

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1922

Joe Moore is New Canadian Champion

The new Canadian national amateur skating champion for 1922 is a United States boy, Joe Moore of New York city, who also holds the international championship of Canada and the United States for 1921. By winning second place in the three-mile event, the last race of the two-day programme yesterday afternoon, Moore increased the number of points won by him to seventy, the most scored by any skater, and so captured the Canadian title at the championships held on Wednesday afternoon and yesterday at Lily Lake under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I. As Canadian champion, Moore was awarded a magnificent silver cup donated by Right Rev. E. A. LeBlanc, bishop of St. John, for the highest point winner in the meet.

Jewtraw is Runner-Up.

Second to Moore in the number of points scored at the championships was Charles Jewtraw, United States national champion of 1921. Jewtraw won sixty points. Roy McWhirter, of Chicago, was third with fifty points and William Steinmetz, also of Chicago, fourth with forty points.

Despite the fact that Russell L. Wheeler, of Montreal, Canadian champion of last year, Charles Gorman of St. John, holder of the world's outdoor record for the 440 yards, and other Canadian skaters from maritime province places and farther west were entered in the meet, none but skaters from across the border captured point-winning places in any of the senior events.

On the other hand, despite the fact that several of the United States champion boy skaters were here for the meet the local lads succeeded in capturing a majority of the places in the junior events.

A Popular Victory.

For Moore's victory was a popular one. While of course the crowd undoubtedly would have liked to see the Canadian champion go to a Canadian skater it was none the less true that no skater would have been more willingly accorded the honor than Joe Moore.

During his stay in St. John and his training at Lily Lake his cheerful disposition, his fun-making for the crowd and his obliging manner have made of him a general favorite with the fans. Gladly and heartily, therefore, does St. John congratulate the new champion. And Joe reciprocates. "If I wasn't an American citizen," he said, yesterday after the meet, "there is no place on earth I would rather skate for than St. John."

A Close Finish.

But Moore's win and Donovan's victory were not by any means the only sensations of yesterday's racing. The final in the half-mile was so close that the judges had to consult for several minutes before the winners were announced. Gorman showed up well in this event although he did not get in among the point winners. Only inches separated Moore, Boyd, Steinmetz and Gorman at the finish. And among the preliminary and semi-final heats were contests as keen as any that the finals provided.

Tremendous Crowd of Spectators.

The crowd that attended the races yesterday was estimated at between fifteen and twenty thousand people. It truly was an astonishing sight to behold such a mighty company of people so ingeniously encircled at points of vantage from which they could view the races. And comparatively few left the scene until the last event was over, in spite of the fact that it was a raw day with intermittent driving snow flurries, borne down upon the spectators on the wings of a raw east wind.

Around the fence which encircled the outer edge of the track, and which measured about 1,000 feet, were massed eight and ten and even twelve deep in places. It was estimated that fully 5,000 people were packed in this great ring of humanity. In the grand stand another 1,500 were standing, while upon the verandah of the pavilion were many others. On the rising knoll immediately to the right of the pavilion was another great company, probably 4,000 or 5,000 more. And further off to the right stretched a thinner line that wound continuously up to the top of the hill near the toboggan slide into a great solid circle, the whole resembling from the air an enormous comma.

Crowds Everywhere.

But these were not all by any means. A really precipitous declivity rises from the road in front of the pavilion to a height of a hundred feet or more. This formed a great natural grandstand and on the slope of this hill were two other great crowds, placed on either side of the pavilion so that they might see all that transpired on the rink below. This hill is covered with tall, slim, and at this season of the year, leafless trees and the crowds standing in among the foliageless wood resembled some in this gathering of a fairy tale. Many of the more venturesome climbed up into the trees where they looked for all the world like great black birds perched in the branches. In fact, people were everywhere, along the base of the hill, and even on the sloping shores of the opposite side of the lake from which the races also could be seen although the individual competitors could scarcely be identified.

Red Letter Days.

The meet yesterday was run off with commendable dispatch by the officials in charge. The ability of the skaters, the tremendous crowd, the keen racing and the general conduct of the affair have made of both days on which the Canadian national outdoor skating championships were staged for the first time in the history of St. John.

The Trophies.

Handsome gold, silver and bronze medals were the prizes for first, second and third places in each of the events. These medals, together with the championship cup presented by his lordship, Bishop LeBlanc, were given the winners after the meet yesterday at a small gathering in the pavilion at the lake. C. A. Owens, chairman of the Y. M. C. I. committee in charge of the sports, presented the medals to the winners, all of whom expressed their thanks informally and briefly.

Entertaining Exhibitions. Despite the fact that they later were to take part in some of the real racing, several of the skaters gave entertaining exhibitions of acrobatic and fancy skating yesterday afternoon. Bobby Hearn, Dave Patrick, E. Stevenson and Joe Moore furnished the entertainment. It was much appreciated by the large crowd. Moore, Stevenson and Hearn did the acrobatic antics and Hearn, making while Patrick gave an exhibition of fancy skating.

They Seem to Like St. John

What some of the skaters said about the meet:

"If I wasn't an American citizen I would rather skate for St. John than for any place on earth. Nothing but a broken leg will keep me from coming back here to the next big meet."—Joe Moore, the new Canadian champion and international champion.

"I sure thought it was fine."—Roy McWhirter, winner of the mile.

"I had a hard time to get here but I'm certainly glad I came. I hope to compete in future meets held in St. John. I certainly got wonderful treatment from the people here."—Charles Jewtraw, United States national champion and runner up in the Canadian championships here.

"It was the most wonderful meet I was ever at and the finest bunch of fellows I ever met. The contestants were all clean and the officials just. The hospitality I received was better than I ever expected to get anywhere."—Richard Donovan, winner of the three-mile race yesterday.

"St. John has the finest bunch of sportsmen I have ever met. They always root for the man in front no matter who he is or where he comes from. I hope to be here next year."—Bobby Hearn, trick and acrobatic skater.

"I had the best time of my life in the sports here. I have been on the circuit for six years and I never saw a better bunch of fellows."—George Pickering, Patterson (N.J.).

"It was exceedingly close right up to the last minute."—Dave Patrick, of Winnipeg, acrobatic skater.

"I think it was the best meet I was ever at. I certainly thought it was good."—M. Perry, Montreal.

ACTRESS GRATITUDE.

Maude Adams Presents Estate to Religious Order.

New York, Jan. 20.—Maude Adams, whom thousands of Canadians learned to love as Peter Pan, has presented her 300-acre estate at Lake Ronkonkoma, Long Island, to the Catholic Sisterhood of Our Lady of the Cenacle. Two years ago, though not a Catholic, Miss Adams went to the convent of the sisters in this city for a few weeks for a time, a withdrawal from the world for a time, to provide which is one of the chief functions of the Sisterhood.

She found there opportunity of securing quiet mind rest, and for the last two years the convent has been her home during her frequent visits to New York. Out of gratitude to the sisters, she has now given them her country estate, which is valued at $100,000. It was said at the convent that Miss Adams has never contemplated becoming a Catholic.

Size of Track Only Matter Open to Criticism Says

President of A. S. A., who Suggests Six Laps to Mile Next Time—St. John Discussed as Possible Future Time.

J. A. Taylor, president of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, which granted the Y. M. C. I. the authority to hold the Canadian national championships, when asked for his impressions of the meet last evening, said: "The first thing that struck me was the tremendous crowds on both days and the fact that, in spite of the rather disagreeable weather of today, ninety-nine per cent of the people stayed until the last event was finished."

"I never saw a group of officials more thoroughly up in their work or who took their jobs more seriously than those at this meet. When a man was wanted, no matter who he was, he was there and he knew what he was there for."

"Considering the lack of accommodations for a big crowd of competitors," continued Mr. Taylor, "it was really remarkable that there was practically no delay between the events and this is proven by the fact that every race was run off on time and all the events completed within the time expected."

"The only thing I regretted about the whole show," said Mr. Taylor, "was the fact that the track was not made a six lap track instead of an eight lap one. There was ample space and it would have been better for both competitors and spectators. The Lake Placid track, which is a six-lap one, is much faster, especially for the sprints, and one laid out on this plan would have been better for all the races. But, naturally, in an undertaking of this kind, perfection could not be expected but I think that this is the only criticism that could be offered."

"Regarding the entertainment of visitors, the only complaint I have to make is that it sets a mark that none of the other places will ever reach," Mr. Taylor continued.

"Taking the meet as a whole," he went on to say, "I think it stands out in this particular, that even the very smallest details seem to have been foreseen and provided for."

President of Lake Placid. "Put anything you want to down there and sign my name to it. You can't say too much to suit me." That was the way Patrick Hennessey, president of the village of Lake Placid, had of expressing his opinion about the meet. Then he went on to say that it was the biggest and best meet he ever saw. The attendance and the hospitality were remarkable.

"I only hope," he said, "that you get an international meet and if you do the only thing that will prevent my being here is being under the sod."

He spoke in highest terms of appreciation of both officials and skaters and told of the astonishment of the visiting officials at the tremendous enthusiasm aroused by the skating game in St. John.

Backs St. John for International. "We are with St. John," said Mr. Hennessey, "in the strongest possible way if they have the desire to hold the international championship meet here some time in the future. The mayor of Lake Placid said he would like to take this public method of expressing his thanks to the various associations and individuals in the city who had done their utmost to make the visit of the outsiders a pleasant one and who had undoubtedly met the highest measure of success in so doing."

The Y. M. C. I. physical committee which was enlarged temporarily to make the preparations necessary for the holding of the national championships and which has been at work for weeks, was made up of C. A. "Joe" Page, of Montreal, a noted sport writer and promoter, was in frequent consultation with the committee and aided them greatly by his experience and advice. The publicity committee which co-operated with the general committee included G. Hay, Tyler.
