DEATH OF LIEUT. COLONEL TUCKER

Lieut. Col. Joseph John Tucker, one of St. John's most distinguished citizens, passed away at an early hour this morning. He has been ill for about a year, following an accident in which he was thrown from his carriage.

Lt.-Col. Tucker was born at Chatham (Bag), in 1832, came to Canada first as a child of seven when his father removed to Kingston (Ont.), to follow his profession of naval architect. In the years which he spent at Kingston the older Tucker designed many handsome vessels for the lakes, principally of the Lord Sydenham type. Returning to England Col. Tucker's father was stationed at the Woolwich naval arsenal for four years, then came to St. John as Lloyd's agent. The youth Tucker remained at school, however, and at the age of fifteen took a post as midshipman on a P. & O. packet running to the east. At the time of the Crimean war he was promoted to a command of a transport which ran to the Black Sea and remained there until the evacuation of Sebastopol. Following the Crimean war the young officer came to St. John and divided with his father the duties of Lloyd's agent in the maritime provinces, first taking over the Nova Scotia end of the business. He became very well known to the shipping trade and later was called back to the home office at London where he remained for two years.

Following this he saw three years service at Greenwich at a time when the steel shipbuilding trade was first coming to the front. Then followed a most interesting part of his career, being sent to China as the agent of the firm and remaining there altogether about twenty years. Then he came back to St. John and entered actively into the commercial and military life of the city. He was gazetted a major in the 62nd regiment in 1883, promoted to lieutenant-colonel in 1893 and on his retirement in August, 1897, was made an honorary lieutenant-colonel. He was also vice-president of the Canadian Military Rifle League and of the New Brunswick Rifle Association.

A liberal of the old school, of the very soul of integrity and honor, it is not surprising that he should have been asked to represent the city in the dominion parliament and he was elected with the late Senator Ellis in 1896 and re-elected as the running mate of the late Hon. A. G. Blair in 1900, retiring in 1904.

He later did good work as a member of the royal commission to investigate the dog fish industry and of later years had lived quietly although his good words were known to many. Not a public speaker of prominence Lt.-Col. Tucker nevertheless commanded immediate attention on the public platform through his wide knowledge and command of facts and in private conversation he was, as the Montreal Standard once said, "a fascinating raconteur."

He was an Anglican in religion, a member of the Union Club and a former president of The Telegraph Publishing Company, and a director of the St. John Railway Company.

Mrs. H. A. Wallace of Brown's Riads has received a letter from her son, Charles Wallace, who went to England with the first contingent. He is feeling well and more than enjoyed his trip across the Atlantic, and just when they would be called to sea, when they were in the Atlantic, he was informed that his father was formerly employed with Percy J. Steak of Main street.

The postmaster desires that those forwarding letters or parcels addressed to the Canadian and British expeditionary forces or to members of the French and Belgian armies, should have the letters and parcels properly prepaid, else they will have to be listed and sent to the dead letter office. International postal service requires this action to be taken.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Miss Macdonald, with Misses Long and West provided the entertainment and the Grange Hall was given for the concert. A large quantity of clothing and canned goods to the Belgian fund.

Fairville was greatly shocked yesterday morning as the crowds were on the streets chattering about the death of a sudden death of one of the oldest and most respected citizens, Frederick Wolfe, who passed away while on his way to his office, after a long illness which had lasted for several months.

Mr. Wolfe had reached the Methodist church when he was seen to stagger and fall. Three minutes were carried into the vestry of the Methodist church and expired in four minutes before medical assistance was available. The services were held at the home of Mrs. Wolfe, who had been in the hospital for two years ago. He leaves his wife, one son and one daughter.

Lieut. Col. John L. Marsh. Fredericton, Nov. 20.—Lieut.-Colonel John L. Marsh died at his home, in this city, of pneumonia, at the age of 80. He was one of the most widely known men in the province, having been police magistrate at Fredericton for forty years, and had always taken prominent position in the life of the city. He was 80 years of age.

He was admitted to the bar in 1860 and had been a member of the bar since that time. His educational career had been most brilliant and he was the oldest living graduate of the University of New Brunswick. In other spheres, too, he was most active, and was a second officer commanding the 74th Regiment, after its formation, and always took a keen interest in the work of the militia even up to the last few weeks before his illness.

Prior to his appointment as police magistrate, he was for many years a clerk of Fredericton, though there are comparatively few in the capital who can now remember his holding that office. He only retired from the magistracy in May last. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. Ernest Powers, of Cambridge, N. B., and Mrs. M. Marsh, at home, Col. H. H. McLean, of St. John, is a nephew, and Mrs. McIntosh, of St. John, is a niece.

Ferguson Andrew. Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 22.—(Special)—Campbellton was shocked this morning to receive the news of the sudden death of Ferguson Andrew in Montreal. A few weeks ago, Mr. Andrew was attacked with severe stomach trouble and on the advice of his physician he went to Montreal, where he was operated on for appendicitis in the Royal Victoria Hospital.

The operation showed an advanced state of the disease. It was, however, successful and the patient was in a fair way toward recovery. So promising was his condition that his brother, Mayor A. Andrew, returned to Campbellton the last of the week, expecting his brother to follow him on Monday of this week. Sunday morning he was suddenly attacked and carried off with cholera.

Mrs. Andrew was with her husband at the time. Mr. Andrew has been one of Campbellton's most highly respected citizens and leaves besides a wife and five children, one brother, A. A. Andrew, mayor of Campbellton, and four sisters, Mrs. J. E. Miller, Mrs. Edward LeGalls and the Misses Jane and Ethel Andrew, all of Campbellton.

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm while the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, soothe the bowels and stomach, free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds or if cold does come on, will quickly remove it. The tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 35 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Dugal Calls on Flemming to Resign

L. A. Dugal, leader of the opposition in the legislature, the man who brought the charges against the premier, when informed of the findings, over the long distance telephone at his home in Edmundston, expressed his gratification that the charges had been sustained.

"If the charges had not been correct," he said, "I would have felt that there was nothing for me to do but to accept the decision and retire from public life. Since they have been upheld I feel that the least Mr. Flemming can do is to adopt the same course, to present his resignation at once, and retire to private life. If he does not do so willingly I am confident that the sentiments of the people of New Brunswick will soon force him to do so."

MR. CARVELL SPEAKS OF FLEMING'S LETTER

Speaking of the findings of the royal commission and, particularly with reference to the cooperation of Mr. Flemming with regard to the specific charge that he had personally directed the extortion of money by Mr. Berry, F. B. Carvell, M. P., chief counsel for Mr. Dugal, said this morning:

"I feel that the commission has done the proper thing. In the absence of Berry's evidence, and without giving credence to the evidence of Mr. Flemming, there is no direct evidence that the latter specifically directed Berry to get the money."

"But for all that no sane man would believe that Premier Flemming was not at the bottom of the whole transaction."

"The letter in which Mr. Flemming says that the findings are cruelly unjust is simply characteristic of what any man who found himself in such a situation would say. Twenty five years legal experience would lead me to expect just such a protest."

"I am glad to see that he has reported to the extent that he is willing to make restitution of the money. He is not the first man in his position who has announced such an intention in the hope of securing mitigation of the sentence."

"Mr. Flemming's letter is childish in the extreme, although much of it is what might be expected, but I certainly did not expect of him anything quite so childish and so foolish as his challenge to single combat in the political arena."

"I hope that the investigation and the findings of the commission will have the effect of clearing the political atmosphere of New Brunswick and that it will mark the dawn of a brighter day in provincial politics."
