

HIS REPENTANCE.

Oswald waited for a reply, but the doctor made none. He was pacing the small room with measured tread, his hands in his pockets, his eyes bent on the carpet.

"Have you any objection to explain to me this apparent contradiction? It is impossible to believe that one whose opinion of chloroform in relation to her was so fatal, would in a few hours cause her to inhale it."

Dr. Davenal stopped in his walk and confronted Oswald.

"Have you seen Mark since you came down?"

"Yes."

"And what does he say?"

"Well, I don't fancy he understands it much better than I do. He reiterates that it was given her for the best. In his opinion it may have been. But it surely could not have been in your, Dr. Davenal's, hands."

Dr. Davenal turned from Oswald to his pacing again. A strong temptation was upon him to tell Oswald the truth. Oh, that he had! What years of suffering it would have saved!

There were few people in the world whom he esteemed as he esteemed Oswald Gray.

There was no one else in the world to whom he had expressed this opinion of the usefulness of Lady Oswald as a subject for chloroform, and the wish to explain, to exonerate himself, arose forcibly within him. The next moment he asked himself why Mark had not spoken. As he had not, it seemed to Dr. Davenal that it would be a breach of friendship, of partnership, for him to speak.

Oswald was connected, too, with Lady Oswald, and might take up the matter warmly.

No, he felt in his over-considerate heart that he could not betray Mark, could not set one brother against the other. And he thrust the temptation from him.

Oswald watched him as he walked, wondering at the silence. A silence which the doctor evidently did not feel inclined to break.

"Do you remember expressing this opinion to me, Dr. Davenal?"

"Yes, I believe I did so express it."

"And yet you acted in diametrical opposition to it immediately afterwards, and caused Lady Oswald to inhale chloroform. Will you forgive me for again asking how it could have been?"

"The very best of us are led into error sometimes," replied Dr. Davenal.

"Why, that is one of the remarks Mark has just made to me in connection with this case. I cannot recognize it as applying. You spoke so firmly, so positively, that I should have believed there was no room for error to creep in. I feel that there is something to explain, Dr. Davenal."

Dr. Davenal wheeled round in his walk and confronted Oswald.

"There are circumstances connected with this case, Mr. Oswald Gray, which I cannot explain to the world; which I cannot explain even to you; although I would rather tell them to you than to any one. Let it suffice to know that I could not save Lady Oswald. It was not in my power."

"But you could have saved—you could have helped giving her the chloroform!" returned Oswald, wondering.

A slight pause. "Will you oblige me by asking no further questions on the subject?"

"Believe me, I have no selfish motive in pressing this. No one living can regret more than I the fatal result to Lady Oswald; perhaps nobody regrets it so keenly. Could I have saved her, no care, no skill, no labor, should have been spared. But I could not. I can ask you to be satisfied with this measure."

Dr. Davenal looked at Oswald, and to believe when I state that I have private reasons declining to pursue the topic."

"And—pardon me—one more question. To what am I to attribute her death in my own mind? Or rather this giving of the chloroform?"

"You must look upon it as an error in judgment. It was so."

"It was impossible for Oswald Gray as a gentleman to press further the matter. Dr. Davenal was an old man compared with him; one of high reputation, skill, position. He could not understand it, but he could only bow to the request—nay, to the demand—and let the subject fall into silence. An awkward pause ensued. The doctor had not resumed his promenade, but stood under the gas-lamp, twirling a quill pen which he had taken up in his fingers.

"How are the other sufferers from the accident getting on?" inquired Oswald, when the silence was beginning to be heard.

"Oh, quite well. Poor Biggs the fireman is nearly the only one of them left in the infirmary, and he is not out of it."

The rest escaped with a few cuts and bruises. There's a summons for me, I suppose."

The doctor alluded to knock at the hall door. "No, no, no. He wishes to know if you can spare him ten minutes."

"Yes," replied the doctor, and Oswald rose.

"Will you walk upstairs and see them?"

"Not to-night, thank you."

"I won't press you," said the doctor. "Sara is cut up by the news from Edward—terribly disappointed; and Aunt Lett is as cross as two sticks. She is fond of Edward, with all her ungraciousness to him, and she looks upon this hint of not coming down as a slight to herself. In manner she was always ungracious to the boys, from some idea, I believe, that it tended to keep them in order; but she loves them at heart. Good-night."

Dr. Davenal clasped his hand with a warm pressure, warmer than usual; Oswald could not but feel it, and he went out perfectly mystified.

Neal stepped on to open the front gate. Neal was always remarkably courteous and deferent to Mr. Oswald Gray. Oswald, who had only seen the best side of Neal, and never suspected there was a reverse one, looked upon him as a man to be respected, a faithful old retainer of the Oswald family.

Lady Oswald had said his practice times out of number in Oswald's ear, and she once told Oswald to try for Neal, should he ever require a servant about him, for he should find Neal a man of fidelity, worth his weight in gold. Oswald believed her. He believed Neal to be faithful and true; one whom doubt could not touch.

"This death of your late mistress is a very sad thing, Neal."

"Oh, sir! I can't express to you how I have felt it. I am sure I can say that my lady was a true friend to me, the only one I had left."

"No, no, Neal. Not the only one. You may count a friend in me—if only for the regret you were, I know, held in by Lady Oswald."

"Thank you, sir, greatly," and honest Neal's eyes swam in tears as he turned them to Mr. Oswald Gray, under the light of his master's professional gas lamp. "Sir," he added, swaying forward the gate and dropping his voice as he approached nearer to Oswald, "how came that poison, that chloroform, to be given?"

"I cannot tell; I cannot understand," replied Oswald, speaking upon impulse, not upon reflection.

"Sir, if I might dare to say a word"—and Neal glanced round with caution on all sides as he spoke—"I'd ask whether it was given in fairness?"

"What do you mean, Neal?"

"There's not a person in the world I'd venture to whisper such a thing to, sir, except yourself; but I doubt whether it was given in fairness. It makes me sick, sir, to think that there was some unfair play brought to work, and that it took her life."

"Unfair play on the part of whom?" asked Oswald.

"I am not sure that I dare not say, sir, even to you. And it might be looked upon as—as a fancy on my part. One thing is being given her, she's alive now."

"Dr. Davenal and Mr. Gray gave the chloroform, Neal," observed Mr. Oswald Gray, in a somewhat distant tone—for it was not to Neal that he would admit any doubt, would scarcely condescend to hear any of the judgment of the surgeons. "They know better about such things than we do."

"Yes," answered Neal, as dryly as he dared. "Mr. Gray, I am sure, did his best, but he has not had the judgment and experience of my master. Any way, it seems it was the chloroform that killed her."

"As it has killed others before her—when administered in all deliberate judgment, by surgeons of as high repute and practice as Dr. Davenal. The issue of life and death will be paid by the Pure Gold Company to anyone giving such information as will lead to punishment of fraud of this kind."

A wonderful cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. About a year ago I took a very severe cold, had a violent sore on my lips, was had with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the bottle showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very indolent habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parting with it should continue for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

The organs of smell in the turkey and vulture are so delicate that they can scent their food for a distance of 40 miles.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confused with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Teething is an important crisis in the life of lion cubs, and a large number of the young die during that period.

A man's wife should always be the same as to her husband's health; but if she is nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they say, and their husbands agree too.

Lieutenant Peary says that he saw butterflies and bumblebees in the north of Greenland.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

"Are cable cars healthy?" asks an exchange. As a matter of fact, neighbor, the grip never made its appearance in this country until the introduction of the cable cars.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removes ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

Bicycle riding does not appear to be conducive to amiability. No sooner does a man bestir the wheel than he gets his back up.

A Railway Manager Says: "In reply to your question do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say No! On the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

The best place for maiden trips in on the sea of matrimony.

The World's Fair is a big thing, and so is the railroad's fare.

It has been proved over and over again that Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headache, neuralgia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. Try it. Every bottle is guaranteed to benefit or cure when taken according to directions.

The matrimonial race is often begun at a rattling gate.

May, with her Kentucky Derby, is the jaunty summer girl.

For Frostbites. Sirs—For chapped hands, sore throat and frostbites I find nothing excels Hays' Yellow Oil. I had my feet frozen three years ago and obtained no relief until I used Hays' Yellow Oil, which soon healed up the frozen parts. L. S. Longstreet, Alameda, N. W. T.

"Well, Johnnie, are you able to keep your place in your class?" Johnnie—Yes, sir; I began at the foot and there's not a single boy been able to take it from me."

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Eucalypti Extract is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

plied Oswald, speaking upon impulse, not upon reflection.

"Sir, if I might dare to say a word"—and Neal glanced round with caution on all sides as he spoke—"I'd ask whether it was given in fairness?"

"What do you mean, Neal?"

"There's not a person in the world I'd venture to whisper such a thing to, sir, except yourself; but I doubt whether it was given in fairness. It makes me sick, sir, to think that there was some unfair play brought to work, and that it took her life."

"Unfair play on the part of whom?" asked Oswald.

"I am not sure that I dare not say, sir, even to you. And it might be looked upon as—as a fancy on my part. One thing is being given her, she's alive now."

"Dr. Davenal and Mr. Gray gave the chloroform, Neal," observed Mr. Oswald Gray, in a somewhat distant tone—for it was not to Neal that he would admit any doubt, would scarcely condescend to hear any of the judgment of the surgeons. "They know better about such things than we do."

"Yes," answered Neal, as dryly as he dared. "Mr. Gray, I am sure, did his best, but he has not had the judgment and experience of my master. Any way, it seems it was the chloroform that killed her."

"As it has killed others before her—when administered in all deliberate judgment, by surgeons of as high repute and practice as Dr. Davenal. The issue of life and death will be paid by the Pure Gold Company to anyone giving such information as will lead to punishment of fraud of this kind."

A wonderful cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. About a year ago I took a very severe cold, had a violent sore on my lips, was had with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the bottle showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very indolent habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parting with it should continue for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

The organs of smell in the turkey and vulture are so delicate that they can scent their food for a distance of 40 miles.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confused with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Teething is an important crisis in the life of lion cubs, and a large number of the young die during that period.

A man's wife should always be the same as to her husband's health; but if she is nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they say, and their husbands agree too.

Lieutenant Peary says that he saw butterflies and bumblebees in the north of Greenland.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

"Are cable cars healthy?" asks an exchange. As a matter of fact, neighbor, the grip never made its appearance in this country until the introduction of the cable cars.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removes ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.

Bicycle riding does not appear to be conducive to amiability. No sooner does a man bestir the wheel than he gets his back up.

A Railway Manager Says: "In reply to your question do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say No! On the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

The best place for maiden trips in on the sea of matrimony.

The World's Fair is a big thing, and so is the railroad's fare.

It has been proved over and over again that Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headache, neuralgia, and all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. Try it. Every bottle is guaranteed to benefit or cure when taken according to directions.

The matrimonial race is often begun at a rattling gate.

May, with her Kentucky Derby, is the jaunty summer girl.

For Frostbites. Sirs—For chapped hands, sore throat and frostbites I find nothing excels Hays' Yellow Oil. I had my feet frozen three years ago and obtained no relief until I used Hays' Yellow Oil, which soon healed up the frozen parts. L. S. Longstreet, Alameda, N. W. T.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

Sunbeams Reflected from the Vicinity of Sarnia.

Sudden Death at St. Thomas—Methodist Ministerial Meetings in St. Marys and Aylmer.

ESSEX.

Wm. McGregor, M. P. for North Essex, is in the city on a visit to friends. Mr. McGregor was formerly a resident for many years of this city, but left for the east about five years ago to go into business at Windsor, Ont. At the last general election he was elected a member of the House of Commons, running as a Liberal on the reciprocal platform, defeating J. C. Patterson, now Minister of Militia, by over 800 majority. [Windsor Free Press.]

Some boys while firing off firecrackers yesterday in front of Steward's barber shop, Windsor, threw one in the awning. In a moment it was on fire and was destroyed. The fire department was called out.

Messrs. Tyra Erien, J. A. Erien, George Erien and M. Grass have formed a company to be known as the Ridgeway Natural Gas Company, for piping the town for natural gas.

ELGIN.

The annual meeting of the Aylmer district of the Methodist Church was held in Sparta recently. The reports from the different churches showed the work to be in a healthy and progressive condition. A public temperance meeting was held on the evening of the first day, when addresses were given by Rev. Messrs. Cullen Thompson and Muxworthy. A resolution was unanimously passed, expressing the highest appreciation of Rev. Thos. Cullen for his uniform kindness and courtesy, and for his marked ability as chairman of the district, and regret at his removal therefrom.

The wife of Simon Estlick, G. T. R. brakeman at St. Thomas, died very suddenly Wednesday morning of heart failure.

The Presbyterian congregation of Rodney and New Glasgow have extended a unanimous call to Rev. J. F. Scott, a graduate of Knox College. The stipend is $850 with a free manse and four weeks' vacation.

HURON.

The Bell Telephone Company and the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company have appealed against the assessment of their properties in Listowel on the ground that the municipality has no power to assess the assets of the companies.

The Queen's Birthday at Zurich was celebrated. Hundreds of people gathered in from all directions. In the afternoon there were horse races and general athletic sports. The concert at night was a great success; after the concert there was a grand display of fireworks. Choice music was furnished during the day by the Blyth brass band.

LAMBTON.

Mrs. Geo. Normandy and little daughter, of Petrolia, expect to leave for Sydney, Australia, to join the former's husband, who is engaged by the Government to drill water wells.

The Duke of Manchester passed through the Sarnia tunnel on Thursday on his way to the great fair. He traveled with six men servants and fifteen trunks.

Mrs. Kewley, the aged clairvoyant of the first ward, claims the $1,000 recently offered by the town of Sarnia for the capture of the fire bug. She claims that Hamilton Purdy confessed to her and that she caused his arrest. [Port Huron Times.]

Sarnia Sunbeams: D. Davidson has again been appointed lessee of Bayview Park, with the privilege of selling refreshments. Mrs. Cornell has moved into her new residence on Cromwell street. The Knights of the Macabees and lady Macabees of this town intend celebrating the anniversary of the order on Sunday, June 11, by meeting in their hall and marching to some of the places of worship on the principles of Macabeesism. They extend a cordial invitation to all Sir Knights in this neighborhood to attend. Mr. W. R. Eddy intends erecting an $800 house on his lot near the tunnel. Rev. Mr. Cooper, of Lockport, N. Y., has accepted a call to the Baptist Church, Port Huron, and will begin his duties the first week in June.

The Steamer United Empire left Tuesday evening for Duluth via a large cargo of general merchandise. Services will be held regularly every Sabbath in the Congregational Church here. Since the departure of Rev. Mr. Black, services have only been held at intervals. A student from McGill College, Montreal, will officiate till a regular pastor is called to the work.

MIDDLESEX.

The stone work on the new English Church has been commenced.

The recent violent winds blew in the end of the old Methodist Church, con. 5, Westminster.

OXFORD.

A meeting of the North Oxford Reform Association will be held in the town hall, Woodstock, on Saturday, June 6.

Alex. Mauro, deceased, of West Zorra, left an estate valued at $5,349. The executors are Dr. Andrew Mackay, Woodstock, and Alex. M. Ross, East Zorra.

PERTH.

The ministerial session of the annual meeting of St. Marys district met in the Methodist Church, St. Marys, on Tuesday, May 23, Rev. John Scott, chairman, presiding. Rev. W. E. Kerr was elected district secretary, and Rev. John Kennedy assistant. There were present: Rev. John Scott, A. A. St. Marys, Rev. James Ferguson, Granton; Rev. W. E. Kerr, Thamesford; Rev. R. W. Williams, Leam; Rev. R. C. Henderson, London; Rev. J. T. Smith, Ailsa Craig; Rev. B. L. Hutton, Kirkton; Rev. Wm. Berks, Woodham; Rev. John Kennedy, Wallburg; and Rev. T. J. Sabine, Kintore. Robert John McIntyre, a very worthy young man, was unanimously recommended to conference to be received as a probationer for the ministry. The superannuated relations of Rev. R. C. Henderson are to be continued. In the afternoon the meeting assembled for general district business, when in addition to the ministers the following laymen were present: H. L. Rice, St. Marys; John Hooper, Granton; J. H. McKay, Ailsa Craig; David Leam; J. H. McKay, Ailsa Craig; David Leam; Samuel Thomas, Nissouri; E. H. Brown, Kintore, and John Judge, Thamesford. The circuit and Sabbath school schedule reports were presented by the delegates. Thamesford, which has been for some years a domestic mission was at the request of their quarterly board made an independent circuit. Rev. B. L. Hutton was elected representative to the stationing committee, Rev. Jas. Ferguson and Mr. Joseph Brown to the Sabbath school committee, Rev. J. T. Smith and Mr. H. L. Rice to the Epworth League committee, and Mr. H. L. Rice to the annual conference missionary committee. The following were elected lay delegates to the annual conference to be held in Owen Sound: John Brown, C. Ingram, G.

Thomas, J. H. McKay, D. Cobblestick, John Hooper, H. L. Rice, Jos. Brown, W. A. Delamy, Jos. Beavers and E. H. Brown. The financial district meeting was voted to be held in Granton.

The Salvation Army people and their friends did the greater share of demonstrating in Stratford on the Queen's birthday. Commandant Booth, who has charge of the forces in Canada, was in town, and the occasion was made one of great rejoicing in the army.

WENTWORTH.

When R. M. Blessinger, of Aldershot, was driving to market early this morning he met a nude man near Oaklands. His clothes were lying in the road, and he appeared to be happy in his naked condition. Mr. Blessinger said the man was about 40 years old, with full beard. He was walking towards Burlington and had left a light tweed suit in the road. There is no doubt that the strange man is crazy. [Hamilton Spectator.]

The First Step

in easy washing is to get Pearlina.

When you have got it, each step becomes easier. The hard work of washing coarse things becomes light; the delicate work of washing fine things becomes safe. Pearlina costs no more than soap, but it saves more. It saves the clothes for the mistress, and saves the work for the maid.

Beware of imitations which are being peddled from door to door. First quality goods do not require such desperate methods to sell them. PEARLINE sells on its merits, and is manufactured only by 253 JAMES PYLE, New York.

PEARLINE is a trade name for a certain quality of soap, and is manufactured only by 253 JAMES PYLE, New York.

HAVE YOUR Magazines and Periodicals BOUND AT

E. H. KORDES', Blank Book Manufacturer, 428 RICHMOND STREET.

LONDON Machine Tool Co. MANUFACTURERS OF

Lathes, Planers, Drills, etc. Send for catalogue.

KEARNEY'S HERBAL HAIR TONIC

Cures Dandruff, Promotes Growth of the Hair, Prevents Falling Out and Imparts to the Hair a Beautiful Gloss.

It being a purely Vegetable Compound, it may be used freely without injury to the most delicate scalp. Every Bottle Guaranteed.

1 PER BOTTLE. 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found at the old stand, 283 Richmond Street, one door south of the waterworks office. None but good artists employed. Nothing but good work performed.

R. J. KEARNEY, 125 Richmond Street, London, sole proprietor and manufacturer, Ont. All orders by mail.

Ask your druggist for it. All the druggists keep it. J. Kearney, the fashionable barber, the people's favorite, will always be found