Mr. Shepley: "Tell me if this indicates that the Premier or members of the party had interested themselves in a Governmental way on behalf of the order?"

Mr. Shepley read an article published in The Monetary Times saying that the royal commission appointed to investigate the bribery charge against Dr. Montague had concluded its inquiries, and the finding was all the more important because of its mildness. It looked as if the royal commission was appointed.

"Yes, but he didn't have a title of evidence to show that the L O. F. was in any way connected with that." Mr. Shepley asked that the copies of all amdavits that were sent from here to Australia on Dr. Montague's behalf, and other correspondence be produced, and the witness acquiesced. Contract Under Scrutiny.

Contract Under Scrutiny.

The contract between Dr. Montague and the I. O. F. was dissected.

"It would not have been a far cry to show that Dr. Montague was acting for the order in Australia?"

"There is no denying that he represented us there. Nobody disputes that, but we do deny that he acted for the erder in regard to the paying of that 250. If he stole sheep in Australia, surely you would not hold the I. O. F. responsible for that, and no more so for the paying of the £50."

Going back to the published criticism from Australia, Mr. Shepley went on to say:

"It states that the order's business was almost paralyzed, if not destroyed, by this affair. Is that true?"
"It certainly had a bad effect."
"Problably it would not be a very wild prophecy to say that the order in Australia will never recover," said the counsel.

"Yes, that would be wild."

Policy of Retrenchment.

Mr. Shepley read a statement of disbursements for mortuary claims in Australia from 1900 to 1905. The total was $28,474.

"Would these figures, taken by themselves, bear out your views on special medical selection?"

"I think so. They are not disastrous."

"The total is $441,000 odd. It took," remarked Mr. Shepley, "about $470,000 to get $140,000."

The witness pointed.

The witness pointed out that a re-drenchment is now being made.

Mr. Shepley read from the minutes to show that expenditure was curtailed in foreign fields on recommendation of Dr. Oronhyatekha, heartily endorsed by the executive. He had thought the work would be dr pped in France, but otherwise had not agreed with the others.

Australian Commission Put the Biame on Montague.

Was Organizer For the Order — Dr. Oronhyatekha Says Scandal Injured the Foresters and Retarded Business — Insurance Commission Goes Into the Cost of the Foreign Business of the Order.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—The visit to Australia in the interests of the I. O. F. made by Hon. Dr. Montague and the incident of his "contribution" of $250 to a political party there were reviewed before the Royal Insurance Commission yesterday. It also developed that as a result of Supt. Fitzgerald's constant objections as to the way funds of the order were borrowed, changes by which expenditure was decreased were made. The first item taken up when the examination resumed in the morning was the receipts in foreign countries. For five years in France and Belgium the sand funeral benefit $182 and general receipts that the receipts netted $121,442. In 1903 they began to fall off and when asked the reason Dr. Oronhyatekha told the commission that the check on the work in Australia was due chiefly to the Montague incident.

Work would be dr-pped in France, but otherwise had not agreed with the others.

Upon the resuming of the examination at the afternoon session Mr. Shepley put in the drafts of the reports of the Australian high commissioner in reference to the Montague "Frioery" case, as exhibits.

The encroachment into the mortuary fund by the general expenses was examined closely. Since 1893 there has been a deficit in the general fund, and each year sear a fund, and each year were $164,000 Mr. Shepley from the visue book of 1904. The total receipts for that year were $164,000 Mr. Shepley from the visue book of 1904. The total receipts for that year were $164,000 Mr. Shepley from the provise of expenses over receipts $58,684. The deficit in 1903 was taken left a net balance on hand of the superintendent.

Witness said, at this point, that this year they would be no deficit and next year the deficits up to date would commence to be wiped out.

Tariff Committee Reports.

The report of the tariff committee presented by W. K. McNaught, chairman, claimed that present prosperity was not due to the tariff, but to the general world-wide prosperity, and to the fact that a normal activity in the United States did away with the necessity of its exploiting foreign markets at sisualiter prices. A tariff, to be effective, must be up-to-date.

The time te give Canada a tariff to aid in its development was during its prosperity. At present some Canadian companies were struggling against foreign competition.

The committee viewed with regret the great increase in the importation of dutiable goods during the past year, and the continuance of the excess of imports over exports, which this year amounted to $35,000,000.

SOFT CRABS.

After Shedding the New Shells Harden With Great Hapidity.

The supply of soft crabs for market is obtained by eatching hard crabs and keeping them until they shed their shells. For this purpose large rectangular floats, made of laths and planking, are employed, and three or four times every day the stock on hand is carefully inspected, all the soft crabs being picked out and packed without delay. They are put into shallow boxes of moist seaweed, from ten to thirty-flye dozen in a box, according to the size of the animals. When the packing is done carefully the occupants may be kept alive from sixty to seventy hours after leaving the water. Crabs have been shipped all the way from the Chesapeake to Canada, arriving at their destination in good condition. In summer, of course, ice is used. tion. In summer, of course, ice is used.
But where soft crabs are concerned But where soft crabs are concerned it is necessary that they shall reach the market quickly, because their new shells harden with great rapidity. At the end of twelve hours the shells are like parchment, and in three or four days the crab is as hard as ever—hence unfit for use in the form most highly approved by epicures.

Humor and Philosophy By DUNCAN M. SMITH

IF THE FATES WERE KIND.

Did you ever idly wonder.
Though you knew it quite absurd,
If an uncle in Australia,
One of whom you'd never heard,
But who would, if he existed,
Be in every way a trump,
Wouldn't die some day and leave you
Half a million in a lump?

Though your mother had no brother
And your father was as shy
On that sort of a relation,
Is that any reason why
In that far and distant country
Some one should not pass away
Who was every inch an uncle,
With the records clear as day?

Did you ever spend the money
That was coming on a boat,
With your uncle's last fond wishes
In a brief and business note?
Did you build with it a castle
On the borders of the Rhine,
Or endow a modern playhouse,
Or invest it in a mine?

Tes; I guess some hunch has led you Out of nothing to believe That you had a wealthy uncle Somewhere—maybe up your sleeve. But the trouble with that uncle If he lives—as live he may Is that he's so very healthy He will never pass away.

In these days when there is so much talk about the meat supply that is disconcerting to the stomachs of particular people we turn with confidence to the American hen, knowing that the corrupting influence of commerce has never touched her and that we may partake of the soft yellow egg without the least fear that adulterants of any kind have been squirted into it.

To be sure, in some boarding houses they may lay it around in a hot place until it is overripe and not what might be called an ideal food, but that is not the fault of the hen who originally
