makes you noble; it causes the nerves to tingle with the joyous exhilaration of youth; it fills the heart with a feeling of gladness, makes everything look bright, and makes the nerves like bars of steel. It has cured Nervous Debility, Weakness of every kind, whether in nerves, stomach, heart, liver or kidneys, Rheumatism, Pains in Back and Shoulders, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Neuralgia, Constipation, Dyspepsia and all troubles where new life can restore health. It does all this while you sleep by pouring electricity, which is Nature's energy, into your nerves and blood. Electricity is life to the vital parts; when they are weak it will make them strong will make them strong.

Dr. McLaughlin:
Dear Sir,—I hope you will excuse me for not letting you know before that your Belt did all that you said it would do, as I am now completely cured of Rheumati-m. It was well worth the price I paid for it, and I will always recommend it to anybody in ill health. Thanking you for your kindness, I am, dear sir, yours very truly, J. DAHL.

These strong words from grateful men and women are just fresh from the pen. They should inspire the readers of this paper with fresh hope that there is a cure for them in my remedy.

PAY WHEN CURED.

To those who are tired of paying without results, and to those who doubt if anything will help them, I make this grand offer. If you will secure me my pay when you are cured, I will let you have my Belt without paying me one cent in advance.

Wheat and Meat Production in a Competteor's Country.

In the competition between nations for a share of the world's trade in wheat and meat, Canada has to vie among other countries, with the Argentine Republic. That nation is making enormous strides in production, and so great are her shipments of wheat that they have a direct bearing upon the prices of our staple product here. The Argentine has little to teach Canada in the matter of production. Her increasing greatness is due mostly to her natural advantages. Of the Argentine, and its agricultural resources and methods, Mr. J. A. Kinsella. a Canadian, in the employ of the New Zealand Government as Dairy Commissioner, writes, in his report of agri-culture in other lands, quite interestinglv. and, because information of a competitor is always interesting, we take from Mr. Kinsell'a report the following excerpts:

AGRICULTURE, STOCK, AND GENERAL.

"When one travels over a portion of the Argentine, a country only one-third the size of the United States, he sees its immense plains formed by Nature, with a climate, perhaps, the most comfortable and salubrious in the world, taking it the year round. It is a country also where railways find no natural obstacles in the way of their construction. You find on the Pacific Railway plains the great estancias (ranches) covered with fat steers and sheep. The latter, I may say, are to be seen in millions. Amongst the cattle, I can safely say, thousands are of the best breeds. You also see the great fields of linseed, corn and wheat, the principal agricultural products of the country.

"The size of an estancia, or what we should call a "run" in New Zealand, or a "ranch" in America, varies from 3,000 to 600,000 acres. About 20,000 acres might be said to be an average estancia. In conducting the business of cattle herding or ranching in the Argentine, that is, where cattle are raised and fattened for export, it requires expert men. These men in the Argentine are called Gauchos. They are, so far as riding and the care of cattle are concerned, similar to our cowboys in the Northwest Territories of Canada, where they can lasso, or tie up, a wild steer or horse, in lightning-style, without getting out of the saddle. The horses, generally speaking, are small-sized, but wiry and of marvellous endurance. The cattle roam over the great plains, and many of the estancias are not fenced. It is, therefore, necessary to brand the cattle. They have an exhaustive set of branding regulations, which time and space would not permit of my detailing in this report. "In my opinion, the public is favored with a combination of advantages over many other, or, perhaps, over almost any country in the world. I am still further of the opinion, that if the Argentine agricultural and pastoral industries were developed on anything like up-to-date lines, within very few years they would be able to land their products on the markets of the world almost beyond competition. People may ask, Why? I say, then, that the above statements may be backed up by the following: First of all, perhaps, the success and future progress of the Argentine, so far as agriculture is concerned, may be credited to her geographical position or situation, and also to her favorable climatic conditions. Then, there is the low price of land, and the fact of her being able to make use of labor on the land all the year round. Next is the growing of alfalfa, of which four to six crops are often cut, the latter in the best districts. The Argentine has also the advantage of having cheaper labor than such great producing countries as Canada, United States, Australia and New Zealand. It has, further, the advantage of breeding and the carrying of cattle for dairying purposes, and also of fattening its live stock the year round with little or no extra feed. It has also the advantage of having lower ocean rates to the principal markets of the world than Australia and New Zealand, and only about 25 per cent. higher than North
