

FIG.	PAGE
18. Showing the Testicle being drawn through the Septum to its bed. The Internal Oblique has fallen into position and covered in the Inguinal Canal	81
19. The Incision in the Sheath of the Spermatic Cord	93
20. The Varicocele has been separated from the Vas and is ligatured above and below	94
21. The Edges of the Incision in the Sheath are retracted. The Stump of the Varicocele is seen in the Lower Angle of the Wound	95
22. The Incision in the Sheath has been sewn up transversely. The Redundant Angles have been cut away	96