

SAVS MANY ARE COING FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA TO FARM IN NEW BRUNSWICK

A. S. F. Marshall, After Looking Into Conditions in This Province, Decides to Settle Here Where Chances Are Much Better Than in the West—Old Country People Who Know of New Brunswick, He Explains, Prefer to Come Here.

With the coming of spring the first immigrants from western Canada to New Brunswick this season are arriving. From time to time The Telegraph has recorded particulars of correspondence between the local immigration superintendent and others...

MARITIME PROVINCES ARE RAPIDLY FORGING AHEAD

Maritime Merchant Refers to Hopeful Growth and Development—Its Spring Number—Real Estate News.

The spring number of the Maritime Merchant which has just come to hand is a book of 200 pages and is the most attractive spring number that has ever been issued by this enterprising trade journal...

The Merchant says: "Things have really developed faster than our most sanguine expectations, and if any one ever thought we were a backwash in our utterances, he must now change his opinion."

The transfer of the Corkery farm has been completed and the property is now in the name of Beverly R. Armstrong. Other transfers of freehold properties recorded within the last few days are as follows:

OBITUARY

Dr. John Brittain. Tuesday, Mar. 18. Dr. John Brittain died at St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

It was in this province that Dr. Brittain spent the best part of his life and here he had hundreds of warm personal friends mourning his death.

Dr. Brittain was an educationist of high standing, and he was an author of several articles and books on nature lessons. He was the eldest son of Thomas B. and Elizabeth Carson Brittain, who was born near Sussex on Nov. 22, 1849.

For ten years Dr. Brittain was principal of the Superior school at Pettitodice and for fourteen years he was instructor in natural science at the Provincial Normal School. From 1890 to 1909 he was professor of chemistry at the University of New Brunswick.

Dr. Brittain was a modest and retiring disposition, and the public did not always appreciate his real worth. He married in 1871, Miss Charlotte T. Bonney.

Mrs. John McDade. Tuesday, Mar. 18. After an illness of about a year and a half, Mrs. John McDade, widow of John McDade, died yesterday at her home, 5 St. Patrick street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh to Edward W. L. and Michael Walsh, property in Brussels street. Michael Walsh to W. L. Walsh, property in Brussels street.

Many St. John friends of Theodore H. Bird, who died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage, will be glad to hear that the amateur theatrical performances will be sorry to learn of his father's death.

Miss Margaret Elliott. Tuesday, Mar. 18. The death of Miss Margaret Elliott occurred yesterday morning after a month's illness. Miss Elliott was the youngest daughter of the late James and Elizabeth Elliott.

Miss Elizabeth Bourke. Wednesday, Mar. 19. The death of an elderly resident of Carleton Place, Miss Elizabeth Bourke, occurred late Monday at the home of H. G. Smith.

W. R. Angus. Monday, March 18.—(Special)—A telegram from Vancouver (B. C.) today announces the death of W. R. Angus, a former well known clothing merchant of Moncton.

Mrs. Johanna Hensberry. Death came suddenly to Johanna, widow of Francis Hensberry, early last evening. She had been in good health up till the morning when she was suddenly stricken with paralysis and died almost immediately.

When the butter won't come put a little honey in the cream—a teaspoonful to a gallon of cream. It works wonders.
