Report of the Secetary. This was the fourth annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, and the three years of existence had proved to be three years of growth, progress and success. So said Secretary Lighthall in his report. The membership was now 107. In Britain, the Board of Associated Municipalities, and in the United States, the League of American Municipalities, filled the offices of municipal protection that the present union was to fill in Canada. "This year," the report continued, "we have begun to harvest what may be called some of the ripe fruits of union, our legitimate demands being in most cases admitted with scarcely a struggle, and occasionally
