

present their Address to His Excellency the Administrator in Chief, and that His Excellency had been pleased to return the following Answer:—

Gentlemen of the Legislative Council,

In offering you my warmest thanks for this address, I cannot but add the assurance that I derive from it a confirmation of that confidence, which I before entertained, in your loyalty and public zeal.

Acting under the impulse of such sentiments as you have now expressed to me, your conduct cannot fail to be honorable to yourselves and useful to your country.

Your expressions towards myself, deserve my particular acknowledgments; and the best return I can make for them, is to repeat to you my readiness to second your endeavors for the public advantage.

ORDERED, That the said Address and Answer thereto be printed and published.
