Hawker's Little Joke.

Mr. H. G. Hawker, the famous airman, who recently had a remarkable escape from death while motoring at 120 miles an hour at Brooklands, was once present at a discussion as to what was the most deadly poison.

One man plumped for prussic acid, another said hyoscin and so on.

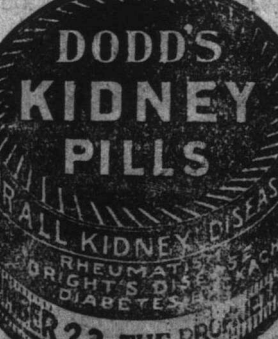

Finally Hawker chimed in with: "Ever heard of aeroplane poison?"

"No! What is it?"

"One drop is usually fatal!" he explained.

MILLERAND SPEAKS.

PARIS, Aug. 16.

Any differences between the Allies, relative to the policies they will follow, have no influence upon their cordial relations, said Premier Millerand at Le Quesnoy town, in the devastated region, which the Premier visited on Sunday. "Divergences of views," he declared, "are quite natural, even between the Allies, but they do not weaken the reciprocal deep esteem or the conviction that the maintenance of their Allies for Entente nations, is the moral duty and necessity of the hour. However painful are certain comments, when these divergences become marked, at the same moment it is realized that next day the Allies will walk hand in hand toward the same purpose, which is the reign of liberty and justice."

BATTLES FOR WARSAW.

WARSAW, Aug. 16.

Fighting at various points on the Warsaw front is reported in to-night's official communique. Radzimin, northwest of the capital, is again in Polish hands, after an all day fight. The Russians attacked on both sides of Radzimin, at Zegrez, and at Okuniew, less than fifteen miles due east of Warsaw.

NOT INCLINED TO GIVE WAY.

LONDON, Aug. 16.

Premier Lloyd George, replying to a question in the House of Commons today, concerning Labor's ultimatum against war on Russia, declared that any attempt to dictate the policy of the Government or Parliament by industrial action struck at the root of the democratic constitution of the country, and would be resisted by all the forces at the Government's disposal.

CLOUD BURST AT TOLEDO.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 16.

Damage, estimated at five millions of dollars, was done here to-day by a severe rainstorm, which floated away great stretches of the city having flooded cellars and paralyzed traffic. It was one of the most severe storms that ever struck the city and district.

JUST TO SHOW THEY COULD.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.

Thirty armed men, this afternoon avoiding the military guard, raided the Dublin Custom House. They went through the buildings and left in a few minutes without taking anything. The haul porter was made to face the wall by one of the raiders while the remainder hurried through the buildings or acted as sentries. The object of the raid had not developed to a late hour.

BOLSHEVIKS HAVE WARSAW.

LONDON, Aug. 16.

NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING.

LONDON, Aug. 16.

An announcement that the Polish and Russian armistice and Peace delegates had met at Minsk was made by Earl Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in the House of Lords to-day. Negotiations were doubtless proceeding, he added.

U.S. ATHLETES AHEAD.

ANTWERP, Aug. 16.

Track and field teams of the United States continued to gather honors in the second day of the seventh Olympiad. It outclassed all other nations combinations, but its members were not strong enough, individually, to win all first place honors, particularly in the classic pentathlon, in which the Finnish star, Lethonen, proved to be the best all round athlete. In addition to the United States scoring the greatest number of points, the only world's record of the day was made by Frank Loomis, of Chicago, in the four hundred metre hurdles, with fifty-four seconds flat, a full second better than the time made by C. Bacon in the London Olympic. In other events of heats before the semi-finals in eight hundred metre run, all United States contestants retained their places, but it was generally conceded that a South African, B. G. Rudd, was a sure first in the final.

PARLIAMENT ADJOURNED.

LONDON, Aug. 16.

The House of Commons to-night, without division, agreed to the motion of Bonar Law, Government leader, and adjourned the House until October 19th, but empowering the Speaker to summon Parliament earlier, should public interest demand it. This, and Mr. Bonar Law's undertaking that in the event of Russia's armistice terms to Poland being materially altered, the Government would take no action without consulting Parliament, meets the Opposition's objections that the country should not be committed to any intervention against Russia without the consent of Parliament. Bonar Law confirmed that the armistice terms to Poland, as announced by Russia, had the approval of both Great Britain and Italy, and said that if they were sincerely adhered to, Great Britain would not interfere between Poland and Russia. Paragraphs in the newspapers recently, considered by some to have been inspired, had led the public to expect some new developments of the policy toward Ireland by the Premier or Bonar Law, on lines of dominion home rule, but this expectation met with disappointment. Lloyd George confined himself to repeating his previous offer that the Government would discuss settlement with any representative of Irish opinion, not excluding Sinn Feiners, provided they accept three stipulations, which he carefully defined, viz., that Northern Ulster's six counties must be treated separately; that there must be no secession, directly or indirectly of any part of Ireland from the United Kingdom and that the Government could not agree to anything that would involve any detraction from the security of the British Isles or of their safety in case of war. This guarded statement, although announcing no new policy, will probably be interpreted as an intimation to continue outside discussions of dominion settlement, which have made such unexpected progress recently, and enlisted support in hitherto antagonistic quarters.

ST. JOHN'S WOMAN LAYS ASIDE HER CRUTCHES.

Mrs. P. Hannaford Rejoices Over Recovery Of Health After Four Long Years Of Suffering — Tanlac Again Proves Merit.

"I can't help rejoicing over what Tanlac has done for me, for it has enabled me to lay aside my crutches and I am now feeling just grand," recently declared Mrs. P. Hannaford, who lives on Waterford Bridge Road, St. John's, Nfld.

"I haven't words in which to describe all I suffered during the last four years on account of neuritis and rheumatism. The pains seemed to shoot all through my body and my legs and feet swelled up to twice their natural size and became so painful I could bear to use them. I had to get about on crutches all the time. Sometimes I suffered such pain I could hardly help screaming out at the top of my voice. I had terrible nervous headaches and slept so little at night I might as well not have gone to bed at all. My nerves got

Raiding Turnip Fields.

Farmers are complaining of the raids being made on their turnip patches by boys and young men. The taking of a turnip or two is not complained of but it seems that when a raid is made dozens of small turnips are pulled up and discarded. One farmer in particular after a raid on Sunday night last lost what would be 3 barrels of turnip in this way. He has since placed a dog's house in his turnip patch and so far no further raids have been made.
