London, March 2. - A memorandum of the navy estimates, issued tonight, shows the estimates for 1905-1906 to be $166,945,000, against $184,445,000 for the current year.

The admiralty proposes to build during the year one battleship, four armored cruisers, five ocean-going torpedo boat destroyers, one ocean-going torpedo boat destroyer of an experimental type, twelve coastal torpedo boat destroyers and eleven submarine boats. King Edward has approved naming one of the armored cruisers Invincible. The number of men asked for, 129,-000, is a reduction of 2,100.

Lord Selborne, in discussing new construction, says the study of tactical and other questions led the board to conclude that two classes of destroyers are required—one for ocean work and the other for narrow seas. Accordingly they decided to combine the qualities of speed and sea-keeping destroyer, which is expensive, and the numbers of which necessarily must be new, and to design a new type of coastal destroyer which will be cheap. Between Jan. 1, 1904, and March 31, 1905, the following ships have or will be completed: Four battleships, one armored cruiser, four third-class cruisers, twelve submarine boats and a new admiralty yacht. At the present time the following are under construction: Eight battleships, fifteen armored cruisers, one second-class cruiser, one third-class cruiser, eight couts, eighteen destroyers and eleven
