MR. RING'S LETTER.

Talking with the Star this morning Jacob Brown said that D. M. Ring, whose letter on the royal visit was published a few evenings ago, had misunderstood him in a conversation between the two. Mr. Brown says it was not with the fireworks, but the procession that he had to do in 1887. The fireworks were not set off from Fort Howe at that time, but Mr. Brown fully agrees with Mr. Ring that that is the right place, as women and little children would not be able to go out to the park, and all should have a chance to see the display, for which all must pay their share of taxes. Mr. Brown also agrees with Mr. Ring that meetings to consider the matter of a reception to the royal party should be held in the evening to enable representatives of all classes to share in the discussion.

POLICE COURT.

Shocking State of Affairs at the Guthro House.

Three Members of the Family Were Before the Court Today.

That the Guthro family are well represented at the police court was shown there this morning, when the daughter, mother, and son appeared. Mrs. Guthro came up on what was intended to be her last appearance, and from the folds of her waterproof produced the register of the Canadian Hotel. In this register were entered the names of all the guests at the hotel, "both perpetually and transient boarders," said Mrs. Guthro. There were no dates of arrival nor were these necessary so long as the people got there.

D. Mullin moved that the charge against Mrs. Guthro be dismissed, arguing that the scenes witnessed by the neighbors could be explained in different ways.

The magistrate thought that there was strong evidence against Mrs. Guthro. "She had a beer license and by the evidence of the complainants the house is one of ill fame. These women were seen in a state of nudity in company with men. It would be, perhaps, just as well to appoint a commission to test the houses for houses like this in the same way as beer licenses. It has got to be now that wherever you see the sign 'beer,' it is equivalent to something else. All you need is to go in and they are there behind the screen."

Just before Mrs. Guthro was brought in, her daughter, Agnes McDonald, was sentenced to two months in the Good Shepherd for drunkenness. She was found on City Road last night by Sgt. Baxter and Officer Semple, and explained to them that she was of a very sensitive temperament, and that very little would upset her.

After mamma went in to jail Joseph was brought up to finish his defence on the charge of beating his wife. His witnesses did not appear, and the case was again postponed until Tuesday. Joseph pleaded to be allowed to go to Montreal, but the necessary permission was not granted.

Mary Deacon and Catherine Creagan, both of whom were arrested for drunkenness some days ago, were disposed of this forenoon. The former could scarcely stop chewing gum long enough to plead guilty, but during the next two months which she will spend in jail she will have ample time to exercise her jaws. Catherine goes to Good Shepherd in company with Agnes McDonald.

BEER SHOPS.

A Strong Statement Made By The Police Magistrate Today.

In conversation with a Star reporter today Judge Ritchie said that his remarks in the police court during the proceedings in the charge against Mrs. Guthro did not refer to the licensing of houses of ill fame, but rather that a commission should investigate the reputation of those places to the owners of which beer licenses are granted. He said it seems as though any person, no matter what their previous reputation has been, can obtain a license upon payment of a nominal sum of one dollar, and in many cases the beer selling is made a cloak to cover far worse things. Some of these places are fitted up in a manner not necessary for the sale of beer and are used as houses of assignation where all classes of people are received and young girls led astray. Licensed houses of ill fame will probably never exist in St. John, and nothing need be said at present upon that subject, but he held that something should certainly be done in regard to the granting of beer licenses to those receiving them should have at least a fairly good record.

ACTED IN GOOD FAITH.

A city firm recently offered ten dollars for a suitable name for a brand of tea. They have since announced that none of the names sent in were suitable, and they had chosen another word. A correspondent writes to the Star today complaining because no one of the names sent in was taken.

When asked about it by the firm he replied that of all the names sent in (which included many already in use as brands of tea or something else) not one suited them. They would cheerfully have paid ten dollars for a name that suited them, but they had to be the judges in the case themselves. The word they did adopt was not sent in by any correspondent, else they would have announced the sender's name and awarded the prize. They do not feel that there can be any ground for complaint. They advertised in good faith for something they did not get, and they acted in perfectly good faith.

A HORSE'S LEG BROKEN.

This morning, while one of R. T. Worden's cabmen was driving down to the American steamer his horse stepped on one of the many loose stones and broke its leg. The accident occurred on Queen street, between Germain and Canterbury, a street which has been in a disgraceful condition for years. The horse happened to be the very best one owned by Mr. Worden. He was known as Island Chief, and was valued at two hundred dollars. He has not been destroyed, but in spite of all that can be done will be of no further use to his owner.

AN EXTRAORDINARY STATEMENT.

(The Freeman, Editorial.) If the governor general during his sojourn, enters the mayor's office, the sheriff's office, the post office, the customs, the savings bank, the I. C. R. depot, or any federal, provincial or civic office, he may meet Jew or Gentile, high churchman, low church or no church, but he will not meet a Catholic. Not one holds a prominent position under any of the Protestant governing bodies. Further comment is unnecessary at present.

TO ADVERTISERS!

Advertisers in the STAR are requested to send in copy not later than TEN O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON, in order that the matter may be set up in time for this day's issue.

JAMES F. HAMILTON.

The Well Known Former Mill Owner is Dead.

Universal regret was expressed this morning when it was learned that James F. Hamilton, for many years a prominent lumberman in this city, had passed away. He died of heart failure. Mr. Hamilton was the son of the late Charles Hamilton, who died in this city a couple of years ago. The family came here from Portland, Me. The father came first, and bought and operated a sawmill on the Straight Shore. Later his son, James F., who was a paymaster in the United States navy, resigned that position and became his father's partner here. When the old mill was burned Charles Hamilton retired from the business, and James F. built the present mill, which he operated for a time and then sold to Miller Bros.

The family lived for a time on Douglas avenue, but have of late been boarding on Wellington Row. Mr. Hamilton was about 60 years of age. His wife was Miss Russell, of Portland, Me., and she, with one son, Russell Hamilton, about 19 years old, survive. Mr. Hamilton was very popular with the business community, and was one of the most ardent sportsmen in the city, having fished at various times practically all the lakes and streams in New Brunswick.

He was a member of St. John Entertainment Knights Templar. He was a member of the Union Club, whose flag is at half mast today because of his death.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

What a St. John Merchant Says About It.

J. N. Harvey, the Union street clothier, is a Star advertiser, who has proven, and is demonstrating every day that advertising pays, and by persisting in intelligent advertising he has built up an excellent business, not only in St. John, but in the county and province. Through courtesy of Mr. Harvey we publish below his reasons for advertising.

"I advertise in the newspapers because I am not ashamed of my goods, my work, and to let the people know what I've got.

"Because I cater to the intelligent, careful class of buyers, and they read the newspapers, and I believe in increasing my business.

"Because I can talk better to more people through the papers at a greater distance, in less time, and at a more reasonable price than in any other way.

"Because when I write an ad I am not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible space, in the best possible paper, and to have it inserted as attractively as possible; then it is seen by most everyone in the house where the paper goes.

"Why do I advertise in the Star? Why, don't you think I know a good thing? The people of St. John do. That's why, so many are reading it every night.

"Because my advertisements in the Star have brought me good returns for a little expenditure.

"Money paid for advertising in the Star, like putting money in the bank, is safe, and draws interest when backed up by the clothing and values we offer."

CHANGE OF PROGRAMME.

The Governor General and His Party Will Arrive Tomorrow Afternoon.

The governor general will arrive here tomorrow afternoon shortly after five o'clock on the steamer Curlew. However no reception will be tendered him at that time, and he will be received publicly, for the first time, at the court house Monday morning. There he will be presented with an address, and it is expected that as many citizens as possible will attend. In the afternoon he will be taken for a drive around the city, and in the evening he and the Countess of Minto will be tendered a reception. The guard of honor will attend their excellencies at the morning reception. Two guards have been selected, one to attend their excellencies at the reception, the other on their departure. The first guard will be in command of Major Magee, with Lieut. Perley, 2nd Lieut. McMillan, Color-Sergt. Wetmore, Sergt. Cox, Day and Doce, and Corp. Atchison and Phillips. The second guard will be in command of Capt. Churchill, with Lieut. Frink, 2nd Lieut. Peters, Color-Sergt. McCarthy, Sergts. Doig, O'Brien and Nash, and Corp. Nichols and Nutt. The officers of the band are Bandmaster Jones, Band Sergt. Jones, Corp. McAllister and Lee, Corp. Buckle.

The guard of honor from the 62nd Fusiliers will meet at the drill shed on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, not on Sunday.

It is said that the Lord's Day Alliance telegraphed Lord Minto asking him to change his programme so that he would not be met on Sunday by a guard of honor.

THE CORPORATION DRIVE.

Robert Nobles, one of the contractors for the corporation drive, returned Wednesday evening from a trip up river. He has had a crew of men at work for some time removing the logs from the narrows below Grand Falls, and they now have them about all out. Contractor Pond of the upper corporation, has been obliged to cease work on account of scarcity of water.—Herald.
