C. J. Beal, principal of the Technical and Art School, has just returned from a trip to Washington, D. C. and old Point Comfort, Virginia.

He says the sentiment all over the United States has changed remarkably and that Britain's praises are everywhere sung. At the same time there is a disposition to believe that the Canadians are being given all the hard fighting on the western front. Americans point out that the Canadians, according to press dispatches, have stopped the great German attacks, and that they have been in the great assaults and have never been beaten.

Mr. Beal explained to those who took this view that Canadians were given the place of honor in the line on many occasions, and that their fighting had seemed more spectacular because of The Circumstances, and given more in the morning, and the eastbound train. But Magistrate Gave Man Found With Whisky Another Chance,

Methods of police magistrates are not the same, and the adoption of a different system by Magistrate Graydon than has been in vogue in the past few months is noted by those who attend the daily sessions at the Carling street mill of justice.

A young man appeared in police court this morning charged with being intoxicated. He admitted the fact and a fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

"But, your worship, he was found on the street with a half filled bottle of whisky?" said Inspector Birrell.

The young man frankly admitted that this was the case.

"Under the Ontario temperance act you could be fined as others have been in this court, $200 and costs, but I will give you a chance; so take this waring and never be found again with whisky in your possession on the street, said the magistrate.

The young man thanked the magistrate and said a "word to the wise is sufficient."

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

TO HELP ON FARMS

ASSIST IN HARVESTING Many Want to Give Their

Assistance in Fall,

Too. If the employees of all London's factories respond as readily to the call for volunteers to help the farmers as the men of the Greene-Swift Company did last evening, there will be no labor scarcity at seeding time. A few seconds after a call was made at the meeting last evening almost 20 per cent of the 250 men present were on their feet. The firm's employees were entertained at a supper last night and at its conclusion firm's employees were entertained at a supper last night, and at its conclusion Mr. S. Frank Glass, M. P., was introduced by Mr. Greene, and asked to present the claims of the greater production committee of London and its relation to the enlistment of labor to assist in the work of seeding on the farms.

sist in the work of seeding on the farms.

Mr. Glass said the meeting was unique and possibly the first one of its kind held within the province to promote the worthy object greater production. At the present time only such men as had experience in farm work would be useful for the purposes now pressing, that of seeding and preparation of the land for crops. It might be that not many of them had had such experience, but it was impossible to suppose that there were not some present who might not qualify and materially be of assistance.

World Condition, Application cards and further information regarding the movement may be had at Board of Trade rooms, City suppose that there were not some present who might not qualify and materially be of assistance.

World Condition.

Mr. Glass briefly reviewed the world's condition in regard to food suppoles, with ten countries on short rations, and six others practically on the verge of starvation, with 60.000,000 men withdrawn from production and labor, either fighting in the trenches or manufacturing materials and supplies of war, the constantly decreasing supplies of food necessarily followed.

He said it was the pressing duty of Canada to strain every nerve and exert power for greater production. The man who works on the farm, he pointed out, is working for his country, and patriotism should be an inspiration for every man to do his bit so far as may be in his power.

The Government of the province had established a bureau of labor in London, at present conducted in the office of the district agricultural representative at No. 15 Dominion Savings Building. This bureau was to be a permanent institution, and would be a kind of clearing house for all kinds of labor. It had for its object the mobilizing of labor, as well as its distribution—in other words, placing those seeking employment in touch with employers. It would serve a useful purpose to both employer and employee. Applications from all over Western Ontario were coming in dally for help, some 40 having been received Friday. He was glad to be able to say that there was a ready demand for all labor offering, and both men and boys were being sent out to satisfy the calls for help.

Mr. Green said that the need was a ready and to the calls for help.

A Pressing Need.

A Pressing Need.

Mr. Green said that the need was a real pressing one, and any of the firm's employees who had had experience and wished to respond to the call and wished to respond to the call would have every assistance from the firm possible, and their places kept for them. He asked those present with farm experience who would be willing to enlist to stand and about a dozen men responded; these were men willing to go at once and assist with seeding. Mr. Green then asked those who would be willing to assist later in the harvest to stand up and 35 more answered the call. A foreman of one of the departments said as so many men of his the call. A foreman of one of the departments said as so many men of his department had offered, he likewise would do the same and that he had had good experience in all farm work. Application cards will be distributed today and an enrollment of the names of those who volunteered will be sent to the secretary of the hoard of trade.
