C. O. F. CONCERT.

St. Lawrence Court, No. 263, Gives a First Annual Concert on Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening, 14th February, the Victoria Rifles' Armory Hall on Cathcart street was crowded with an enthusiastic audience assembled to listen to the delightful programme prepared by the members of St. Lawrence Court, No. 263, Catholic Order of Foresters. This is the first annual concert given by that court, and it was a very marked success in every acceptance of the term. Before giving the different items of the programme prepared we deem it but just that we should say a word about this particular court.

It is unnecessary and would be out of place here to dwell upon the utility and different attractive features presented by the Catholic Order of Foresters in general. It is universally admitted that it is one of the foremost Catholic organizations in the world and is calculated to do an immensity of good, both religiously and socially, for all its members and their families. St. Lawrence Court, No. 263, is certainly one of the foremost amongst the many component parts of that society. Scarcely over a year in existence it has a steadily increasing membership and the work it has done, during the past twelve months, is worthy the highest praise. Through the exertions of the Chief Ranger, Bro. T. J. Holland, ably assisted by the other officers, the Court has made great strides. Financially and otherwise it stands upon a most secure foundation, and not a regular meeting passes without witnessing initiation of a number of new members. It was to be expected that the first concert would be successful and attractive in due proportion to the advancement of the Court in other directions.

The piano used upon the occasion was the Knabe Piano, from Messrs. Willis & Co., Notre Dame street, and the splendid instrument responded to the masterly touch of the accomplished accompanist. After the introductory solo, Chief Ranger, Bro. J. T. Holland delivered a short, but very timely address, in which he touched upon the numerous advantages of the order, and told of the progress made by St. Lawrence Court, No. 263. His remarks were received with hearty applause and it was evident that Mr. Holland had pleased the audience as well as given a masterly account of his stewardship since he has occupied the important seat of Chief Ranger. Mr. Holland is a forcible and lucid speaker and far above the ordinary as far as pleasing effects are concerned. To dwell upon each item of the programme and do it full justice would require a considerable space, and the truth is that unless you had been present and heard the different selections, with the repeated encores, it would be somewhat difficult to adequately appreciate the array of talent displayed.

In order not to be partial, we will simply give the programme and express the fervent hope that when another annual concert takes place, the same enthusiasm may be made manifest and the same success may crown the efforts of St. Lawrence Court No. 263.

The following is the programme, continuing after the first and second items above referred to:

A TRIUMPH.

The Vic's Armory was densely crowded at 5 p.m. on the 13th for the entertainment given under the management of Rev. M. Callaghan. The programme was the pink of perfection. It opened with a selection by an instrumental quartette, which was ably conducted by Robert McQuirk, our young talented artist. A comedy with an exhibition of calisthenics formed two powerful attractions. Joseph McNally, a pupil of the Plateau Academy, gave a recitation which enlisted universal admiration. Martin O'Loughlin, a lad of seven summers, captured the audience by his playing on the drum. Eda Conway, a midget of three years, appeared in a pretty ditty. The two Misses Gavin secured golden opinions for the rendition of their songs. Miss Mary Drum showed her skill as a pianist in the popular airs which she had arranged in a highly creditable style. Master Willie Kennedy sang "Little Asid" in the costume of a Chinese, and maintained his reputation as a star vocalist. His sister Nellie is possessed of a voice which outlives anything in the city. She sang with her brother in a manner deserving of the highest praise. Frank Kelly, Harry and Will Daoust did justice to their item, and had to respond to an imperious encore. The best order prevailed and the greatest satisfaction was realized.

SOREL, 11th February, 1892.—I, the undersigned, have used Dr. Lavolette's Syrup of Turpentine for bronchitis, from which I was suffering for over a year. This syrup not only cured me of bronchitis, but also of gravel and calculus of the kidneys, which had caused me intense suffering for over 3 years and from which I was very near dying 2 years ago. I am now in perfect health, all symptoms of those diseases having completely disappeared for over three months. J. B. ROUILLARD, Inspector-General of Mines for the Province of Quebec.

MONTREAL, 18th February 1892. I, the undersigned, certify to my little boy, seven years old, having been cured by Dr. Lavolette's Syrup of Turpentine. He caught "la grippe," fast winter, and took several remedies unavailingly. His cough was most violent and very painful for us to hear. Towards the month of July last, when the cough was at its worst, he made use of this marvellous syrup and was completely cured by two bottles. He has never coughed since, and I consider his lungs much strengthened by this wonderful remedy. J. A. DESROSIERS, No. 111 St. Christophe Street. (Agent of Estate Skelly), 1598 Notre Dame Street.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints. Having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, and desiring to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who wish it this recipe in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail, by addressing, with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N.Y. (12-13-c-o-w)

The Training of Children.

When children with more than usual carelessness break or lose the things given to them, the natural penalty—the penalty which makes grown up persons more careful—is the consequent inconvenience. The lack of the lost or damaged article, and the cost of replacing it, are the experiences by which men and women are disciplined in these matters, and the experiences of children should be as much as possible assimilated to theirs. When a boy, old enough to possess a penknife, uses it so roughly as to snap the blade, leaves it on the grass by the hedge-side where he was cutting a stick, a thoughtless parent or an indulgent relative, will commonly forthwith buy him another, not seeing that by doing this a valuable lesson is prevented. In such a case a father may properly explain that penknives cost money, and that to get money requires labor, that he cannot afford to purchase new penknives for one who loses or breaks them. This familiar instance chosen because of the simplicity with which it illustrates our point, will make clear to everyone the distinction between those natural penalties which we contend are the truly efficient ones, and those artificial penalties commonly substituted for them.
