KITCHENER, Aug. 9 .- Ac-

KITCHENER, Aug. 9.—According to the rather emphatically-expressed sentiment of the officials of the Beavers, there is little chance of next Saturday's Kitchener-London game being transferred to London. Beaver supporters here have been loud in their criticism of the treatment handed out to the locals over the week-end, and claim but for Kitchener getting the short end of all decisions the Beavers would have bagged three out of the four games played.

in practically one game. Lavan has just about done this this year.

In the sixth and eighth innings of the contest of June 4 with the Cubs, Alexander, pitching, Lavan bunted Jacques Fournier in from third, each tap he laid down being so perfect that there was no chance to get the runner at the late or the bunter at first.

The next day, in the fifth, against the same team, Martin pitching, Lavan squeezed Rogers Hornsby, worth at any time $200,000 f.o.b. St. Louis, home, but time $200,000 f.o.b. St. Louis, nome, but he died doing so.

Thus in nine innings Lavan worked the squeeze play three times, which may or may not be a record. Probably it is.

Lavan has been doing other things during June and July than squeezing men over the plate. In one game last month he tripled twice; in another he bicked more than once and was hen. kicked more than once and was ban-

NEW BOOKS. "The Cup of Fury"—(Wetzell & Company).

[By Franklin Shaughnessy.]

The new hurler, news of whose coming did (not) appear exclusively in these columns, Devinney by name, warmed up behind the line of cars in the northend yesterday, but wasn't needed once Delotelle got into his stride. This Boston Red Sox hurler had a good record when up, and is only being loaned on the Neitzke-Pittenger deal for the balance of the season.

After he was part way through the fifth Old Twenty never faltered. Lapp's bad one that bounced off Shay's knees and the pop behind third that had Dow ling, Kuhn and Delotelle all crossed up, made things look bad for a minute. Lapp was caught cold off second when Delotelle whipped the sphere back there and the next two were easy out and the wobbling was over.

The fans didn't know whether Morrisette was going to change pitchers or nto another uniform, but it turned out that it was just his mind. If Lapp, or Laap, as it really is, cut profanity out of his vocabulary he'd have to learn the deaf and dumb langwidge. Shag makes an Indignant denial that some of his help carried Pekingese

When Morrisette says "Nom de le nom d'un chien" he's just trying to think One enthusiastic fan counted 148 cars parked over in the ball yard. He did while the Hamilton battery were having conferences.

Even the daintiest mud sloggers out there yesterday couldn't help looking ike a young pup getting tangled up with fly paper. Mrs. Lady Luck Shaughnessy has entered a suit for separation from Frank powers" is the basis for the non-support plea. If the diamond dries for today and is dusty it's to be hoped that the naughty rind does not blow the dust on Mr. O'Hearne.

o wait until he donned his uniform, and in the meantime Bornhaft became cold and when London went to bat they bunched enough hits to win the game. Up to the present Manager Wetzel has been looked upon as a good sport but when he allowed Phillips to be retired from the game simply because he had not formally given his consent, he has dropped in the estimation of the players on Saturday there was one of the largest crowds of the season at the game, and Umpire Franklin, the veteran official, was too excited to do himself justice, and his decisions on balls and strikes were sufficient to discourage the very best of pitchers. Ernie Sharpe was in prime condition when he warmed up, and straight balls, and he was hit freely and often. "Lefty" MacCallum followed, and everybody knows that he is a good pitcher, but his curved balls over the corners of the plate were called balls, and he also resorted to throwing straight balls. London got the hits and won the game. In addition George Jordan was longered off the coaching line early in the game because he was too aggressive.

Antwerp. Aug. 10.—Walter Knox, coach of the Canadian athletes, told the Associated Press yesterday that several of his men have excellent chances to win Olympic honors. He mentioned among those Earl Thomson of Saskatch-sewan in the hurdles. Thomas Towns of Manitoba for the 5,000-metre run, and Archie McDiarmid of British Columbia for the 56-pound weight and hammer throw.

STRATFORD. Aug. 9.—Officials of the local football club are awaiting with interest further details of a telewan in the hurdles. Thomas Towns of Manitoba for the 5,000-metre run, and Archie McDiarmid of British Columbia for the 56-pound weight and hammer throw. and the fans of this city.

balls. London got the hits and won the game. In addition George Jordan was ordered off the coaching line early in the game because he was too aggressive and made the Cockneys nervous.

In the second game Umpire Legge of London went behind the plate, and his decisions were positively rank. In the second inning he called a strike on the first ball pitched to Morgan, and the second ball pitched he called "ball" and the crowd and players jeered him. The third ball was called a strike, and Morgan was called out on strikes, with two strikes and a ball. This is merely one sample of the raw deal that the Beavers received in London.

The writer has no hesitancy in making the statement that if the Beavers had received a square deal from the Cockneys, the umpires and the crowd during the series that three of the four games would have been won by the Beavers. The Kitchener team has nothing to fear from the Cockneys, and will show them up during the series here on Thureday, Friday and Saturday of this week.
