GOD'S KINGDOM ON EARTH. THIRD BODY TAKEN FROM

By DR. LYMAN ABBOIT.

preached in Plmouth church last Sunday morning on "God's Kingdom in the Barth." He selected for his text the passage in the Lord's Prayer, Matthew vi:10. "Thy kingdom come; thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven," and

The Hebrew people believed thatwould establish the kingdom of God on the earth; when He would make Jerusalem the holy city, and would bring into subjection to the Hebrew people all people, just as other provihad become, in the later years, subject to the Roman Empire. When Jesus came He told His disciples that He was one who had come to establish the kingdom of God on the earth, and a great part of His instructions are con have not time to go into those instruc-tions now, but I think the burden of them was to show his disciples that they were right in expecting the kingearth and that they were worng in expecting it to be the kind of all events. He lived and taught and iffered and died, and when He died His disciples gave up their hardly formulated faith that He was the Messiah, and when He arose from the lead that faith received a new birth. born in His resurrection. In the Book their preaching was not "Be righteous;" do good." the doctrine of the Trinity or the atonement, but it was "The Mes s come, the Deliverer; He has come to God is at hand." And they believed, very thoroughly, that this kingdom was come on the earth. They thought that the Messiah who had died and risen was to come back and establish at with a cloud of angels; that, with verthrow the Pagan world and establish the Hebrew kingdow; that He would make Jerusalem the holy city, the world's capital, and that He would make aall nations tributary to the Hebrew. But He did not come; He dechange. They did not give it up. They still thought the kingdom was coming on earth, but they thought in a different fashion. Paul thought that the Roman kingdom was to become the kingdom of God, and it was because of tablish or maintain in its app to the Christian religion, the doctrine thier religious freedom. He was possessed by a tremendous enthusiasm, and be believed if he could be free to teach the truth the people would become fol-lowers of Jesus and the kingdom of Rome would become the kingdom of

Does it sem like an idle dream? But in four centuries the kingdom of Rome became just as much a kingdom of God as a knigdom can become that is im-perially transferred. Constantine turnperially transferred. Constantine turned it from a pagan kingdom into a so-called Christian kingdom. Rome became a Christian empire, the eagles make it a noble, elevating, inspiring were hauled down and the cross hung up. But it was not changed. There was the same old cruelty, lust, passion. bitterness, wrath. Not so badly as before, but it was all there, and the best citizens take no interest in polifore, but it was all there, and the Christians began to say, "We have been mistaken, the Roman Empire cannot be the kingdom of God. Christ is not take any interest in politics is not one of our best men; he is one coming in power; the church must be ferred their conception to an ecclesi-astical kingdom and they organized this church on imperial lines. They made the pope like the Roman emperor, and the archbishops and bishops like con-suls, and they tried to make this church rule the kingdom. The ecclesiastical kingdom was better than the old imperial kingdom, but there was jealousy, pride, selfishness. And so the best men said, "The church is not the kingdom. We must go out of the church and form a little kingdom—a brotherhood." Francis of Assisi and Augustine formed brotherhoods and escaped into convents and monasteries. But it did not succeed, and the monks became de-spoilers of the common people. And, finally, the Christians gave up hope and to expect is that out of this world God will pick selected men and out of those He will build up a kingdom in heaven." And so men began to say, "The king-dom of God is to come in heaven. We anust bear the burden and the strife and joy and brotherhood, and men will stop looking at the things are seen and turn their eyes to the things that are unseen." And all the time they kept on praying, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in

We are undergoing a change. We are beginning to get back to the conception that what we want is a kingdom on earth. I do not think the Church sees it very clearly, or the ministers. There is a good deal of a muddled state of mind about the colestial kingdom, and still hoping for a civic and political rule and yet thinking they must be their area. ing they must fix their eyes on the golden city, and all that. What I have come to say this morning is that that world of righteousness and peace and universal happiness. If that is so, why eyes on the green fields and the pearly gates of the Celestial City, but to be preparing in this world for the heaven hereafter. We are to try to anterest the leadership of this ministry or some swer our own prayer: "Thy kingdom other church and ministry, and take come; Thy Will be done, in earth as it part in this endeavor to make this in heaven." What is this Kingdom world better and happier? any accuracy a future thing. I will take Paul's description: "The Kingdom of God is not in meat and drink, but in righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost." What do we mean when we say: "Thy kingdom on each as it is in heaven?" We play that there may come upon the earth righteousness and peace and joy. What we pray for and ought to look for is a state of society in which there are square and honest lives; adjusting themselves to a standard of righteousness. We mean the domination of the Goiden Rule; honesty and integrity in business affairs; peace and good will; riddance of resuess discontent, and in place of it caim; peace with our neighbor; peace with God; joy and holiness of spirit; joy and healthful living in conformity to the laws of nature that are the laws of God. We mean a city in which menshall live squarely, have good will to-ward one another and where all men

The Rev. Lyman Abbett, D. D., shall share in the universal well being. A gi-nee back in history shows that all through the nineteen centuries since Christ was been the world has since Christ was been the world has been moving along toward peace. Slav-cry after a long reign has been abol-ished in a great measure and today we have a court for the settlement of in-ternational disputes, and it is no exaggeration to say that it is more than probable that in ten years from now we shall have an international parliament, at least of active, determining laws for the nations. As to joy, all America is not great cities and all not slums. The world has been moving along and always by the Church ing along, not always by the Church and ministry, but by a thousand influices, coming from the All-Father, toward a universal welfare, What I have come here for today is to ask you to take part in this great world movement that has been going twenty centuries to bring about the Kingdom of God on the earth. have not come to ask you to prepare though that would be well, or to put before you the alternative of heaven or hell, although that might be advisable, but to help the movement for getting rid of hell on eath and making a heaven on earth. In order to do it or vocation, or take upon yourself new activities. No, you must begin at nome. The home is the foundation of every social organization, and the beginning is the home, and there is not one of us who cannot do something to make righteousness and peace and happiness in our home; in the home of our neighbor; to teach our children square, honest, upright conduct; to inspire our children with the spirit of peace in place of the spirit of restle-ness and so to minister in our home that it shall be one of sunshine and gladness. Great and noble work is done in founding homes for orphans, but is it any better to go out in the streets and find some children there and make them pure and sweet and happy than to take the children God has given you and make them pure and sweet and happy? You have not to leave your vocation, whatever it is. What does the Kingdom of God mean It means, first of all, square dealing in business. It means the carpenter's making a good joint, the plumber's employer of labor paying fair wages, the working man's doing good work-it means square, upright, honest dealing of a man with his fellow man. This came to establish on earth. To do the right thing is more religious than to talk about it. For a carpenter to make a square joint is more religious than for me to tell him to do it means the carrying of peace and good will into our daily life. It means the using of one's influence to make commerce not a war, but an emulation for service, not a struggle to see how ich we can get, but to see how much we can achieve. It means that kind of spirit of brotherhood that will take

s. Look across the sea and note what men in Russia are doing and suffering in order that they may not get the citiship God has given us. He said: "I give you the keeping of this nation."
You can diffuse all through this nation the spirit of righteousness and of peace and good will. You can make the Kingdom of God come on this con-tinent of America, and this best of citi-zens folds his hands and says: "That zens folds his hands and says: "That is not what interests me." Best man! No. No. I will tell you the hope of our country today. It is that men in different parties are taking more interest in the Kingdom of God (they do not call it so) than they are in the victory of party politics. It is that Democrats like Folk and Jerome, and Republicans like Taft and Rosevelt are working to bring about square influences in party politics and in public life, peace and accord between races and classes and universally diffused welfare throughout the nations. When a man is doing that, whether it be by his vote at the ballot box or the prihis vote at the ballot box or the primary, or in the Legislature, or as

Mary, or in the Legislature, or as Governor or President, he is doing religious work, just what Christ called him to do—working for the coming of the Kingdom of God on the earth. I want to make this plain. I do no I want to make this plain. I do not say men should add to their religion and do these things; the doing of these things is in itself religion. Not that he should come to church to prepare for heaven and also do these things, but he should come to church to prepare for heaven and also do these things. That is what the should these things. That is what the church is for; it is what Jesus came for. The church of God is at least a body of men and women who have come to-gether for the purpose of making this

GERMAN THREAT DOES NOT ALARM AUSTRALIA

MONTREAL, Sept. 19.-The Star's posed Australian perference of ten per cent. upon British goods, is causing the Australian authorities here to investigate the results of Germany's similar threat to Canada. The conclusion they come to is that Germany made herself ridiculous. She almost closed the markets of Canada against her goods and is now reduced to petitioning Canada to renew a commercial arrangement almost on Canada's own terms. Australia is not more dependent upon the markets of Germany than Recent commonwealth returns show that the total of trade of Australia with Britain amounts to $20,000,000 annually, While Australia's total trade with Germany is less than $3,000,000. Germany buys less from Australia by six times than Great Britain; in fact India, Ceylon and New Zealand and France, are all better consumers than Germany.
