The St. John Business College and shorthand institute is one of the most successful institutions of the Maritime Provinces. It has educated young men and young women for different successful positions in business life and the standard is being maintained. Students may enter at any time and a full course to qualify for business is about three months. The advertisement of this college is now found in our columns and should be consulted by parents who have sons to educate.

KICKERS COLUMN

Under this heading we will give place to complaints by Kickers, if written in courteous language and expressed as briefly as possible. We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions passed.

Kicker Number one

Thanks for the kickers column, just the thing we have been wanting. Now let us kick. Will any one tell us by what right the barbers of this town, throw their doors open to the public, to do business, on Sunday morning? Have they any more right to do business on that day than any other mechanic? Certainly they have not, and the proper authorities should put a stop to it at once. No 1.

Through an oversight on our part we have made but very little mention of the affairs existing at Berwick and vicinity in regard to the enforcement of the Scott Act. The matter will have our attention at some length in an early issue. We understand the local government has ordered a detective to look into the matter and as on previous occasions when a detective was sent after Sabeans and also the Elderkins it was announced beforehand so that the fugitives could have notice. We claim that the municipality should look into the matter and see that their own officers are indemnified in their praiseworthy efforts to enforce our laws.
