

FOR TREATMENT OF THE INSANE.

PSYCHIATRIC HOSPITALS ARE RECOMMENDED FOR ONTARIO.

A Start in Toronto—Clinic Will Be Established in New Hospital—Province Urged to Have a Separate Institution for Insane Criminals.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Hon. Mr. Hanna made public yesterday the detailed report of the Government's Commission which was sent to Britain and Europe to investigate the methods employed there in the treatment of the insane, with a view to recommending changes that might be considered necessary in the system here. The commission comprised Hon. Dr. Willoughby, member without portfolio in the Government, who was Chairman, and Dr. C. K. Clarke and Dr. E. Ryan, medical superintendents respectively of the Toronto and Kingston Asylums. They made an especial study of the organization and equipment of psychiatric hospitals for persons suffering from mental diseases, but who might be cured if properly treated without going to the asylums, and recommended the adoption of the system here. This has already been under consideration by the Government, and even before the commission started it had been thought that a beginning should be made in connection with the new General Hospital in this city by the erection of a separate wing for the accommodation of a psychiatric clinic, where one hundred patients could be treated. In the light of the report of the commission there is no doubt that the idea will be carried out. The commissioners are enthusiastic over what has already been accomplished in Europe by the establishment of psychiatric hospitals, particularly in regard to the cures effected, the treatment of victims of over-indulgence in alcohol and of insane criminals. It is even predicted that as the result of investigations now going on the day will come when general paresis, "the dread and now incurable disease," will be just as amenable to treatment as diphtheria.

Briefly, the recommendations in the report are that there should be fewer institutions for the treatment of the chronic insane, as opposed to the indefinite extension of the cottage system. Inquiry into the latter, which in theory is ideal, showed that practically it is a failure. It is in fact a system under which there is danger of developing numerous small and expensively officered institutions, and great difficulty of proper supervision. Instead some of the existing asylums should be enlarged, as the necessity arises, by the addition of buildings having a capacity of 150 to 200 beds. The inmates most convenient for the population. Larger staffs of physicians, who should be possessed of special knowledge acquired in psychiatric hospitals, as well as larger staffs of nurses, are necessary if the best interests are to be approached. Patients suffering from tubercular diseases should be isolated from other patients and housed in separate buildings. Outside of these, no changes in policy are recommended in the management of asylums for chronic, Ontario standing very well in this regard.

The Province should set an example to the rest of Canada by providing a proper building for insane criminals. The commissioners are of opinion that the Dominion authorities might be induced to assist in the development of such a plan. In Germany this has been attended with great success. Munich criminals whose mental status is questioned are detained in the psychiatric hospitals for a period running up to six weeks, and their true condition carefully determined. This has in many instances saved the great expense of elaborate and unnecessary trials, and the unseemly battles in court over suspected cases of insanity.

The establishment of psychiatric hospitals at university centres for the treatment of all acute forms of insanity. To this portion of their investigation the commissioners devote the larger portion of their report. They found this plan to be "the king pin of the German system of care of the insane." Its best features are pre-eminent developed at Munich, where the medical staff is large, and no reasonable expense is avoided. Eight days were devoted to investigation at the Munich clinic, which is housed in a building costing, with equipment, $300,000. The site is situated in a building which has an elaborately equipped dispensary department for free and poor patients. The immediate practical results, to say nothing of those following upon the study and research work carried on, form the strongest possible argument in favor of the establishment of psychiatric hospitals in this Province. In many cases in Germany persons enter the psychiatric hospitals voluntarily, though others are taken in by friends or on order of the courts. In the case of alcoholic insanity patients, who constituted in 1905 some 39.12 per cent. of the persons treated at Munich, they are often taken directly to the hospitals by the police. This applies to "ordinary drunks," as well as to victims of chronic alcoholic poisoning. The commissioners say that special legislation would have to be framed as to admission or commitment to such institutions in Ontario, as the present laws relative to existing asylums and hospitals for the insane would not meet the requirements.

MILE A MINUTE BOAT.
New Vertebrae Propeller Makes It a Possibility.

New York, Nov. 1.—The mile-a-minute boat may soon be a reality, according to the opinions expressed yesterday by a party of experts, including naval engineers and yachtsmen, who witnessed a private demonstration at No. 75 Fulton street of Joseph Turner's invention, the vertebrae propeller.

Set in motion by belt gear and driven by four piston rods, which pass through stuffing boxes at the bottom of the boat, the triple horizontal plates which form the propeller work up and down with the sinuous motion of a fish. The device is so unlike anything ever presented before, and its merits are said to be so apparent, that the spectators predicted the propeller would speedily become a subject for serious consideration in engineering circles, in fact by all interested in marine or aerial propulsion, for Mr. Turner intends to apply his system to aerial navigation.

The propeller has a lifting as well as a propelling motion, and it has this advantage over the screw propeller, that the surface on both sides of each blade or plate is efficient in propulsion, while in the screw propeller only the front surface is efficient.

FURS IN OAT BIN.

BIG SEIZURE MADE BY U. S. CUSTOMS OFFICER.

Deputy Ladd, of East Alburg, Vt. Captured $4,000 Worth of Coats and Stoles That Were Being Smuggled Across the Line From Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Details of a recent seizure of $4,000 worth of furs which were being smuggled from Montreal into the United States show that it was a very lively affair. For a long time this traffic has been going on, Americans buying from certain dealers here with arrangements for getting their goods duty free across the line. United States Inspector Twomey here has kept watch on all big shipments from the city, and has notified the officials across the line. When he learned of a $4,000 shipment to New York a few days ago he wired Deputy H. C. Ladd at East Alburg, Vt. The latter went after his men, met them on the road, and chased them to a barn, where he found the smuggled goods hidden in a bin of oats. Ladd sailed in, and after a violent hand-to-hand fight succeeded in capturing the men, all three of them being in a badly battered condition. The goods seized consisted of several fur stoles and coats and an opera cloak.

MAIL REBUKED

For Its Mendacity Shameless Lack of Honor.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

The Government went into the Pacific cable to make money, and last year our share of the loss was over $100,000.—Mail and Empire.

What are the facts in this case? The Pacific cable was first conceived by Sir Sandford Fleming in 1882. It was supported by all the Canadian Governments which followed, especially by the Government of Sir John Macdonald at the Colonial Conference in London in 1887; was endorsed by order-in-Council dated December 26, 1892, when Sir John Abbott was Premier; was one of the chief objects of the mission to Australia of Sir Mackenzie Bowell in 1894; was recommended by the Colonial Conference which met in Ottawa in July, 1894; and was one of the Imperial legacies bequeathed to the Liberals by the Government of Sir Charles Tupper in 1896.

It happened to be the fortune of the Liberal party in this case, as in others, to prove that while the Conservatives talked it acted; but if the Mail and Empire wants to lay the construction of the Pacific cable up as a crime to be charged against Sir Wilfrid Laurier it must remember that the men who are responsible for the pledging of Canada's honor to share in the burdens of the Pacific cable include Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Mackenzie Bowell, not to mention the names of others of its leaders who have gone to their rest, or of any of the smaller fry who were, prior to 1896, convinced that the construction of the Pacific cable was one of those things which were necessary to the salvation of the Empire.

We do not say that the Pacific cable is a failure; far from it; but the point that it is important to emphasize is that it is an enterprise for which both parties in this country are responsible and that it would be as unfair to charge it as a crime against the Liberal party as it would be to charge it against the Conservatives. The Pacific cable has completed the deepening of the St. Lawrence canals they are responsible for all their construction.

New Publications.
The opening chapters of a new novel, "Through Life's Do Part," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, is the feature of the Woman's Home Companion for November. The announcement of a new story by the author of "A Singular Life" is always agreeable and this new novel gives promise of being one of Mrs. Ward's best.

Under the title, "Do You Know Your Country?" the editor makes some very telling comments on grocery conditions throughout the country, that every housewife will read with interest.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale, one of the editors of Woman's Home Companion, contributes a charming tale on "Thanks-giving—Then and Now," and Mrs. Anna Steele Richardson completes her series of three articles on "The Woman in Business." The other editors, Grace Margaret Gould, Margaret E. Sangster, Dan Beard and Fannie Merritt Farmer, contribute especially interesting departments.

LONG TERM FOR MURDERER.
Joseph Wardell Sentenced to 18 Years and 11 Months in Prison.
New York, Nov. 1.—Jos. Wardell, who was convicted of manslaughter in the first degree of aiding and abetting his wife to commit suicide, and who when he was arraigned for sentence yesterday confessed that he had murdered his wife, was sentenced to-day to imprisonment for not less than eighteen years and eleven months and not more than nineteen years and eleven months.

Dr. Macnamara says that when he started to learn golf his back garden was turned into a six-hole putting green, and many choice drawing room ornaments went to eternal smash in evidence of his growing prowess.

SCENES AT WHITEHAVEN CONSUMPTIVE SANITARIUM AND MEDICAL DIRECTOR
This institution, in the wilds of Luzerne county, is accomplishing such wonderful cures that hundreds of persons not afflicted with the dread tuberculosis are flocking to the hills and mountains to secure the benefits derived from getting back to nature. In the most unexpected places the hunter or traveler runs across a windowless shack tenanted by from one to a half dozen persons seeking robust health in crisp mountain air and autumn sunshine. There has been such a rush that one would think the benefit of fresh air was a recent discovery.

WEDS COACHMAN.

CUT OFF COLLEGES LOSE BEQUEST.

Income of $500,000 for Life Changed to Straight Gift of Half Million.

Riverhead, L.I., Oct. 31.—Because Mrs. Lena Head Bodley married a coachman against the wishes of her mother and George C. Taylor, who employed her mother as housekeeper, Yale, Harvard, Williams, Princeton and Hobart Colleges will each lose $100,000.

Instead, the Moses Taylor Hospital, of Scranton, will receive the $500,000, and $250,000 additional, under the will of George C. Taylor, which was filed for Probate to-day.

Mr. Taylor, who lived in Islip, left an estate estimated to be worth $200,000,000. A number of years ago he brought Mrs. Betsy Head and her daughter Lena from Europe to Islip and made Mrs. Head his housekeeper. In his will, drawn up in 1900, he bequeathed $2,000,000 outright to Mrs. Head, and the income of $500,000 for life to her daughter. At Miss Lena's death the $500,000 was to be shared in lots of $100,000 each by Yale, Harvard, Williams, Princeton, and Hobart Colleges.

Then Miss Lena married Frederick W. Bodley, Mr. Taylor's coachman. The millionaire, therefore, drew a codicil to his will, in which he revoked the bequest to the five colleges and to Mrs. Bodley, and substituted therefor a bequest of $750,000 to the Moses Taylor Hospital, of Scranton, Pa., which was founded by his father. Inasmuch as Mrs. Head died before Mr. Taylor did, the $2,000,000 bequeathed to her reverted to the Taylor estate.

Under the will Mrs. Bodley, the wife of the coachman, receives nothing, but it is said that in lieu of the bequest Mr. Taylor gave her a large sum—possibly $500,000—before he died.

BRIDGE GAVE WAY.

Two Men Killed and One Probably Fatally Injured.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Two men were killed and another probably fatally injured in an accident on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Eastman, in the eastern townships, this afternoon. A Canadian Pacific freight train was on its way to Montreal, and while crossing a high trestle over the tracks of the Orford Mountain Railway the bridge broke, throwing the engine and several cars to the ground. Engineer Deprer and Fireman McKenny were crushed under the wreckage, and instantly killed, while the brakeman was so badly injured that his life is despaired of. The trestle had been weakened at the point where it crossed the other railroad tracks, and it was here the disaster occurred.

As a result of the accident the Halifax express to-night will have to come to Montreal via Newport, Vermont, and thence to Lennoxville over the Boston & Maine.

THE SULTAN'S JEWELS.

They Are Locked Up in Bank Vaults Beneath the Strand.

London, Nov. 1.—Locked up in the vaults of a bank near Charing Cross, a portion of the Crown jewels and the personal jewelry of the Sultan of Morocco, valued at £1,000,000, are guarded night and day. The valuables occupy a space less than the size of a basket, and lie about thirty feet below the level of the Strand. Not far away, in the same vault, are several million pounds' worth of "unclaimed" jewelry, some of which was deposited there during the French revolution.

French people, fearful of being robbed during the reign of terror, secretly conveyed their possessions to London, and a vast quantity has been left uncalled for. The bank authorities have failed in every effort to locate the original owners' heirs.

AIRSHIP BLOWN TO SEA.

Its Occupants Believed to Have Been Drowned.

Paris, Nov. 1.—Two Bordeaux aeronauts have been missing since Tuesday, and it is feared that, by reason of the violent gale on that day, they have been blown out to sea and drowned. The balloonists, whose names are Scharf and Betman, and who are members of the local aeroclub, made an ascent from Bordeaux late on Tuesday evening in a balloon called the Fernand Dev.

The carried plenty of ballast, and were hopeful of making a long aerial voyage. A gale, however, sprung up soon after the start, and the balloon was rapidly carried toward the mouth of the Gironde and the Atlantic. When last seen the aeronauts were drifting out to sea. A vigorous search is being made along the southwest coast for traces of the missing men.

STREET MUSIC BARRED.

Novel Method to Put a Stop to Murders and Suicides.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—The municipality of Leipzig has issued an order prohibiting street music.

This applies not only to barrel organs and street musicians in general, but to graphophones, pianos and other instruments played indoors with open windows.

The Tagblatt remarks that by the enforcement of this measure the authorities hope to lessen the number of suicides and murders which occur daily.

Fireman Robertson, who was scalded in the explosion of engine 448, at Newbury, died in the hospital at London yesterday, after suffering terrible agony.

IRISH SHOOTING.

CARETAKER ON EVICTED FARM RIDDLED WITH SHOT.

Fired at From Behind a Wall as He Was Returning From Races—Lay for Three Hours on the Road Where He Fell.

London, Nov. 1.—A serious outrage has been perpetrated at Durra, the residence of Mr. R. W. Greene, sub-commissioner, about four miles from Ennis, county Clare, the victim being a young man named Fred. Pierce, employed as caretaker on an evicted farm at Sunnagh, on the Butler estate.

Pierce was returning from Ennis races when shots were fired at him, and he was seriously wounded. The shots were fired from over the Durra demesne wall, and riddled him on the right shoulder, the right side of the back, and the right arm. The shots were apparently fired at a close range, as the pellets are deeply embedded in the flesh and some have penetrated the lung. He was three hours lying on the road before he managed to get to a house, which was some distance from the scene of the occurrence. No arrests have been made.

MAN SWEEP OVERBOARD.

Big Waves Wash Over the Steamer Escalona.

Quebec, Nov. 1.—One of the worst passages ever experienced, the starboard side of the ship swept by huge waves, smashing the boats and bow davits, the ship's carpenter swept overboard, and drowned, and another member of the crew seriously injured. Such was the story told on the arrival of the Thompson Line steamer Escalona. The Escalona left North Shields on Oct. 12 with a general cargo for Quebec and Montreal. On Oct. 21, while in latitude 52 west, longitude 54 north, the ship encountered the severest weather she ever experienced.

During this storm, while members of the crew were surrounding the lifeboats in an endeavor to protect them, a monstrous wave swept over the starboard side of the vessel and tore everything away in its track, and with it the carpenter of the ship, a Scotchman named William Rosie, who was washed overboard and drowned.

After the storm subsided somewhat another member of the crew, named Philip Janty, was found clinging to a post. Several of his ribs were broken. Janty is now a patient at Jeffery Hale Hospital.

WOMAN GOES MAD IN COURT.

Wife of Her Victim Also Becomes Insane From Grief.

Budapest, Nov. 1.—The law courts to-day were the scene of unusual excitement during the trial of Agnes Gombai for the murder of Ferdinand Maurer, her former lover, who married another woman last spring. The murderess to-day suddenly went mad in the dock, crying: "Hang me, or give me a revolver to shoot myself, for I deserve to die!" She then fainted, and was carried to an asylum.

Meanwhile, the distracted widow of the murdered man, waiting outside the court, to appear as a witness, also went suddenly mad, screaming: "Give me a revolver that I may kill the infamous girl who murdered my husband!" She also was taken to an asylum, and the proceedings were suspended.

DOUBLE FEE ON SUNDAY.

Physicians of Paris Ask for a Day of Rest.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The doctors of Paris have decided that, beginning next year, Sunday visits to patients shall be treated as night visits, with double charges. The only exception will be visits to patients already under treatment.

Dr. Lerelle, who initiated this movement to secure Sunday as a day of rest, says that he is quite certain that Parisians will very soon get used to the change. He said: "Our new rules are intended to free us from needless visits. If patients know that they will be charged double for a doctor's visit on Sunday, they will, unless they are really ill, refrain from sending for us until the next day."

RAGE FOR THE PRIVOLOUS.

majority of us have some serious moments, and we like to have now and then, and we generally enjoy Henry Arthur Jones, Clyde Fitch, Charles Klein, Channing Pollock, and others who have contributed to our entertainment during the last couple of seasons; but so, also, do we enjoy the composite entertainments which are produced under the names of musical farce, musical comedy, extravaganza, and vaudeville. There is something exhilarating in the brisk music, even rehearsed music, if it is well rendered, the costumes fresh and bright, pretty girls who dance well, the movement and the continuity of entertainment from curtain to curtain. The blame cannot rest entirely upon the public for this much-talked-of desertion of the serious drama, for it appears willing enough to spend money for seats, but in return it wants a cheerful evening. The modern playwrights, because of their propensity to moralize, write failures, since few theatre-goers like to pay for lectures or sermons even when they are presented in variety and are touched up with sugar.

John Drew, with his easy manner and his perfect wardrobe, pleases year after year, and his frivolous society plays please because they are frivolous and because they are well staged and well acted. They do not preach or point morals or offer reproach to even the most guilty conscience. The public reaches out for the gay, the bright, and the witty as a child reaches for a blue or gold block in preference to a gray or a black one. The gray and black, when applied to plays, are well and good, but such plays must be provided with master actors to interpret them. We go to see Madame Nazimova in Ibsen plays, but is there another actress in New York who could play a house every night as Hilda in "The Master Builder"?

The fact that the majority want the bright, the gay, and the frivolous on the stage is proved by the increasing number of this variety of entertainment being produced and the number of playhouses which, all over the country, are being secured for the advanced vaudeville performances. One of the attractions of vaudeville is that one may drop in at any time without missing the plot of the performance, as each act is limited to twenty or thirty minutes. There is something on the stage almost all the time, and there is nothing sad. Pathos is out of its element in vaudeville. For these same reasons the circus is attended year after year by the same audience, and seats for a good minstrel show are always in demand.—Leslie's Weekly.

KEIR HARDIE RECAPS.

He Changes His Mind About Affairs in India.

Lucknow, Nov. 1.—Mr. Keir Hardie has modified the sweeping attacks on British government in India which he has been making since his arrival in the dependency.

He is now traversing the united provinces, stopping at Benares, Lucknow, and Cawnpore. He says he is much impressed with the better government in these parts, and realizes now distinctly the loyalty of the Mohammedans to the Government.

Mr. Hardie goes even so far as to admit that there is a dangerous party of agitators in Calcutta. He defines India's most pressing need as free compulsory education, and thinks the main cause of unrest is the want of sympathy between the Indians and Anglo-Indians.

STRYCHNINE PRESENT.

Prof. Ellis' Analysis of Stomach of Mrs. Burns.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The inquiry into the death of Mrs. Burns was resumed again to-day at Osgoode. Dr. Baptie, who is the presiding coroner, read two letters to the jury from Prof. W. H. Ellis, analyst, of the School of Practical Science, Toronto. In the first one, dated Oct. 25, Prof. Ellis stated that he found evidence of the presence of strychnine in the stomach of the deceased, which had been submitted to him for examination. The second letter, of Oct. 30, confirmed the finding of strychnine, as mentioned in the first one. Neither of the letters stated how much poison was found.

The evidence which was afterwards given rather pointed to suicide than murder. The inquiry was adjourned until the 12th to allow Mr. Ellis time to make a fuller report.
