THE STAGE

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE AND ALL THE MEN AND WOMEN MERELY ACTORS.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At The Grand—
Pollard Australian Juvenile Opera Co.—Oct. 7.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

On next Saturday night Chatham theatre-goers will be treated to a genuine novelty in the shape of Pollard's Australian Juvenile Opera Company, who will appear at the Grand Opera House for a series of five performances, including a matinee on Wednesday afternoon. The Toronto World says: "The Pollard children produced 'A Runaway Girl' at the Grand last evening in admirable style and kept the large audience amused and pleased throughout the entire evening. Little Daphne Pollard as 'Carmela' showed talent that would be envied by older people in the profession, while Eva Moore, as 'The Runaway Girl,' was all that could be desired. In fact the little people present their parts in such a manner that the auditor forgets that he is witnessing a performance by children. Freddie Heintz as Signor Poloni, simply caught the audience by storm. The two little chaps are only seven years of age and their facial expressions are inimitable. They are real born comedians and proved one of the greatest attractions of the production. Toddie McNamara as 'Flipper' gave an interpretation of the part that could not be excelled. There is a bright future for this lad on the stage, and his work indicates that he is thoroughly in touch with whatever role he presents. The chorus is cute and attractive, and renders the numbers in a competent manner. 'A Runaway Girl' will be repeated to-night and Saturday matinee with 'Pinafore' as the Saturday night bill.—Sept. 29, 1905.

Daphne Pollard, aged 10, with the Pollard Juvenile Opera Co., in Pinafore on October 11th, in Wednesday Matinee.

They Commenced.
An Irishman on being made foreman of a gang of laborers wished to show his authority to those under him on the first morning of his promotion. "Now, look here, boys," said he, "when I say 'Commence' you have all to commence, and them that don't commence when I say commence won't commence. So commence."—London Standard.

COWS' MILK BRINGS ENORMOUS INCOME TO THE AMERICAN FARMER.

ITS FOOD QUALITIES.

The average income from each cow throughout the United States is about $7.00 per year. In some states, notably Pennsylvania, they bring their owners an income on an average of $38.00 each a year. There are over seventeen million milk cows in the United States, according to the last census. Of the states Iowa has the lead with over five million and a half horned cattle. Milk is healthy and fattening when fresh and from good, healthy cattle. It is good for consumptives and those weakened by disease. The only danger comes from the fact that milk affords a splendid medium for germs of typhoid fever and consumption to grow in and then infect the blood of the person drinking it. Again, the cows themselves often suffer from tuberculosis or consumption, and this can infect the human being drinking their milk. When we come to count our chances for taking disease however, we should not fear infection unless our blood is in disorder and our constitution run down.

Many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption, were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate the proper nutritious food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and relieves indigestion, and the person is thereby saved from fever, night-sweats, headache, etc., which are so common. For sale at all drug stores.

The man who is really witty generally has the least appreciation of his ability.

A PRINCELY PRINTER.

H. S. H. Prince Louis of Battenberg Knows How to "Stick Type."

Dr. George Johnson, the Dominion statistician, tells a good story about H. S. H. Prince Louis of Battenberg, rear-admiral of the second cruiser squadron, who has been stationed in Quebec and who opened the Industrial Fair at Toronto on the 29th August.

Lord Dufferin came down to Halifax soon after being sworn into office as Governor-General to see what he could do to pacify the Anti-Unionists of the Province, then still refusing to recognize the Dominion. The officers of the army and navy, of course, gave him a cordial reception, and the officers of the Royal Alfred (flagship), proposed to give a ball in his honor on board. On the morning of the ball, looking over matters to see if everything was all right, they made the discovery that they were without dance programs.

That was something not to be passed over. They must have the programs. What would the young ladies do? What the young gallants? There would be a mixing up of engagements sufficient to keep gallants and young ladies explaining for a fortnight. The Royal Alfred's officers would be laughed at for not knowing how to manage a "hop" on board ship.

One of the young officers was sent posthaste to get the programs printed. When he sought the printing offices, lo and behold! all were closed. It was a holiday and the printers had taken a day off. After searching through the town, the officer found one newspaper office, the editor of which was alone grinding out an editorial for the next day's issue. On being told the nature of his mission the editor said he himself did not know one type from another—that the mystery of printing was beyond him. "Now," says the officer, "I see daylight. If we can get into the printing office I can set up the type. I am a printer by trade, and between us we can get out of the dilemma." The key was found. The two went upstairs to the printing office. The officer-printer took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and "stick type" for all he was worth. A hand press, used for "pulling proof," was utilized for printing the programs. The work was pronounced first-class. The programs were tied up secundum artem, and Prince Louis of Battenberg—for that was the printer's name—hurried on board the flagship with the precious parcel which saved the situation; and that night at the ball "all went merrily as a marriage bell."

Dr. Johnson recalls the impression he then received that Prince Louis was a first-class printer, and knew his trade thoroughly. Prince Louis says he "recalls the incident perfectly." Evidently he has been proud of his feat ever since.

THE SHABBY BATHTUB.

It May Easily Be Made Bright, Fresh and Inviting.

Among the crosses many housewives have to annoy them is a bathtub of uninviting appearance in a room that otherwise looks fresh and clean. The tarnished surface may refuse to become bright, no matter what cleaning materials are employed.

By being your own workman you may at a trifling expense make the tub quite desirable. Procure a small can of common paint of any light color desired, a can of enamel paint of the same color and a good sized brush. Cut eight or ten inch pieces of yellow soap into bits and put it over the fire to dissolve in a couple of quarts of water. Fill the bathtub with hot water and throw in a generous handful of powdered borax and the dissolved soap. When the water becomes cool enough to put the hands in it scrub the surface with a brush, letting the water run off as the work is done. Again partly fill the tub with hot water and scrub it with the brush and sand soap to make sure that all greasy particles have been removed. Then rinse it in clear hot water and thoroughly dry.

Cover it with two coatings of the common paint, letting one thoroughly dry before putting on the second coat. Then give it several coats of the enamel paint. This paint will dry more quickly than the other, and the bath will no longer be an unsightly object. Care must be used not to run hot water into the bath alone until the paint has hardened.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE CARE OF HER GOWNS.

This Woman's Method Is Worthy of Being Widely Copied.

A time saver is the plan which a woman who has much of her dressmaking done in the house has evolved in the care of her gowns. She keeps all of her waists for each gown if not the whole gown itself in boxes. With it she puts the little bunch of silk or scraps of lace and ribbon that were left. She also puts in the particular bunch of ruching that she has selected for wearing with it so that in case of a fresh piece being needed or any little change being thought of she has everything at hand ready when she takes down the box.

As may be imagined, she is one who can add a touch here and make a change there in her collar or belt arrangements, little improvements which in a true feminine fashion she often makes a few minutes before she puts the dress on. For this and for any accident which happens to the gown the scraps already at hand are invaluable.

The same plan applies in keeping the veils which go with it in the box with each hat, where they have more room than in a common veil box and where the time is saved which it takes to get out two boxes.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DRESS HINTS.

Don't wear big sleeves and big hats if you are short.

Don't jump into your clothes and expect to look dressed.

Tight gloves will go on more easily if warmed before putting on the hands than if put on when cold.

In sewing on buttons have the knot of the thread on the right side directly under the button and see if the button does not stay on longer.

Whatever may be the shape of her foot a woman should be particularly careful to be well shod, and the uglier the foot the more careful she ought to be.

Never have the top of the boots tight, as it interferes with the action of the calf muscles, makes one walk badly and spoils the shape of the ankle.

In making buttonholes in goods that fray easily it is a great help to stitch twice around on the sewing machine before the hole is cut, as a firmer foundation is secured and no fraying results.

Physical Training.

A physician points out in a contemporary that there is not the slightest need of girls to engage in elaborate gymnastic exercises or to practice beauty culture in order to obtain good complexions and healthy physiques. The very best training for the muscles is to be found in ordinary housework, and when the body is perfectly healthy the skin will be cleared and the eyes brightened. It is not given to all girls to be able to indulge in outdoor sports, which is, of course, the ideal way of getting exercise, but all can perform simple household duties, and these, if done with open windows and in a brisk way, will do far more for those who perform them, says this doctor, than ordinary drilling.

The Tale of the Mouth.

It is the mouth which tells the tale of a fresh and irritable disposition. It is the feature which acts as a giveaway when a woman wishes to appear something that she isn't. A woman may spend a small fortune in cosmetics and massage, but if she doesn't watch her mouth and keep it sweet her money is wasted, for she cannot be good looking. A perpetually smiling woman is an offense against good taste, but a woman with a sweet, expressive mouth is the loveliest thing in the world, but there are very few of them.

The Improved Feminine Physique.

Mrs. Stannard declares that the modern woman is not athletic, but that the tall, finely developed young creature of the day owes her appearance to the fact that she is no longer scourged by tuberculosis and that she has been brought up more by her mother and more in the dining room instead of by persons of lower class in rooms at the top of the house.—London Post.

Pale, Thin, Nervous?

A GRACEFUL CARRIAGE.

Practice Correct Sitting and Rising Before a Mirror.

To rise gracefully draw one foot back a little and rise with the chest and the crown of the head leading upward, not forward. Practice sitting and rising before a mirror, using a straight backed chair. Do not run to extremes and sit bolt upright on the edge of the chair. Let the erect body be supple and ready to sway in any direction—led always by the chest. If you want to lean against the back of the chair there can be no harm in you doing so, provided that you sit in such a way as to allow the "small of the back" to rest against the back of the chair.

Do not lean shoulder blades against the chair back and hollow the "small of the back" while sitting. Such a position is injurious to health and fatal to beauty. If persisted in it will result in prominent shoulder blades and will induce curvature of the spine. If you would avoid round shoulders and a forward stoop of the neck do not use a high pillow when lying down. It is better to sleep without a pillow. If custom has rendered a pillow necessary you can gradually decrease its size until it becomes a very small one. Then you will come to wonder how you ever slept comfortably in the awkward position necessitated by a high pillow, and you will be pleased to find that your prominent shoulder blades are retreating and that your back and neck are assuming symmetrical lines.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Save your tired feet on ironing day by standing on a cushion.

In hanging clothes to dry always hang the stockings by the toes, night-dresses from the shoulders and skirts from the hem.

When hanging wet blankets or white spreads on the line to dry put a small square of cloth under each clothes-pin to make sure there will be no stain from a dusty pin.

Carbonate of lime, better known as Spanish chalk, used in the proportion of two to one of starch, will render all light stuffs such as muslin incombustible yet not hurt the material itself in any way.

To give linen a gloss pour a pint of boiling water on two ounces of gum arabic, cover till next day, then strain it carefully and put it in a clean bottle. Two teaspoonfuls of this stirred into a pint of ordinary starch will give collars and cuffs an appearance of newness.

Some men show the hypocrite that is in them by too much humility.
