GEO. M. BARR.

(From the Moncton Transcript.)
The suggestion made in more than ne quarter, that if the Germans murer Capt. James Blaikie, of the s.s. Caledonia, as they murdered Captain Fryatt, Great Britain shall make a reprisal in kind has found favor in the Mother Country as the only possible means by which the German brutes can be made to recognize the enormity of their conduct. The Germans undoubtedly intended to execute Captain Blaikie when they cap-tured him as they executed Capt. Fryatt and if Capt. Blaikie lives to re-tur from his imprisonment it will be because of the threats now used. It may be interesting to readers of The Transcript to know the names of some of those hostages held by Great of Capt. Blaikie: Lieut. Von Tirpitz, son of the Ad-

The deceased was of a very amiable disposition and was greatly esteemed by those who knew her. She was remarkable for her kindness and charity, and many a weary traveller who partook of her hospitality will greatly regret her passing. Her casket, which was a beautiful and costly one, was furnished by her nephew, Mr. Michael Dunphy, of Holyrood, who came to Placentia Jt. with it. Her remains were conveyed by train to Holyrood on Friday last, and after Requiem Mass was chanted for the repose of her soul there to await the Archangel's trumpet call. Mrs. Healey leaves a husband, one daughter (Mrs. W. J.
