Russia and Newfoundland Fish.

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I beg to enclose you for publication copy of correspondence between the Council of the Board of Trade and Sir Edgar R. Bowring, High Commissioner for Newfoundland, on the subject of Fish and Herrings for Russia.
Yours truly,
ERNEST A. PAYN, Secretary-Treasurer, Nfld. Board of Trade.
Sept. 15, 1921.

AUGUST, 31st, 1921.

Sir Edgar Bowring, K.C., High Commissioner for Newfoundland, City.
Dear Sir Edgar,—I have acknowledged receipt of yours containing message sent re supplying of codfish to Russia, and the reply from your London Headquarters. Since the publication of these messages, considerable interest has been manifested in the possibility of a large sale of codfish to Russia. The Board of Trade has been requested to ask you to again get in touch with your London Office, and ascertain further particulars, such as:

1. An idea of the price quoted by Norway.
2. To advise if terms can be improved to cash or equivalent.
3. Would Government aid possibly secure better terms of payment?
4. Information as to the market for herring.
5. Any replies from Relief Committee.

We should be grateful for any information you may receive as to the Russian markets, and the possibilities for Newfoundland Produce. We are,
Sincerely Yours,
(Sgd.) ERNEST A. PAYN, Secretary-Treasurer, Newfoundland Board of Trade.

Bowring Bros. Limited,
St. John's, Nfld.
Sept. 1st, 1921.

Ernest Payn, Esq., Secretary Newfoundland Board of Trade, City.
Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, copy of which I have forwarded to the High Commission Office in London, and hope shortly to have a reply giving the information you ask for.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) EDGAR R. BOWRING.

St. John's, Nfld.
September 15th, 1921.

E. A. Payn, Esq., Secretary Newfoundland Board of Trade.

Dear Sir,—The following message has reached me this morning from the High Commission Office in London, and I will be glad if you will place it before the Board of Trade for their consideration letting me know, what, if any reply they wish to send:

"Referring Board of Trade letter August 31st, regarding codfish for Russia further particulars required are as follows: (1) Norwegian legislation inform me that Norway has recently made free gift to Russia of salted codfish, salted herring and cod-liver oil, value seven hundred thousand kronor, which amount Government had paid for these commodities to relieve adverse conditions of Norwegian fisheries. Legislation says no fish has been sold Russia, except one or two small lots of twenty five ore per kilo. (2) Am endeavouring to obtain offer of better terms. (3) Terms quoted in previous message made on basis of purchase from Newfoundland. Government and not from shipper. What further aid contemplated. (4) Ascertaining definite information regarding herring, but consider no doubt whatever great demand for that commodity as for other foodstuffs. (5) Only private committees formed so far. Foreign office informs me that British Government relief for Russia not yet decided upon owing to Soviet Republic's refusal to allow an International Commission to appoint a Committee of enquiry to investigate fish trade, and because of Soviet's refusal to give information to enable the proper distribution of relief. International Commission meeting again at Paris to-day, to decide further action. Warren and Bishop assisting me to make fullest investigation this matter."

(Signed) RURALTY,
Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) Edgar R. Bowring.

Personal.

Friends of Mr. Wilson Vardy of Port aux Basques, will be pleased to learn that he is doing as well as can be at the General Hospital.

Mr. J. W. N. and Master Gordon Johnstone, who returned by Canadian Steamer this morning, had an extended trip, going as far west as Chicago, and visiting New York, Boston, and Toronto, where they took in the Canadian National Exhibition.

Capt. Edwards, Senior British Trade Commissioner to Canada, arrived by the Canadian Steamer and is staying at Government House.

Messrs. H. D. Reid and C. O'N. Conroy are leaving by Tuesday's express for Quebec, where they will take passage for England on business in connection with the Bay of Islands enterprise.

The Prime Minister was at Washington several days ago, and it is rumored that he has negotiated another loan amounting to eight million dollars.

Wedding Bells.

ODRISCOIL—ODEA.

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock Mr. John D. Odriscoll, son of the late Mr. P. C. Odriscoll and one of our most popular and successful young business men, and Miss Madeline O'Dea, daughter of Mr. J. V. O'Dea, were united in holy matrimony in the Chapel of the Convent of Mercy, Military Road. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Monsignor McDermott in the presence of a large circle of relatives and friends. Miss Sylvia St. John was bridesmaid with Miss Agnes O'Dea, a little sister of the bride, as flower girl. Mr. John Fenelon acted as best man. The bride entered the church leaning on her father's arm and looked charming in her bridal dress of white satin. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father where the health of the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. John Fenelon in a few well chosen words and heartily honored by the company. Mr. Odriscoll expressed the thanks of his bride and himself for the good will so heartily shown by all. At half-past five the bridal party left by motor for Bay Bulls where the honeymoon will be spent. The presents were valuable and numerous showing the wide popularity of the young couple whom the good wishes of all will accompany throughout their married life.

HISCOCK—PARSONS.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, when Miss Minnie Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Parsons, and Mr. Ernest R. Hiscock were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. J. Britton officiating. The bride was given away by Capt. Edgar Burke, and looked charming in a dress of white silk with georgette over skirt, and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white lilies, carnations and asparagus fern, and was attended by Miss Louie Hiscock, sister of the groom, while Mr. Hector Parsons, brother of the bride, did the duties of best man. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to 13 Golf Avenue, the home of the bride, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of, and after the usual toast list was gone through the happy couple drove to Waterford Bridge and left by express for Salvage, B.B., where the honeymoon will be spent. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Hiscock every happiness.

Tricks With Cardboard Spectacles

Some curious experiments can be carried out with cardboard spectacles cut with different kinds of openings.

The discs for the eye-pieces are cut out of cardboard, and should be about two inches in diameter. The nose-rest or bridge is made from copper wire bent to the right shape. The ends of this bridge can be twisted into holes made in the sides of the discs. The bows are also made of wire, and can be fixed into holes in the same way.

The discs are treated in the following manner. In one of the pairs of spectacles a hole is made with a pin in the centre of each disc. In another a horizontal slit is cut across, as shown in the diagram, while in the third the slits are put in vertical fashion. The slits, which should be narrow, can be cut with a sharp pocket-knife.

Curious Effects.

The effects of wearing these spectacles are curious. With the pinhole pair the range of vision is somewhat restricted, but, so far as distant objects are concerned, here is extreme clearness. It is possible to read print easily at three or four times the normal distance.

In the case of the spectacles with the horizontal slit (says a writer in "Science and Invention"), the field is much the same as usual, but only horizontal lines are to be seen clearly. Vertical lines cannot be discerned, or seem to be very confused in outline. Thus, the trunk of a tree is very difficult to locate, but any of the boughs that are more or less horizontal stand out with great clearness. When the spectacles with the vertical openings are put on a reverse effect is secured. Here it is only the vertical lines in houses, fences, and trees that can be seen plainly. Thin lines disappear altogether.
