Comparisons Challenged.

In a pumpliet recently issued, the Canada Life makes a comparison of "Expenses to Income," but omits to say that the income credit of to the Great-West Life only includes premiums on less than its first three months' business, and that the expenses named include the whole organization expenses and cost of supplies as well as the ordinary expenses. A comparative ratio, interesting particularly to now insurants, and lished in "The Life Insurance Policy-loiders Pocket Index" for 19th, issued by the "Spectator" Company of New York. It gives the following figures under head of "Expenses and taxes to new business": Canada Life, 5.23 per cent., The Great-West Life, 1.51 per cent., and under same head, after allowing for care of old business, Canada Life, 2.73 per cent. These figures are taken from worn statements to Canadian Government. If the Canada Life will consent to open its books to an impartial competent actuary to make comparisons with the results attained by the Great-West Life for a similar period, all the expenses of such a report will be paid by this company, including the expenses of publishing it in all the leading papers.
