

For Winter is the season
When within her kindly breast,
The germs of future spring time
The Earth enfolds to rest ;
And we'll look with trusting confidence,
As Life's fond visions fly,
Toward the lasting Spring which cometh,
When Winter has passed by.