in flames a hostile kite balloon near Oostel. The attack was carried out under anti-aircraft fire of the heaviest description but the pilot returned safely.

BUCHAREST IS WISE IN TIME.

BUCHAREST, To-day. The Roumanian Government is inviting German, Austrian and Turkish subjects in hotels and houses in centres where they would be placed in jeopardy by bombs dropped from aeroplanes. This action is taken to prevent air raids.

GERMAN LINES GROWING THIN.

LONDON, To-day. News has reached here from Paris that Emperor William is visiting in person the terrible struggle on the Somme. He has seen the French advance to within two-thirds of a mile of Comblès and the German communication imperilled by General Micheler drive, which resulted in the capture of two and half miles of railroad from Roye to Peronne. Heartened by the Emperor's presence fresh German troops have thrown their weight into the struggle in tremendous counter blows, which, however, have failed to win back for them any of the lost ground. According to French official reports, this battle, the Kaiser is reported to have said, "is vitally important. You must spare no effort to hold on the enemy and die at your post rather than retreat. At the same time, the Emperor promised to send strong reinforcements to General Von Buelow, who has replaced General Von Fritsch. The latter, it is reported, further north to command the army facing Arras. Von Buelow led the left wing of Von Hindenburg's Russian army and is one of the new chiefs of staff first appointed in fulfillment of the Kaiser's orders. Fresh troops have been concentrated in a large force for the defence of Comblès where the battle is raging at the highest pitch of fury. Other reinforcements were sent south of the Somme, with the object of disengaging Chaules. General Von Holstein, who will command the Germans from the Aisne to the Champagne, General Joffre has thus achieved the enormously important result of offering the Germans to weaken their lines at various points on western front in order to meet the great Somme and Verdun drives, and since this is one of the cardinal aims of the whole Allied strategy the battle may be expected to flame up this month on the thinly massed section of the German lines. That is why from his headquarters at St. Quentin Von Buelow is employing all available reserves in the defence of Chaules.

A WARNING.

LONDON, To-day. The Times published a special article from a correspondent, described as a competent English observer with no prepossessions, on the present non-British front. This article drew attention to the remarkable growth of the Sinn Féin movements since the rebellion. The writer says in countless of the southwest, west and east it has spread rapidly. Sinn Féin colors are worn; Sinn Féin flags are unfurled when opportunity occurs; Sinn Féin literature is published, and bought in quantities; Sinn Féin songs are written and sung; and portraits of rebels exhibited in every shop window, elicit silent tributes from passers by. He would be blind indeed who sojourning an hour or two in most of the towns of the southwest or east of Ireland without being amazed at the profound feelings which have been stirred by the Dublin executions. Their feelings may be unparadigmatic from any equitable point of view, but that they must exist to the verge of a dangerous passion is a fact which it would be folly to ignore.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

PARIS, To-day. The German attacks were made in strong force on the front between Bern and Chaules, south of the Somme. Fighting was especially heavy between Verdunvillers and Chaules. The Germans preceded their infantry assaults with intense bombardments. The Germans also made an effort to regain the ground won by the French yesterday on the Verdun front between Yauc Chaplaine and Verdun, where nearly a mile of the German first line positions were carried. The official reports say the German onslaughts were unsuccessful.

Freak Catch Made By Woman Angler

Big Codfish Swallows Hooked Salmon and Both are Haul'd In.

The best fish story of the season, corroborated as an actual fact by Mr. F. R. Burns, who witnessed the catch, occurred at Savary Island a few days ago, when Mrs. Spillsbury landed a 41 pound ling cod and a 14 pound salmon, both on the same trolling hook. Photographs of the unusual piscatorial feat were taken by Miss Burpee, a Vancouver school teacher. According to Mr. Burns, the two ladies were trolling from a row boat, when Mrs. Spillsbury hooked a 14 pound salmon. While she was hauling it in, the codfish happened along and swallowed the salmon. When hauled into the boat it was found that the large-size cod, in swallowing the captured salmon, had also become ensnared in the hook which protruded through the gullet of the smaller fish. Mrs. Spillsbury had no trouble in hauling the salmon halfway to the boat, but when the codfish tackled the smaller victim there was such a tugging at the end of the line that Mrs. Spillsbury had to call for assistance. Mr. Burns was fishing nearby and witnessed the entire incident, he says.
