

UPCUMIN[®]

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18

LBR DISCO: 8:30 p.m.
 MEN'S BASKETBALL: Western Ontario tip-off tournament, 7 p.m.
 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL: Dalhousie at UNB, 8 p.m.
 MEN'S BASKETBALL: Machias at STU, 8 p.m.
 BUSINESS SOCIETY PUB: SUB Ballroom, 9 p.m.
 HOCKEY: UNB at Moncton, 9 p.m.
 PUBLIC SKATING: Aitken Centre, 10-11 p.m.
 INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP MEETING: Tilley, Rm. 102, 7:30 p.m. Topic: Wycliffe Bible Translators present "If Your God is So Great."
 ART CENTRE EXHIBITIONS: tapestries by Sylvia Heyden ends Nov. 23. "From Muddy Shore to Cooking Pot", continues until Dec. 4.
 SEMINAR: J.A. Coxon, Killam Research Prof. of Chemistry at Dal. University. "Electronic Spectra of Some Haolgen - Containing Diatomic Molecules," 3 p.m. Room 204 of Integrated University Complex (across from Old Arts Bldg.)

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19

FOOTBALL: College Bowl.
 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL: Dalhousie at UNB, 1 p.m.
 HOCKEY: UNB at Mt. A. 2 p.m.
 BASKETBALL: U de M Tourney (Mt. Allison), 3 p.m. Also Nov. 20 at 12 noon & 4 p.m.
 HOCKEY: STU at BH, 7 p.m.
 UNB PARACHUTE CLUB SOCIAL: SUB, rm. 6, 7 p.m.
 CHSR SOCIAL: SUB, rm. 26, 9 p.m.
 BUSINESS SOCIETY BUSINESS WEEK FORMAL: SUB, rm. 201, 9 p.m.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20

HOCKEY: STU at Fredericton, 1 p.m.
 HOCKEY: Cheviots vs Newcastle, AUC, 2:30 p.m.
 BALLROOM DANCING: SUB, Ballroom, 8 p.m.
 CAMPUS FILMS PRESENTS: "Walking Tall" Parts 1 & 2 7 p.m. See classified for details.
 CARRIBEAN CIRCLE: hold general meeting at 2:30 p.m. in SUB Rm 103. All members and students from Central and South America, and the Carribean are urged to return (watch for pub.)

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21

UNB SRC MEETING: dining room McLeod Hall, 7 p.m.
 CHSR MEETING: SUB, rm. 6, 7 p.m.
 HISTORY CLUB LECTURE: Prof. Judith Fingard of Dalhousie University will speak on Pre-Confederation - Atlantic Province history; Carleton Hall, Rm. 139, 8 p.m.
 HOCKEY: Red Wings vs Cap-Pele; AUC, 8 p.m.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 22

WORD: Prayer meeting, Bible Study, rm 116 (TV room) SUB.
 CAMERA CLUB MEETING: 7:30 p.m. SUB, rm 203. A NAPA slide set will be shown. Everyone welcome.
 CHESS CLUB MEETING: 7:00 in SUB rm 26. All chess players welcome.
 CAMPUS FILMS PRESENTS: "Little Big Man" starring Dustin Hoffman 7 & 9 p.m.
 FOLK COLLECTIVE GENERAL MEETING: 10 p.m. 358 Church St.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23

ON WEDNESDAY* NOVEMBER 30 THE BRUNSWICK STRING QUARTET: Memorial Hall Auditorium, UNB, 8:15 p.m. Music by Arriga, Britten and Schumann. Tickets at door. FREE to UNB & STU students.

UNB DRAM SOCIETY: "Oh What a Lovely War". Nov. 23-27. Memorial Hall. Students $1. Adults $3.
 POLITICAL SCIENCE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION: party at Faculty club. All political science students welcome. 7 p.m.
 LE CLUB FRANCAIS PRESENTE un film "La Sanction (The Eiger Sanction) avec Clint Eastwood. 8 h. 30 a l'Auditorium de Katherine MacLaggan Hall. Etudiants $1.00 Autres $1.50. Tous sont bienvenus.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24

HOPE: Prayer Meeting, Bible Study, Discussion, rm 116 (TV room) SUB.

Clark & Broadbent barking up wrong tree

Dear Mr. Bartlett:

I appreciate your comments concerning the postcards that were distributed around campus last week. I'd like to give a few replies to your concerns.

Why did I distribute them? My job as External Vice-President is to give you full opportunity to have your say about student affairs such as student aid and unemployment - if you want to. The cards were in my office when I was elected and after I looked them over and didn't find anything objectionable about them, I decided to give them out rather than throw them in the garbage. What you do with them is your decision. As far as I'm concerned, they read just like a typical letter you would write to your Member of Parliament.

I assure you that there was absolutely no intention of representing any political party or organization, other than one body of concerned citizens - students.

I am from Northern New Brunswick and I can reassure you that I realize the severity of our country's economic problems.

Your comments on job creation should be interesting to anyone who sympathizes with the opposition parties. I think someone had better inform Joe Clark and Ed Broadbent that they're barking up the wrong tree, as they're always calling for massive job creation programs!

Job creation may not be a long-term cure for our economic woes, but it does provide short-term solutions for special sectors of our society (such as students, or the people of Cape Breton). The Economic Council of Canada, C.D. Howe Research Institute and Wall Street Journal say that direct job creation would not cause serious new inflation. It's imperative that our government recognize the special needs of students. Look at the bind we're in. One out of every ten students couldn't find jobs this past summer, meaning they will either have to go in debt under our inflexible student aid programme (if they qualify), go to their parents for help, or forget about going on to higher education. I'm sure you realize the serious implications of these things. Your points on university funding are well taken.

However, the cards had nothing in them about that.

In response, though, I will remind you that here at UNB and at other Maritime campuses as well, a lot of work is being done to inform and keep informed about the Maritime Provincial Higher Education Commission (MPHEC). This is the most influential group advising our Premiers on how those education funds should be spent.

As you say, lobbying is a very powerful tool. But it should go on at all levels of government.

I hope this will satisfy to a large extent, your concerns.

Sincerely,
 Susan Shalala,
 Vice President External

Engineers have class!

Dear Disgruntled Female:

In reading the November 11th issue of The Brunsw I observed your article titled "No class, Engineers?" May I say that whoever selected this year's Lady Godiva is to be commended on his excellent taste.

As for the event being a slap in the face to you and the Women's Liberation Movement, that's a bucket of B.S. The outstanding performance of Miss Godiva was certainly no more than a mild pinch on the cheek, if anything. You grandmother must have given you one of them before.

You said in your letter how much of an insult it was to "see someone being exploited like that, and how ashamed you feel of your own body when you see people gawking and hear them laughing and shouting" and having a good time. This problem of yours could easily have been avoided with your absence from the event. What were you doing there in the first place? (wonder . . .)

"What is the big thrill about seeing some monster-masked wonder boob riding around in the back of a truck?" I will answer your question with one word. NONE! Who said it was a thrill? We engineers are familiar with the architectural design of the human body, whether it be male

Continued on pg 22

CUSO volunteers not starry-eyed

Dear Editor:

The writer who saw fit to contribute the piece "Crossroads - not liberal B.S." which appeared in The Brunswickan September 30, took liberties in making derogatory remarks about CUSO without, perhaps, checking his facts.

CUSO volunteers today are not the "starry-eyed idealistic volunteers of the 1960s". Those early volunteers may have been misguided but their intentions were good and on their return, they had input in changing the organization's outlook and focus.

CUSO is well aware of its past mistakes and the possible adverse effects of sending people overseas, but we still believe the practice is valid in countries where lack of skilled manpower is a constraint to development.

Volunteers are picked carefully:

they go through a rigorous selection process and orientation program. Originally recruitment was aimed at young, university graduates. Today, overseas governments and agencies often ask for people skilled in trades and technology. Many volunteers are older people, some even in their 60s, who can bring a wealth of training and experience to their posting.

CUSO's thrust has changed in other ways too. Emphasis is placed on making Third World countries self-reliant, and support in cash or kind is often given to particular community projects.

In addition, CUSO undertakes educational work at home to make Canadians aware of the situation in developing countries and how our extravagant lifestyle and reliance on cheap products from transnationals can adversely

Continued on pg 22