Salmon Fishing.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to salmon fishing in our rivers.

What I am going to say concerns me but little, from a personal beneficial point of view, but still I am deeply interested in the matter.

1st.—Should not every tourist, American or Canadian, take a guide? A great many, especially Americans, do so, but there are a great many who visit us that take only one guide for a party of three or four. I have known several parties from Cape Breton who came here fishing during the month of June. Each party contained three or four men, and they fished for nine or ten days, averaging about four fish a day. A few of these parties had two guides for each party and the rest of them only one. These men brought their own supplies and tents, smoked their salmon and took them to Canada. One party of three men from Sydney caught 47 salmon in nine days, averaging about 9 lbs. each, all of which they smoked and carried home. May I ask what benefit is derived from such men? They come in the country and after grumbling over paying a ten dollar rod tax, became their own guides, fishing all day long. These men, as I said before, caught three or four fish daily. At the same time our net fishermen are toiling all day with their salmon nets and getting nothing for their expense and work, while these sports were taking, we may say, the bread out of their mouths. What we want is to compel every tourist to take a guide, and more than that, to have a limited number of salmon for each rod daily.

I am glad to say that we have some men who do not spare money to obtain sport, who each take a guide and dispose of the fish to the guides. This is the kind of men we want to encourage, and we must prevent such men as I formerly spoke of in coming in our midst and doing as they please.

2nd.—What about local sportsmen? Suppose yourself, gentlemen, a party of American tourists who have been visiting our native land for several years; then suppose your party camping by a salmon pool near the river and upon rising in the morning to find one or two of our local sportsmen who have been switching over the pool for half an hour. I think you would find this poor encouragement. Well, such has been the case here, as some of the guides have reported.

If this continues we shall find more of these local sports yearly, and they will no doubt prove very discouraging to the men who want to encourage. What we want is a local tax, this would, if only a $5 tax, be sufficient to keep our residents from fishing the rivers. Again, if some of our residents are not to be trusted to act as guides, but have to obtain a license and be sworn, why should others be trusted to go sporting and act as guide for themselves?

We see those men with salmon which they say they caught somewhere about the river, but how do we know how they caught them; they may have caught them with hook and line and they may not. Dead salmon tell no tales, and we cannot expect our Game and Fishery Warden to be in several places at the one time. Every tourist, whether native or foreign, should pay the rod tax and each have a sworn guide.

Thanking you for space, I am,
Yours sincerely,
JAS. M. SHEARS.

Insane Soldier Shoots Captain.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 1.—A private soldier at Work Point Barracks this morning shot and killed Captain P. Elliston, of the Royal Canadian Artillery. The man, who is believed to be insane, escaped after the deed, and now the entire police force of the district, aided by soldiers, are scouring the bush in search of the murderer. The crime was not due to any ill-feeling, for the Captain was popular with all his men.

IN MEMORIAM. Inter-Brigade Football.

Mrs. Hannah LeDrew passed away from this earth on Tuesday morning, Aug. 2nd., at 9 a.m. Her death came as a happy release from the great cross of suffering which God saw fit to lay upon her. For the past two years she was an invalid and suffered untold agony, seldom being able to get out to enjoy the blessings of God's beautiful nature. Notwithstanding this she was very patient and up to the last bore her afflictions bravely. Mrs. LeDrew was a staunch churchwoman and a good Christian. Her seat in church was never empty when it was possible for her to attend. It was on one of these occasions, at the three hours service on Good Friday, 1908, while entering into the sufferings of her Saviour, that she was stricken with the disease from which she never fully recovered. In her home and amongst her friends she was kind and affectionate and much loved by all. Personally, I found her a faithful friend and a good adviser and I feel sure I am safe in saying that she found a place in the hearts of everyone who knew her. She had been suffering so long that her death did not come unexpected. However, at 4 a.m. Tuesday morning a change for the worst was noticed. At 8 a.m. Canon White was summoned who administered to her for the last time the Holy Communion. After this Dr. Macpherson came and pronounced the case hopeless. Seeing that earthly help was in vain she sought refuge in the pierced side of her Saviour and after a short interval passed quietly to the Great Beyond. The last words, which she was heard to speak, were: "Lord Jesus, revive my spirit." God grant that her prayer was accepted. She will be missed by a large circle of friends in this city and also by not a few from various parts of the Island.

This hard to part with friends we love, Whose course of life on earth is run, Still we must meekly bow the head and say: "Father, Thy will be done." —Com.

Guards Walk All Round the Highlanders.

Yesterday evening with excellent weather prevailing the seventh match of the inter-brigade schedule was pulled off at St. George's Field. Splendid weather prevailed and there was a fair gathering of spectators, the friends of the two competing teams cheering on the players. The line up was as follows:
Highlanders—Mitchell, goal; Coffin, Smith, backs; Benson, Searle, Ledingham, halves; McKinley, Robertson, Rennie, Robertson, Auchinleck, forwards.

Guards—Windsor, goal; Puddister, Taylor, backs; Quick, Pike, Piercey, halves; Ayre, Coultas, E. Quick, Fenwick, Barrett, forwards.

The Guards won the toss and defended the western goal with the little wind that blew in their favor. From the start it could be seen that the Guard boys were going to put up a good fight and if possible beat their opponents, and they did so to their heart's content. From the start the Guards were on the ball and were quickly in their opponents' territory. In this respect they resemble the Stars, this year's champions, in their play. The Guards played a splendid combination game from the start and in the first half quickly had two goals to their credit, so that at half time the teams changed sides with Guards 2 goals, Highlanders nil. The referee allowed a lengthy spell to the teams and the second half began a few moments after the lemon time whistle had sounded. The Highlanders in this half had a look in occasionally, but the Guards seemed to take things quietly and seemingly without extra effort notched up 3 more goals in this half. It was a relief to spectators when Referee Higgins' whistle announced that the match was finished, with the Guards 5 goals and the Highlanders a blank. The Guards are a fine team and are making good progress towards the brigade championship. The match between them and the Cadet boys should bring a large crowd to St. George's Field when it comes off.

Assaulted Chinamen.

Two fishermen from one of the foreign banks in port set upon three Chinamen last night and assaulted them. Head Constable Sparrow who came along at an opportune time arrested the fishermen who were drunk. The Chinamen told the officer that they had given no provocation to their assailants. One of the men was so badly wounded about the head that he had to be taken to Dr. Scully's surgery for treatment.
