DEATH IN AN ENVELOPE.

An illustration of the contagious character of diphtheria comes from Paris, Ont. A case of malignant typhoid appeared in the house of a citizen of that town, and he wrote to Sanitary Inspector Wallace, informing him of it. When the letter reached Mr.
Wallace the letter was not at home.
Two of Mr. Wallace's children in playing around the house got hold of the envelope. In less than a week they were both stricken with diphtheria in its worst form. Physicians say that neither of them can recover.

FELL TO HER DEATH.

Mrs. Joseph Young, wife of Joseph Young, farmer, Port Stanley, met with an untimely end on Sunday evening about 9 o'clock. She was in the kitchen and not noticing that the trap door leading to the cellar was open she stepped into it in the dark and fell into the cellar, alighting on her head, fracturing her skull. Dr. Mother-hill was immediately summoned but the unfortunate woman never regained consciousness and died at 9 o'clock yesterday.
Deceased was about 60 years old, and besides her husband leaves one son, George Young, mail clerk on the Air Line. Mrs.
Robt. Fox, wife of the well known banker at Lunan, is a sister of deceased. Mrs.
Young was a devoted member of the English Church. The eldest son of deceased, Arthur Young, was drowned some years ago in Lake Erie, but his body was never recovered. The funeral will take place on Wednesday to Woodlawn cemetery, London.

Is Bicycle Riding Injurious?

There is a possibility that the fervor exhibited by all classes for the bicycle carries with it an element of danger.
Exercise is essential to vigorous health, but in disease or in those cases where the muscular force is greatly reduced the use of the wheel should be employed cautiously. The proprietors of the very well-known remedy, Putnam's Corn Extractor, attribute the largeness of their sales not to the use of the bicycle by the people of Canada, but to the absolute certainty of their preparation to remove the most painful and obstinate corns in twenty-four hours.
Putnam's Corn Extractor is always certain, safe and painless. Try it.

—The ice man continues to take things cool.

—Mayor Mason, of Windsor, was in London yesterday at a meeting of his creditors.

—John Graham, of Graham Bros, has gone on a business trip to New York and other eastern markets.

—Mr. Frank Grew, of South London, the well-known cricketer, will take up his residence in Toronto shortly.

—Prof. Metcalfe's piano recital in the Music Hall last night was artistically a success, but the audience was small.

—Mr. Christopher Bunting, of the Toronto Mail-Empire, has been confined to his bed for some days with illness.

—Mr. H. Campbell Beecher, of this city, has been chosen one of the trustees of the Osgoode Legal and Literary Society at Toronto.

—A rig occupied by Messrs. James Mal-loch and Wm. Brett was struck by a trolley car on Dundas street, near Colborne, yesterday. The vehicle was damaged, but the men were unhurt.

—A very large crowd was at the depot today to bid good-bye to Rev. Mrs. J.

W. Kedley and to wish them happy days in their new home at London, Ont.—Vancouver (B. C.) World.

—Mr. McLean, Government Immigration

Agent, of London, Ont., and family, are visiting Mrs. McLean's brother, Mrs. Martin, Queen street, with whom they intend spending the winter.—St. Thomas Times.

—Many in London will regret to hear of the death yesterday of Mr. James Douglas, formerly manager of the London Drug Company. He had been an invalid for four years and lived at Sandwich. The remains will be interred at Perth.

—The police are looking for relatives of Mrs. B. B. Cheeseman, having received a telegram from a clergyman at Woodlawn Park, Ill., that she was dying and in desperate circumstances there, having been deserted. Cheeseman was formerly a carter here, the telegram says, but no such person is known to the police.

—St. Thomas Times: Both morning and evening Sunday large audiences greeted the Caldwell Bros. (the Scotch twin evangelists of Askin street, London) on their first appearance in the city. They preached two able and eloquent sermons on "Prayer" and

"The Power of God's Word." These brethren preach after the manner of a dialogue, which is a very pleasing and attractive and beautiful.

—Capt. Lamonth, of Mississippi, the man who claims that he owns London, by virtue of a deed given to his father, writes to Mr. J. J. Spettig-ue, an old acquaintance of his, that he will soon come here to establish his right to a large slice of the city.

The captain informs Mr. Spettig-ue that he has already secured $100,000 worth of property in the States on similar claims to which he will prefer here.
All right, captain, come along and take possession!

—Chatham Banner: "The anniversary services of the William Street Baptist Church were held yesterday, and despite the cold and, in the evening, stormy weather, large congregations were present both morning and evening. The preacher of the occasion, Rev. T. S. Johnston, of London, did much to strengthen the opinion Chathamites have always entertained of his ability in the pulpit. He is an unostenta-riously yet earnest and effective expounder of the gospel, one who is always welcome to the Maple City."

—Sunday school teachers and clergymen were present in large numbers at Bishop Cromby Hall yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the day appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury for intercession for Sunday schools throughout the world.
His Lordship Bishop Baldwin presided and gave an earnest address, followed by Ven.
Dean Innes and Rev. Canon Richardson.
Revs. Canon Daan and W. J. Armitage engaged in prayer. The services were interposed with singing and the meeting closed with the benediction. Special services were held in all the English churches of Christendom on Sunday in obedience to the Archbishop's command.

Says John Wannamaker, the biggest drygoods man in Philadelphia: "There are men who look askance at advertising as a rash, risky piece of unnecesary expense. They have no faith in it.
They do not understand it. They do not care to. They have never tried it, nor do they propose to. They do not realize that more business depends upon advertising than upon any other element of business. They are satisfied to keep throug-hly in the dark while their enterprising competitor is directing his flash-light in all directions, ferreting out new customers and making himself known. It takes a loud, bold voice to command attention from a disinterested world."

—The Literary Society of the Forest City Business College, held a meeting last Friday evening for re-organization and election of officers, as follows: Hon. presidents, Miss Freel, W. E. Matthews; president, Wm.

—Ill. Bro. J. J. Mason, of Hamilton, was cordially welcomed last night by the Lodge and Chapter of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite in this city, on the occasion of his official inspection of the bodies named.

The attendance was large. Ill. Bro. Alex.

Findlay, T. F. G. M., presided, and conferred the fourth and fifth degrees upon a candidate in a highly creditable manner.

He was ably assisted by his staff of officers.

The illustrious deputy also inspected the books of the Rose Croix Chapter, and was subsequently entertained by the city brethren in the ante-room of the rite, where a pleasant couple of hours were spent.

Amongst others in attendance were: Ill.

Bro. D. Spry and A. W. Forté, D. B.

A HINT.

M. Parkes writes: "Having attended the opening services of Dundas Center

Sunday school room, I would like to give the officials a hint as to how things, so well done, could be greatly improved, I refer to the method of dismissing the congregation.

Why not follow the examples of some of our public schools, where a piano is used. Let it be understood that as soon as the chord is struck by the organist it is the signal for those in the body of the schoolroom to take their seats, and for those in the galleries to be dismissed. All the crush and discomfort of Sunday evening might be easily avoided, and the room more quickly vacated. Apart from this the church is to be congratulated on the entire success of their opening services."

LONDON ART SCHOOL HONORED.

The following self-explanatory letter has been received by Mr. John Dearness, of this city, who was in charge of the exhibit program:

"Sir,—My findings in note book on china painting in the London Art School is that

No. 12,289, the number the blank report was written on, and No. 1,190, of page 56, received an award. This is the Cartwright exhibit of nine pieces. Again, 12,288, blank report, and No. 1,180, of same list, namely, the seven pieces exhibited by J. H. Griffiths, received an award."

The above is a paragraph from a letter re-
