THE THREE REPORTS.

The College Report has been distributed among the Churches. The Missionary Report will probably be ready about the time that this notice will reach its readers. The Union Minutes will be published only with the two former. This triple edition, 500 copies, is meant for the Pastors, the Deacons, the Delegates to the late Union Meeting, and (as far as it will go) those other active and liberal members of the churches who take most interest in the affairs of the body. Those who are to receive copies of the three together should not receive the College and Missionary Reports separately. The reports of 1865 are of more than ordinary interest and value, as they contain accounts of recent changes in the College and Mission. They should be preserved.

Three ordained pastors and sixteen missionaries and colporteurs are at work in connection with the Society. Six organised churches exist, having a membership of about 200, forming centres of light and influence amidst the surrounding darkness. There are besides, 18 stations, at which divine service is regularly held, with an aggregate attendance of about 1,200 persons, and 300 children are under Sabbath School instruction.

In the schools at Pointe Aux Trembles, nearly 100 children are annually educated, all French Canadians, and the majority of them Roman Catholics.

Between twelve and fifteen hundred copies of the Scriptures are circulated, besides tracts and books, amongst the inhabitants of the French parishes, on the north shore of the St. Lawrence. Every effort is made by the agents of
