

Four Little Ones.

"Oh, ma!" exclaimed a little Austin girl, glancing at the steam-gauge on a stationary engine, "it's 63 o'clock. I didn't know it ever got so late as that."

"How many parts of speech are there Johnny?" "Well, in our house there ain't none, 'cause when mammy gets her speech started it never parts; it just reaches from sun to sun 'thout even a crack in it."

"Pa," said a little boy, "a horse is worth a good deal more, isn't it, after it is broke?" "Yes, my son. Why do you ask such a question?" "Because I broke the new rocking-horse you gave me this morning."

Little Trot who was taking an observation the other day while her mother was making some old-fashioned crullers. "Pear to me," she exclaimed, "they'd go down easier if you didn't tangle 'em up in such awful knots."

Cutting a telegraph wire is not breaking the news gently.

For a three cent stamp, Wilson Chemical Co., Kingston, Ont., will send to any address, 27 hand colored samples of Triangle Dyes, with directions for use and other information valuable to every house-wife.

A married woman can write better poetry than a single one, because a poet is born, not made.
