GELDART ADMITS STEALING THE STOVE Says He Was Talked Into the Crime. Said Stove, Refrigerator, Freezer and Other Goods to Peterson on the Installation Plan

The case against Geldart and Peterson, charged with stealing a stove and other articles from the McClary-Mac Company, was resumed in the police court this morning. Manager Irwin of the company was in court ready to give evidence, but Mr. Baxter, who represented the prisoner Geldart, informed the court that he had had a conference with his client and Geldart was prepared to admit the misappropriation of the company's goods and that it was not necessary to go on with any further evidence.

Mr. Macrae then called on Geldart as a witness, but this was strongly objected to by Mr. Mullin and Mr. Baxter. The latter as counsel for Geldart, said he wished the entire statement struck out. This was done and the charge was again read to the prisoner and he pleaded guilty.

But it contained only $12.50.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, June 8.—Karl Hau, who has been under arrest here for some time charged with murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molter, at Badenbaden in November last, confessed today that he was guilty of the crime. Hau's confession followed the news that his wife had committed suicide by throwing herself in a lake in Switzerland whether she had gone after the double affliction of the death of her mother and the arrest of her husband had broken her down and confessed that she was guilty of his wife's mother's death, a crime he had hitherto strenuously denied.

FRANCE IN FAVOR OF LIMITATION POLICY Foreign Minister Defines His Country's Position. Will Lead the Conference in the Direction of Compulsory Arbitration—Address Well Received

PARIS, June 8.—Speaking in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, Foreign Minister Pichon defined France's position at the Hague peace conference, saying it would be one of moderation and conciliation. M. De Pressens, who presented an interpellation on this subject urged it to be the duty of the republic to take an advanced position in favor of the reduction of armaments. War was weighing Europe down, the speaker contended, and the questions rendering war less ruinous and savage were secondary and could not be treated with success unless the main problem was served. He urged that this be accomplished either by proposing that each country maintain a peace army in proportion to its population or that each be assigned a maximum sum for military expenditures.

THE RUSSIAN DUMA IN A HARD CONTEST ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—The critical moment in the life of the Duma has arrived, and Premier Stolypin and the Constitutional Democrats are fighting with two fronts to save the young government. The battle within the cabinet between M. Stolypin's backers and the Reactionaries is proceeding vigorously and each faction is maneuvering for support at Petrograd. No decision has yet been reached, but the latest indications are that the premier is winning out. The Constitutional Democrats are bending all their might to secure a majority. To compass this, they are even willing to shelve common sense, expediency, and amnesty, both cherished and cardinal planks in their platform and effective slogans in the last election.
