Victorian Order Meeting.
The Victorian Order of Nurses met at the home of Mrs. James Dever, Chtman Hill, Monday afternoon for their monthly meeting. Mrs. Geo. F. Smith, who occupied the chair, Mrs. Dever, Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Hon. J. W. Daniel and C. W. Hallamore. The resignation of Miss Dora Cummings was accepted in view of the fact that she has gone to Canada, N. S., where she will continue the work of the order at that place. The nurses, who are very scarce at the present time and who are greatly in demand are very busy in the city and also on the West Side.

During the last month 601 visits have been made by the local nurses.

Women's Institutes.
Point de Bute W. I.—Roll-call was and sixty-one defects, the record answered at April meeting by naming favorite vegetable. Useful suggestions were given by Mrs. Carter on the work and welfare of public schools and by Mrs. Fred Snowdon and Mrs. Albert Colpitts on "The Value of Women's Institutes." It is customary to serve tea at the meetings and to have a musical programme in addition to the regular programme.

Pomeroy Ridge W. I.—Covers a distance of several miles, as many women from Pomeroy Ridge, Scott Ridge and Gleason Road are members of the institute. Better known as the "Patriotic Institute." A public supper held in March increased the treasury funds by $37.45. This branch is accomplishing considerable work for the Red Cross and various relief societies.

boxes of cut work to the summer resorts. Over sixty boxes were sent out, and the results obtained were beyond expectations. About 1450 articles were made.

The pieces left over from the pyjamas were utilized to a very good advantage. They were woven into rugs and bath mats and sold for prices ranging from 75 cents to $3. The results of these sales benefitted the Red Cross work fund considerably as $246.25 was realized on the sale of mats.

The May Court Club took charge for one day of the Red Cross exhibition at the Central Canada Fair last September. At this exhibition a number of the rugs were sold and nearly fifty dollars was received in subscriptions. This committee was organized in 1914 and its work has continued unflinchingly since then. During the winter, there were about $200 a month. H. R. H. the Princess Patricia was one of the most faithful workers. Since May last she had cut, 1,522 articles. The Relief Committee reported many visits made. The members also assist the Patriotic Fund Committee visit the hospitals and the Victoria Order of Nurses and make donations towards furnishing and the upkeep of charitable institutions.

In Honor of Edith Cavell.
Canada will have a memorial to Edith Cavell through the ages. Forever and a day the noble proportions of Mount Edith Cavell will proclaim her virtue to the Canadian West and to travelers on the two transcontinental railways which approach this 11,000-foot turret of the Rockies. The tilted stratification and snow-clad summit of the superb peak reach into the heavens where her fame belongs, says the Toronto Daily News.

There may also be lesser Cavell monuments in the centres of population, so that the average man, woman and boy and girl may not lose the inspiration of her noble example. It seems reasonable, however, that their erection should be left until the militarism which took her life is conquered and the humanity for which she sacrificed herself is triumphant. So long as the war lasts the demands upon the pockets of Canadians for Red Cross, Patriotic and relief funds are for direct military purposes will be insistent. The work of creating material memorials should wait until the return of peace.

For the Lady in the Motor Car.
According to a recent disclosure in the automobile world, the day of the cold lunch on motor trips is past. Ladies will be interested to know that an electric cooker may be attached to the battery of a motor car. It takes up very little room and the hot lunch on motor trips is past. DELICIOUS ORANGES.
Take six orange peels or five and one lemon, cut yellow part closely, add six cups granulated sugar and six cups boiling water, cover and let stand for three hours, before cutting cool add two ounces citric acid, bottle and when using fill one-quarter glass with syrup and rest with water.—Contributed.

Madame O'Gorman, who lectured in the interests of the French Wounded Emergency Fund, paid a high tribute to the automobile work that is being done by women in France. The trains are monopolized for troops and transports and the women drive the supplies from the ports to the front.

FUNERALS.
The funeral of Andrew Harrigan took place yesterday morning at 8.30 o'clock, from his late residence, 575 Main Street, to St. Peter's church, Requiem High Mass was celebrated, there by Rev. Joseph Borzmann, O. S. S. R. Messrs. James McDade, Charles O'Hara, John Day, Thomas Sullivan, Patrick Bain and Wm. O'Brien were the pall-bearers. Later at the old Catholic cemetery. There was a very large attendance at the funeral.

The funeral of Samuel A. Cooke took place at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from his late residence, Cranston Avenue. Interment was made at Fernhill cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. George A. Worden of Ferry Point was held on Wednesday afternoon, May 31, from her late residence to the Baptist church in Kingston, where services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Peters, pastor of that church. The long procession of teams, also the large gathering at the church and grave and the many beautiful floral tributes all gave evidence of the esteem and respect in which Mrs. Worden was held. The sympathy of the entire community, as well as of many friends in St. John and elsewhere is extended to the bereaved family.

OBITUARY.
Geo. R. Boutiller.
George R. Boutiller, of 252 Waterloo Street passed away at an early hour yesterday morning from the result of blood poisoning, caused by a cut from a piece of glass. He was in the thirty-sixth year of his age, and was employed by Murray & Gregory as foreman in the glass department. Besides his wife and one child, he is survived by one brother, William, and one sister, Mrs. John O'Brien, both of Halifax.

Suffered From Nerves. Could Not Sleep.
To the thousands of people who are tossing on sleepless beds night after night, or who pace the floor with nerves unlinged, and to whose eyes sleep will not come, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer the blessing of sound, refreshing slumber.

They restore the equilibrium of the deranged nerve centres, thereby producing peaceful, undisturbed, refreshing sleep, and will cause you get up in the morning feeling that you have the strength and vitality to go through your day's work.

Mrs. Hollis Knox, St. John, N.B., writes: "I suffered greatly with my nerves, I could not sleep at night, nor work, and the last little thing worked on my mind and bothered me. Last winter I thought I would go out of my mind, I would screech out, and my mother really thought I was going crazy with my nerves. It was so terrible I would hold my head and cry. I tried two doctors, but they did not do me any good. I thought I would tell you that to-day I am perfectly cured by using three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I can recommend them to all sufferers from nervous troubles. You can tell everyone that they are the only thing that did me any good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have been an immense help for nearly a quarter of a century, and are universally known as the best remedy for all heart and nerve troubles.

Price 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WHAT MARGUERITE SEES.
HEARS AT THE MOVIES.
"Who are these girls doing this ushering at the Imperial, anyway?" one young man was heard to remark. His companion started to answer, "Why it's that— When a soldier sitting near finished the sentence for him 'Young Women's Patriotic Association, bless them.'"

"That a St. John audience is certainly a cold one. If they are pleased with the vaudeville at the Lyric (and they must be very often) you would never know it. Applause of clever acts is something Marguerite does not often hear."

"That that supper party in 'The Gilded Fool' picture at the Unique looked particularly entertaining and the viands most appetizing. I'm sure they were real 'cats.'"

"That the marriage-broker's derby hat may have been a touch of realism in 'Madam Butterfly,' but it did not fit in with the surroundings."

"That the news of comedy at the Imperial is good news. At the Drows and Frank Daniels."

"And that a fairy story for the children will be at the Unique on Saturday afternoon. I hope grown-ups are not barred out. Who else forgotten Rumpelstiltskin?"

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.
Uncle Dick wishes many happy returns to the following kiddes whose birthday are taking place today: Gardie Alexander, Annapolis, June 7. Lella, 87 Crown St., June 7. Robert M. Powers, 33 Dorchester Street, June 7. Agnes Pearson, 164 Germain St., June 7.

EXTRACTS FROM THE MAIL BAG.
All Kiddies Welcomed.
Chipman, N. B.
Dear Uncle Dick:— As you are welcoming all the kiddies to your Corner, I thought I would like to come in. I am going to try to win the watch. I have solved your puzzle. Wishing you every success. I remain your niece, Edna M. Brown.

Joining the Corner, Narrows N. B.
Dear Uncle Dick:— I would like to join your Corner. I am trying the contest this week. I hope I will be successful. With best wishes.
Your loving niece, Daisy Ferris.

From Peteticodiac, Peteticodiac, N. B.
Dear Uncle Dick:— I saw the Jumble Word Contest in The Standard and thought I would like to try it. I would like to become a member of the Corner. Best wishes to the Corner.
From your new niece, Dorothy Magee.

Got Four New Members, Hampstead, N. B.
Dear Uncle Dick:— I'm just sending the four names. I will write another letter soon and tell you something.
I also am going to send you some violets if you would like to have them. With all good wishes, I remain, Your nephew, Ernest Thomson.

Interesting Letter From Old Member, Milltown, N. B.
Dear Uncle Dick:— I am sending an answer to the Jumble Word Contest, and hope to succeed. I am trying to get members to join the Corner. I have got one to join, Mary Enright, and two more are going to write in a few days. I intended to answer the addition contest but I did not know whether X had to equal the same number all the way through the sum or whether it could equal different numbers. I am sending in a recipe for candy, and also few riddles. Well, I guess I must close for this time, as my letter is getting rather long, with love and best wishes to the Corner and yourself.
From your loving niece, Hilda E. Chown.

Peg O' The Ring.
A rather unique arrangement has been entered into by the enterprising Little Empire Theatre of Carleton and the big Imperial in Carleton. The children will be entertained with a real big circus throughout the summer months. Commencing Saturday, June 16th the New Universal serial story "Peg O' The Ring" in which the popular favorites Grace Dunning and Francis Ford will play leading roles, will be shown at both theatres. This is a circus story and deals with the adventures of a bare-backed rider and the son of the owner of the show.

The picture abounds in wild animals and clowns and all the paraphernalia of a circus being photographed in connection with Ringling Bros. Mammoth Show. Clowns supply the comedy element and there is plenty of romance in the love adventures, while real circus professionals give thrills in acrobatic performances. There will be parades and pictures of wild animals also.

This attraction for children will be shown Friday and Saturday afternoons only until school closes, when it will be changed to Monday and Tuesday.

MME. PETROVA AT THE IMPERIAL TODAY.
Any mood expressed by the great Mme. Petrova is invariably an interesting mood to me. There seems to be no end to her subtle and supreme artistry in delineating temper, humor and disposition in the magic realms of the silent drama.

I first asked myself, then other associates with Mme. Petrova, and finally the marvelous actress herself, the secret of her wonder-working methods. I learned that her success is built upon the fact that she knows her characters. Given a part, she studies for days and nights to learn everything there is to know about them.

"I merely get acquainted with them, the same as you would with a person that has come into your life," she told me.

Then she lives that part until the production is completed. She is, in short, a very brilliant woman, and never happier than when she is analyzing a character she is portraying before the camera.

"That is why I say I enjoyed my recent observations of Mme. Petrova while she was at work. But in the main, Mme. Petrova is averse to portraying vampire types."

"My ambition now is to appear in a production, not at an early date, of a really good woman, with noble and inspiring ideals. I want her to be strong enough to force the man of her choice to give a good account of himself before she accepts him in love. And if I am not provided with just such a story I am going to write it myself."

Mme. Petrova, it must be remembered, made her mark in the literary world before she turned her attention to the drama. She still contributes to some of the leading magazines in this country, England and Russia, and her criticisms of the drama and classical works are received with high favor in literary circles. She never appears in a production for the screen that she does not make invaluable suggestions by the score.

LETTERS RECEIVED.
TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE
A little hand in the rear of the room was raised, and the superintendent requested the child to tell how he thought Noah would pass the time. The boy stood first on one foot and then on the other, and at last said, "Fishin'!" Just then another small boy snaped his fingers. "Noah wouldn't fish, very Jones," said the boy. "Why not?" asked the puzzled questioner. "He couldn't, because there were only two worms on the ark."

modern improvement. Little is generally known of the place, and she spent an interesting half hour there, watching the horses being brought in on gigantic ambulances, and seeing them carried up and down in large elevators and arranged in position for operation in swings suspended from the ceiling.

"The result of that morning's inspection is that the scene destroyed by the director were later made there, and they form an interesting novelty for the screen."

A Birthday Present.
P. Thad. Volkman, assistant director at the Columbia-Metro studio, presented his wife, Mae De Metz, the clever ingenue, with a Victoria for her birthday. As he was out of the city working on "The Half Million Brbe," on her anniversary, he had a special record made of greetings and felicitations, which he arranged to have delivered to his wife on the festive day. Thad. wanted to call it "His Master's Voice," but thought better of it.
