Gen. Oku's Headquarters, Jan. 29 .-Yesterday (Saturday) afternoon, the Japanese began a fierce bombardment with artillery and musketry along the whole line. The firing was kept up until midnight and was resumed at dawn today, continuing until noon. The Russian reply was feeble. A movement of the Japanese left wing, for the purpose of surrounding and cutting off the Russians in the neighborhood of Pokowtai, is progressing slowly, as the resistance is stubborn. Should the Russian force be cut off it will result in leaving Gen. Kuropatkin's right flank unprotected. Two divisions of Japanese troops at-tacked Pehowski and drove four divisions of the Russians across the Hun River. Six hundred Russians were cap-River. Six hundred Russians were captured. The Russians are making a stand across the river. One Russian division made several attacks on Santanpu to the east, but was driven back with a loss of over 4000. The Japanese bombarded the entire Russian line. The Russians replied feebly, showing little activity.

Russian Readquarters, Huan Mountain, Sunday, Jan. 29.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The object of General Kuropatkin's latest offensive movement was to capture the important position at Sandepas, on the left band of the Eun River, due west of Schill River, and therebw outflank the Japaneses from the Shakhe River and enable the Russian army to undertake a general advance.

Chief Blame for Failure of Rus- THOUSANDS ON BOTH SIDES AMONG KILLED AND WOUNDED

St. Petersburg, Jan. 30.—Gen. Kuropatkin's attempt to break thru the Japanese left wing and outflank Field Marshal Oyama's position on the Shakhe River seems to have failed. Field Marshal Oyama appears to have answered the Russian advance with a counter offensive movement, but no great disposition was shown to carry the war into the territory held by the Russians.

At the war office the chief blame for the failure of the movement is laid to a sudden drop of the thermometer to 20 degrees below zero, with a high wind, which drifted the snow and rendered it hazardous to expose the troops to camping in the open plain, ed it hazardous to expose the troops to camping in the open plain, and also impeded transportation.

The operation entrusted to the second army, under Gen. Grippenberg, was the capture of Sandepas, which, once in Russian hands, would serve as a pivot for a flanking movement against Field Marshal Oyama, but Sandepas proved too hard a nut to crack, and the Japanese, taking advantage of the check of the Russians, hurried up their reinforcements and assumed the offensive on the Hun River, as well as along the railroad and the Great Mandarin road. The Russians, however, appear to have been successful in repulsing all the Japanese attacks. Gen. Grippenburg did not press the attempt to storm Sandepas.

repulsing all the Japanese attacks. Gen. Grippenburg did not press the attempt to storm Sandepas.

Owing to the flat trajectory and the enormous penetration of modern projectiles, the capture of the outer line of trenches on Thursday entailed heavy casualties, some thousands on both sides being killed or wounded. The news of this defeat is especially hard for the government. The popular idea continues to be that the advance was undertaken to divert attention from the events in European Russia.

Barrett had complained of his feet being sore and of feeling nervous, and of being afraid that he would not be able to sleep. At 4 a.m. he woke up and saw Barrett sitting up in bed. That is all he remembers, until he heard a smash and saw Barrett disappearing thru he window, or thought he did, but would not swear to it.
