An Extra Pair of Trousers

****************

Most any man ean do with an extra pair of pants, and our pant department affords you excellent choice at moderate prices. We are showing two splendid lines just now at 1.50 and 2.00. The one-fifty pant is made from a good Canadian tweed, in neat stripes grey and black, full complement of pockets, and sewn as strongly as any of our 3.50 pants-and they are good fitters, too. The two-dollar lines are made from good all-wool tweeds, in dark colors, and marked down from 2.50 because we had too many of some lines in stock-neat dark stripes and excellent wearers.

TRAIN WRECKS RECORDS.

Pittsburg, Sept. 23.—A special chartered train on the Pennsylvania Railroad has broken all records on that line between Philadelphia and Chicago, making the 822 miles in 17 hours and 57 minutes. The train left Philadelphia yesterday at 4.08 p.m., arriving in Pittsburg this morning at 12.02 and Chicago at 9.05 a.m. The train was chartered by a Chicago business man desirous of arriving in Chicago to-day in the quickest possible time to close a busiquickest possible time to close a business transaction said to involve $250,-

PFLUCKY GENERAL PFLUG. "General Paug of Kuropa'kin's staff is one of the pluckiest, most placid and uncomplaining of the czar's officers."

General Pflug was a pfleasant man, Who lived on an easy-going pflan. Pflacid in times of peace was he, Fond of pflay and pfleasantry. In a pflacid way he pflied his trade Altho but little wealth he made: Pflainly he lived, yet in manuer snug, And a pfleasant man was General Pflug.

But when arse this eastern row
And pflucky men forsook the pflow,
And after bands a-pflaying tuzes
Went marching off in gay pflateons—
When menu were melting up the pflate,
And giving pflunks unto the state,
He gave his wife one parting hug
And pflunged ahead—did General Pflug.

And now he pflots against the Jap, And pflods across the pflaguy map. Tis a life adorned with pflush, And pflentiful are mud and slush. But the ofttimes he's like to faint. He vent no pflea, emits no pflaint; Vflacid and pflain, along he'll tug. For a pflucky man is General Pflug.

"Where did you hear of that?" "Why, muther vas reating it by de newsbapers," replied the lad. The proprietor laughed. "I've seen something of that kind in the papers," he said, "but I won't attempt to offer you anything just as good. Where is the rheumatism?" "In de handt und in de arm," the low replied. "Well, see here," said the boy replied. "Well, see here," said the boy replied. "Well, see here, said the proprietor, with a sudden smile. "I haven't got the cure on my shelves, but I keep it in my back yard. You go ut thru my door and walk around my flower beds. When you see four or five bees resting on a flower just try to pick them up." The boy nodded and went out. He was gone at least ten minutes. When he came back his face was red and his nose—where an angry bee had alighted—wat beginning to to perfection."

Silenced the Lawyer. An American lawyer recently failed badly to "score" off a witness. A farm-er was prosecuting a man for stealing ducks, and the lawyer for the defence was endeavoring to break down his evidence. "You are certain that these are your ducks?" he asked, in cross-examination. "Certainly." said the farmer, and proceeded to describe them with considerable detail. The jury looked convinced, but the lawyer had not finished yet. "That's all very well," ne said, "but these ducks are really no different from any other ducks. I have plenty in my yard at home which are exactly like them." "Very likely," as-sented the farmer, calmly; "these are

On all sides of the house Mr. Reid On all sides of the house Mr. Reid enjoys great personal popularity. Indeed, nobody could dislike him seriously. He is a pleasant conversationist, and has an inexhaustive story of good nature. His only annoying habit is that of going to sleep, like the Fat Boy in Pickwick, on all possible occasions. He will sleep thru a long and sions. He will sleep thru a long and important debate, waking only at odd moments to make a comic interjection, and then relaxing into slumber. But he has all the privileges of the proverbial "furny man"; he is a kind of pet thruout the Commonwealth, and, perthruout the Commonwealth, and, perhaps, the country could better spare a better man.

Tho born in Scotland, the premier has nothing Scotch about him. He is not subtle enough for metaphysics, and has no turn for philosophy. He admits that he knows nothing about art or literature; so he has taken no part in any of the little artistic and intellectual movements that Australia has yet attempted. To the younger men he seems already hopelessly out-moded. His chief claim to political remembrance is that he once tried, ineffectually, to stop the march of scientific taxation, and his chief claim to wisdom is that he speedily abandoned the attempt.

Charles Murray, 30 years old, of No. 631
West Thirtieth-street, was unloading ice from a wagon in front of a New York saloon, when one of the cakes slipped and fell on his right foot, crushing two of his toes.

Dr. Palmer took the man in an amblance to Bellevue Hospital. They had hin on a stretcher and were taking him into the dressing-room, when he got up from the stretcher and using his well foot started to hop away.
