Sir Arthur Currie,
Principal and Vice Chancellor,
McGill University.

Dear Sir, - Speeding automobiles on the campus roads are a constant and increasing menace to life and limb, to say nothing of robbing us of the quiet, studious, academic spirit that we used to think of as associated with universities.

If it is proper to do so, I would like to have some rebuke administered to the two students driving a touring car with the license number 33876. I understand that the car is owned by a Herbert M. Marler, 15 Redpath Street.

Today, on the campus road, my beautiful thoroughbred Aboatian dog narrowly escaped injury or death because of reckless fast driving of this car, and it might have been the same had a human being been where the dog was.

I am sorry to trouble you with the matter, but one somehow hopes that we may yet see some of the beauty and loveliness of our campuses -

Respectfully,

Sidney Bliss.
