Of the many absurd claims put forward on behalf of Mr. Howland by himself and his trumpeters, none is more mirth-provoking than the parallel drawn between him and the president of the United States. The esteemed Mail having rashly tangled itself up in a quarrel with the Typographi cal union, is trying to get the tangle straightened out, with what success remains to be seen. At any rate the ontest. The attempt to make Mr. Manning a party to it has failed. His statement of his position is clear, concate and frank, and leaves no one any pretext to cides with the Globe, as is quite nature, to cides with the Globe, as is quite nature, and the corpose him upon that score. A foolish writer has asked why that statement was not made sconer? Because no one could have foreseen that supporters of Mr. Howland, who claim to be honorable men, would have attempted to prejudice the mayor's case by saddling the Mail's sins upon him. Workingmen are perfectly right in voting for Mr. Howland if they believe his advocacy of blue law is in the interest of themselves and of the city generally. We have no dispute with those who differ from us upon that point. But the demand recently made that the arm of the members who differ from us upon that point. These who believe as we do will do as we do—oppose him.

The late Gen. Grant tells an anecdote in his autobiography of a suggestive incident which occurred during the Mexican war. One night wolves were heard making at the most mode and Grant expressed the opinion that the pack was a large one, numbering twenty at least. An impromptu hunt was organized, which demonstrated that the racket was he work of just two wolves. The writer goes on to say that the incident was of ment of his position is clear, concise and

The world would be better and brighter if more men who are able to do their follows over some public measure, such a noise that one might imagine the entire population to be engaged in making it, whereas investigation would show that the howls emanated from a small clique or faction of hungry partizans. A few days ago a great noise was borne to Ontario upon the east wind, from Montreal and thereabouts. The Globe thought that millions of political wolves had broken loose in Quebec, and believing there were "millions in it" began to howl also, about butchered Indians, murdered lunatics, and all that sort of the call of the control of the call of the control of the call of the control of the call of th murdered lunatics, and all that sort of the English-speaking Canadians of Quebec. thing. these small potatoes do grow, to be sure! There is no rational comparison possible between Mr. Cleveland's record and Mr. Howland's. The former was a party politician from his youth, and owes his promoticinal politician. As such he became successively sheriff, member of the city council, mayor, governor, and finally, president. Mr. Howland's best recommendation, almost his only one, is his claim to have never been a politician. He has never taken by Mr. Cleveland in any of the steps taken by Mr. Cleveland in his prize, and so on with respect to the second, third, fourth and fifth.
