

15, 1832, he was ed. at Barrie, Ont., and studied for his profession under F. W. Cumberland and W. G. Storm, Toronto. He was first employed on the Ont., Simcoe and Huron Ry., and afterwards, 1855-57, explored the country extending from Lake Simcoe to Lake Huron and north of lakes Huron and Superior. Proceeding to B. C., 1858, he was in the year following apptd. by Col. R. C. Moody, commdg. R. E., to the office of Supdt. of Public Works and deputed to found the capital of the colony—Queensborough, now New Westminster. He subsequently left the service of the Imp. Govt., and in 1862-63 was engaged in the construction of the Yale-Cariboo waggon road. In 1864 he was elected to the Leg. Council for Cariboo West, and, in the following year, was apptd. Asst. Surveyor-Genl., and instructed to make explorations in the south and south-east portions of the colony, during the progress of which he discovered the Eagle Pass in the Gold Range of mts., which discovery in after yrs. ensured the route for the great Can. highway. He resigned his appt., 1866, and during the 4 yrs. subsequently was busy with explorations and ry. work in the western States. The Dom. Govt. in 1871 having decided on the construction of a trans-continental ry., sent for Mr. M. as being best fitted to give information on that portion of the country stretching west from the Rocky Mts., and he was apptd. engr. to take charge of the surveys from the west end of Eagle Pass, easterly through the Gold, Selkirk and Rocky ranges of mts., to a point in the neighbourhood of Mt. Murchison, at which work he was signally successful. After leaving the Can. Govt.'s service he went to Man., and was one of the promoters and afterwards Chief Engr. of the Manitoba South-Western Ry. He built the first system of sewers in the city of Winnipeg, and constructed the tramway at Grand Rapid, on the Saskatchewan River, for the Hudson's Bay Co. Mr. M. is the author of a small work entitled "The Rocks and Rivers of British Columbia," and has now prepared for publication another work, "The Narrative of how the Earliest Explorations were made to Discover and Ensure the true North-west Passage for the British Empire." In his younger days he was an ensign in the York cavalry. He is a mem. of the Ch. of Eng., and politically, a Con.—Winnipeg.
