At the intermaritime rifle match, at Halifax Friday, the Nova Scotia team won defeating the P. E. I. team by 10 points, and the N. B. Team by 48 points. The shooting was at 200, 500, and 600 yards. Conditions were most favorable the day being fine and bright. Scores were 729, 19, 691.

From 75 to a hundred dead, and one hundred injured is the estimate of the total casualties resulting from an earthquake in Southern France. The villages of Saint Cannat, and Rogues were completely demolished. Great suffering is reported. The victims were horribly mutilated.

At Montreal on the 9th inst., unusual conditions prevailed in the grain export business. Stevedores were refusing to carry grain at the rates offered, and were going with water ballast. This was due to the fact that passenger boats sailing from New York were carrying grain at a cost of placing it on board and discharging it.

A submarine torpedo boat, Kamboia, of the Russian Navy, was sunk in a storm in the Black Sea, while the boat was undergoing trials. Twenty members of the crew, including the Capt., First Lieutenant, and the chief engineer are supposed to have perished. Efforts are made to raise the boat in hope of saving the men.

The Cunard Line reports in London that the steamer Slavonia, which left New York June 3rd for Naples, is ashore southwest of Flores Island, one of the Azores group, and it is feared she will be a total wreck. All the 410 passengers were taken off by the steamer Princess Irene. Gibraltar advices confirm the report that all the passengers were saved, but several slightly injured.

The Saskatchewan Government has purchased the long-distance lines and the interest of the Saskatchewan Telephone Co. An accident which may be fatal, and was the result of a practical joke, happened near Saskatoon last Friday night. Walter A. Sherwood, with a party of friends, went across the river to have fun with a party of other Bank Clerks camped there. Sherwood and companions began playing pranks around the tents. R. C. Lane a particular friend of his, fired a bullet with the intention of simply frightening the prankers away but hit Sherwood in the stomach. He has been placed under arrest and Sherwood is in the hospital in a dangerous condition. Sherwood came from Sussex N. B.

Advice of the 8th from Calgary stated that washouts in the mountains near Revelstoke had almost paralyzed traffic and no transcontinental train had come through from the Coast since the 2nd, and there might not be any more before the next Monday. Passengers cannot be transferred, owing to the nature of the washouts. The Great Northern Railway has suffered quite as badly as the Canadian Pacific Railway, owing to the sudden freshness following the hot rainy spell. The damage seems to be very general throughout British Columbia, and the fruit men, lumber men and ranchers will lose heavily.

LOCAL and OTHER ITEMS.

With eight of her crew missing, the schooner Nettie Franklin arrived at Boston on Saturday after a fruitless two days search for eight men who were out in dories when a heavy fog shut in.

At Green Bay, Wisconsin, on Sunday last, lightning struck the steeple of the Catholic Church during Mass, killing Edward Duchan, 20 years old, and shocked and injured sixteen other persons.

The steamer Tanana arrived at Dawson the other day with $600,000 worth of gold dust, making a total of $2,700,000 received so far this season, en route to Seattle. The ice has gone from Lake Lehigh and the Yukon steamers are running regularly.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange had the most exciting time in its history Saturday morning, when a corner in July wheat was sprung. The price went up to $1.39 amid unparalleled scenes of excitement. Apparently a syndicate of western men, working through local brokers, worked the corner.

The little town of St. Francis, near Riviere du Loup, P. Q., was almost completely wiped out by fire last Friday. Out of twenty-four dwellings only one remains. Much suffering is likely to result. The loss cannot yet be estimated. One mile of railway track was also destroyed. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

When rain fell at Vanburn, Maine, Saturday, it wet down the smother of forest fires over a charred and desolate stretch of more than five square miles. It did work which nearly 1,000 men had been striving for days and nights to accomplish and quiet the apprehensions of scores of people who live on the outskirts of the town. With the relief from further spread came the reckoning of losses, conservative estimates placing the figures at about $25,000.

A heavy rainstorm, accompanied by vivid lightning and crashing thunder prevailed in Charlottetown for a while Saturday evening about 9.30. The rain came down in torrents, and was very acceptable, as drought and dust had been the vogue for some days. It appears, however, that the rain did not extend to any great distance in the country, east or west. This was a disappointment to the farmers generally, who had been very anxious for a good day to settle the dust and give the grass a start.

Toronto advices of the 11th say: The 105,000 claimants to a share in the net assets of the defunct York Loan Company will be pleased to learn that within the next six months they will receive the first dividend from the wrecked concern which will amount to from 20 to 25 cents on the dollar. Reduced to figures the affairs of the York Loan Company stand at present as follows: Claims total about $3,100,000 (subject to further adjustment loan account.) Assets, Cash in bank $500,000; good mortgage sale agreements, $400,000; property still on hand, $650,000 (estimated).

During last week fierce forest fires swept many parts of New Brunswick and the adjoining sections of the State of Maine, as well as in parts of Quebec. Much valuable lumber was destroyed, and the property damage was very heavy. Whole villages were practically wiped out in some places. Matters were really serious until a heavy downpour of rain on Saturday prettily well extinguished the fires in most parts. In Carleton County and other parts of New Brunswick, there was scarcely any rain, consequently the fires in these places were still burning.

There is no Rainy Season.

General Ashton, of Tacoma, who accompanied Moreton Frewen to Prince Rupert, is a firm believer in the future of the town. The present is his first trip here, and he predicts that with the sale of lots, there will be an influx of people who mean business, and who will stay by the proposition. "I believe," he said yesterday, "that in a great measure, the industrial and commercial history of Tacoma, Seattle and Vancouver will be duplicated here. Your harbor is a truly magnificent one. Prince Rupert is in the path of the growing Alaskan and trans-Pacific trade. The country between here and the prairies presents limitless opportunities for development, and in whatever takes place, Prince Rupert must more or less directly benefit. This port is nearer the ports of the Orient than any shipping port to the south. The new railway has an exceptionally easy grade. These are matters to be considered by the great business establishments of the east and middle west, whose operations extend across the Pacific. Sometimes you hear people talk about the rain. Why the whole coast, from Alaska to California, is in the rain belt. We have no rainy season. The weather doesn't enter into the calculations of the big business men, whatsoever. With them it's a matter of time—of dollars and cents. If they find it more to their advantage to do business through this port, they don't care whether it's hot or cold, cloudy or bright. And they will find that it will be to their advantage to figure on Prince Rupert."—Exchange.

Responsible Utterances.

If the discussion of Imperial defence has the appearance of a war scare it must not be forgotten where the responsibility lies. Mr. Asquith, the Prime Minister, Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Minister, Mr. Haldane, the Secretary of State for War, and Mr. McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, made the speeches which account for every panic utterance that has been heard. It was the speech of the Premier and not the speech of some Jingo which led to New Zealand's offer of a Dreadnought. Mr. Foster's striking speech in the Canadian House of Commons treated the Imperial situation as the responsible British Ministers described it. We are bound to believe that His Majesty's ministers had carefully weighed their words. They knew that every sentence spoken by them on this solemn subject would be printed the next day in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, St. Petersburg and Washington, as well as in London, Melbourne and Ottawa. These members of the Imperial cabinet have sources of information not open to ordinary citizens. They are supposed to speak with expert knowledge, as well as with a deep sense of the effect of their utterances. We have no right to treat lightly the declaration of these ministers in these circumstances.—St. John Standard.
