NO COMPROMISE STAND TAKEN BY BOTH CARSON AND REDMOND NO YIELDING AT CONFERENCE

Carson Took Lead Over Chiefs and Did Most of Talking—Cabinet Meets on Monday to Decide Attitude on Amending Bill—No Immediate Irish Outbreak.

Special to The Toronto World. NEW YORK, July 24.—A copyrightable cable to The World says: The failure of the royal home rule conference created no sensation because it was regarded as a foregone conclusion after the first session. Great secrecy was maintained as to what actually happened, but The World has been able to gather some unpublished facts on direct authority. Carson maintained from start to finish a perfectly uncompromising stand. He absolutely refused to consider anything short of the "clean cut" exclusion of six Ulster counties, together with the promise of dissolution of parliament in the fall. Such terms were impossible to the Nationalist and Liberal members of the conference, who offered their former conditions, namely, to give any Ulster county the right to vote itself out of home rule for a term of six years, provided a majority of its parliamentary electors so decided. But Carson is afraid to trust the ballot even in the counties where the Unionists have a supposedly large majority, because he fears that numbers of Unionists would either abstain or vote for inclusion. Even Ulster Unionists do not like the idea of exclusion, and no party believes in it.

Carson Took Lead. The World hears that Carson took the lead at the conference completely out of the hands of Lord Lansdowne and Bonar Law, his titular chiefs. He hardly allowed them to speak, and whenever they showed any sign of giving way he repudiated them on the spot. They were anxious to come to terms, but Carson was bound helplessly by the instructions of the Ulster Orange council. Lord Lansdowne did not shine at the conference, and revealed an amazing ignorance of the accepted facts of the situation. The Irish representatives were equally against conceding one iota beyond the offer already made, and the Nationalists generally felt relieved that the offer was refused and that the home rule bill will pass in its unaltered form. Hope for Fall of Government. The Unionists' latest hope is that the government may come to grief over the amending bill. It is to be taken up Tuesday, but even the cabinet has not yet made up its mind whether to proceed with it or drop it. The bulk of the Irish party is for dropping it, but will meet Monday to decide upon its attitude. The King is deeply chagrined that the conference failed, especially after the severe criticism that his share in it evoked in the Liberal papers. He feels especially sore that his ultraroyal friends, the Orangemen, refused to make any concession to save him from this humiliation. It is not believed that there will be any immediate outbreak of Orange violence in Ulster, but when it does come the Nationalists declare themselves quite prepared. They haven't as many rifles as the Orangemen, but are fully supplied with the latest pattern of automatic magazine pistols, which are handy for street fighting. In the County of Tyrone, the critical spot, there are twenty thousand fully armed Nationalist volunteers with five maxims awaiting an Orange attack.

Business Better in Maritime Provinces. Halifax Alderman, Visiting Toronto, Holds Optimistic View. Considerable improvement in business conditions of the Maritime Provinces recently has been noted, according to Aid. J. J. Hines, of Halifax, N. S., who is in Toronto for a few days. "No general depression ever was felt actually," said Mr. Hines, "but there has been a noted improvement in the trades that eased up earlier in the year."

Live Wire Shocked Man Working Down in Hole. Employe of Conner Contracting Company Rendered Unconscious. While working in a ten-foot excavation at the corner of Hallam and Concord avenue last evening, Harry Brownie, 259 West Richmond street, an employe of the Conner Contracting Company, came in contact with and was rendered unconscious by the shock. He soon revived, however, and was conveyed to the Western Hospital, where it is reported he will recover.

LETTERS DO NOT SHOW MOTIVE FOR MURDER

Reading of Missives Which Are Described as "Innocuous," Expected to Strike Heavy Blow at Defence of Mme. Caillaux—Calmette's Brother Testifies.

Canadian Press Despatch. PARIS, July 24.—The defence in the trial of Mme. Caillaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro, today was caught in a trap innocently set by Mme. Gueydan, once the wife of the prisoner's husband. The principal argument of Maître Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux, has been that his client was driven to her desperate act in shooting M. Calmette through fear that the two letters, of which she was aware photographic productions existed, would be published by M. Calmette, and the secrets of her inner life thereby given to the public. This argument, it is said, will be reduced to nothing by the reading of the letters, which Mme. Gueydan reluctantly gave over to Maître Labori yesterday. Today she declined to receive them back from M. Labori, and replying to a question by Labori as to what she desired done with them, the former wife of M. Caillaux said: "I do not care what you do with them. Publish all of them if you wish to do so."

Letters Not Provocative. Their reading is now regarded as inevitable. Mme. Gueydan's counsel, S. G. Archibald, said today concerning the letters: "They are innocuous. They contain several disparaging references to Mme. Gueydan, then Caillaux's wife, and consider the possibilities of his objection."

Ultimatum Sent to Belgrade. May, It is Feared, Result in Other European Powers Becoming Involved in War—Russian Intervention is Regarded as Possible. VIENNA, July 24.—Baron Vanghelien, the Austro-Hungarian minister at Belgrade, has been instructed to leave Serbia with the entire legation staff by 6 o'clock Saturday evening. The Serbian government has not notified him that it agrees without delay to comply with the demands of the Austrian note. LONDON, July 24.—European diplomacy is faced with a situation of the extremest gravity in the controversy between Austria and Serbia, and unless it is handled with great delicacy it is not likely that others besides these two powers will become involved in war. An Austro-Hungary ultimatum to Serbia, couched in a tone of almost unprecedented severity and fastening on the Serbian government and people responsibility for the assassinations of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife at Sarajevo recently, has been presented to Belgrade. It demands satisfaction within 48 hours. The almost universal opinion in the European capitals is that the Serbian government cannot comply with such humiliating terms, as are set forth in the ultimatum, since compliance would be tantamount to an admission of Serbia's guilt. The Russian Government already is seeking to gain an extension of time for Serbia. To Localize War. The efforts of European diplomacy, should the powers fail to avert the threatened war, will be devoted to localizing it. Montenegro has indicated her readiness to support Serbia in the event of an Austrian attack. This certainly would plunge the whole of the Balkans into war. Austria counts on the neutrality of her allies, Germany and Italy, but with the possibility of Russian intervention on behalf of Serbia, Austria would run great risks of risings among her own great Slav population. A fact much commented upon by the European newspapers is that Austria has chosen a moment for the issuing of her ultimatum when President Poincaré is absent from France and two of the Balkan Premiers are abroad. The Serbian Government is withholding publication of the text of the ultimatum to Belgrade. The Austrian Minister in Belgrade had been instructed to leave there by Saturday evening if Serbia fails to yield to Austria's demand. Belgrade against the forts and Austro-Hungarian gunboats on the Danube could not hold out 24 hours against a hostile force, and it is rumored in diplomatic circles here that the Serbian Government is preparing to retire from Belgrade into the interior, probably to Nisch or Uskub. According to Berlin reports, Germany will not permit interference by any third party in the event of Austria-Serbian war. It is reported that President Poincaré of France will abandon his proposed Scandinavian tour on account of the trouble.

AN APPEAL TO COUNTRY APPEARS ONLY CHANCE OF SETTLEMENT

Country Left in Mental Frame of Deep Dejection by Failure of Conferees to Reach Agreement at Palace Meeting—Election Would Be Surrender by Asquith and Cabinet.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, July 24.—Formal announcement that the Buckingham Palace conferees on home rule could not bridge the narrow differences which separate the Ulsterites and Nationalists on the home rule question was made to King George today by the speaker of the house of commons, the Rt. Hon. James Lowther, and the house itself by Premier Asquith. While the failure of the King's attempt to bring about a compromise was well-known Wednesday, the fact that the party leaders continued to discuss the question at issue kindled the faint hopes throughout the country that the deadlock might yet be dissolved. The definite fall of the curtain on the monarch's successful plan to bring face to face across table, the present sensational crisis in British history leaves the country in a mental frame of deepest pessimism. No one sees any possibility of a settlement of the dispute unless it be by the government appealing to a verdict of the country through a general election and such a step would be considered generally not a compromise but a surrender by Premier Asquith's cabinet.

Deadlock Was Firm. The shortness of the conference indicates how firm the deadlock was. Notwithstanding the usual official secrecy, some of the participants felt bound to tell their nearest supporters what had occurred, and the secrets have been disseminated through a widening circle. Apparently Sir Edward Carson and Captain Craig insisted on their constantly proclaimed "clean cut" of the whole of Ulster from the proposed Dublin Government. The Nationalists, represented by John Redmond and John Dillon, were willing, it is believed, to concede the exclusion of Ulster's counties by popular vote, provided any of the counties excluded were given the opportunity of voting for inclusion at a later date. C.N. TRUST DEED FINALLY FILED AT OTTAWA

Government Authorized, If It Sees Fit, to Pay at Request of Company All or Part of First Six Half Yearly Interest Payments—Guarantee is Comprehensive.

Government Authorized, If It Sees Fit, to Pay at Request of Company All or Part of First Six Half Yearly Interest Payments—Guarantee is Comprehensive. OTTAWA, Ont., July 24.—The trust deed in connection with the C. N. R. bond guarantee has been filed with the secretary of state. Its main features are already known, but there is an interesting clause enabling the government, if it sees fit, to pay at the request of the company, all or any portion of the first six half-yearly payments of interest on the guaranteed securities falling due after the opening for traffic on the thru line of the C. N. R. from Vancouver to Quebec City. Any money so paid for interest shall be held to be still secured by the guaranteed securities and together with interest thereon at 4 per cent. shall form a charge on the mortgaged premises ranking immediately after the guaranteed securities. An arrangement similar to this has been made with the G. T. P. If the company ever finds that it cannot pay the interest on its bonds as it becomes due it must give the government fifteen days' notice. Procedure for Default. In case of default, the government, without the consent of the bondholders, can waive its right to enforce security provided the government fulfills its guarantee, otherwise the trustees can act on the petition of the bondholders regardless of the government waiver. The clause dealing with the taking over of the company in case of default reads: "The company covenants that it will upon or at any time after the security hereby constituted shall become enforceable, and notwithstanding any waiver of any previous event of default, or any delay, or omission of the trustees, or of the government, or of any holder of guaranteed securities, to exercise any right or power accruing upon any default, forthwith upon demand deliver, surrender and yield up to the trustees or one of them, or to any receiver or receivers appointed by virtue hereof, or by any court lawfully exercising jurisdiction over the same, the whole of the mortgaged premises or such part or parts thereof from time to time as may be comprised in any such demand or subject to any judgment or order of any such court."

Signers of Trust Deed. The trust deed is signed by Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, by Sir William Mackenzie, president, and R. P. Ormsby, assistant secretary of the C.N.R. Sir William Mackenzie, president, and R. P. Ormsby, secretary of the Mackenzie and Mann, Limited, F. H. Phippen, attorney for the British Empire Trust Company; E. R. Wood, vice-president, and W. Rundle, general manager of the National Trust Company.

The exhibit is being prepared by the water power branch of the interior department, and will include a series of models of typical power plants from the Atlantic to the Pacific. They will be arranged in a semi-circle in front of an enormous landscape painting of the Dominion, which is now being executed by Gibson Catlett, Toronto. The painting will be 75 feet long by 9 feet high.

ULSTER VOLUNTEERS TO MUSTER IN HUGE ARMED DEMONSTRATION NEXT MOVE RESTS WITH CARSON

Should Asquith Show No Sign of Yielding, Provisional Government Will Probably Be Set Up in Ulster Before Home Rule Bill is Passed. Canadian Press Despatch. BELFAST, July 24.—The failure of the Buckingham Palace conference on home rule was known definitely in Belfast last night through telegrams from the Ulster leaders, and the official announcement this afternoon caused no excitement here. The leading businessmen, clergy-men, bankers and manufacturers who had declared for an anti-home rule movement were unanimous in endorsing the uncompromising attitude of Sir Edward Carson and Captain James Craig in demanding the total and permanent exclusion of Ulster from the workings of the home rule bill. The business community is suffering severely from stagnation in trade and tight money. There is unwillingness to order new stocks of goods with the fear of civil war hanging overhead. A large proportion of the commercial world would endorse a settlement of the controversy on a compromise basis, but, realizing that popular sentiment is against it, they dare not insist on anything less than Sir Edward Carson's original demand. Mobilization Next Step. The Ulster provisional government awaits orders from Sir Edward and Captain Craig, who are still in London. It is believed here the next step will be a general mobilization of the volunteer force as a kind of an "armed demonstration," which may impress the government. If the government is still unwilling, it appears certain, according to declarations by prominent Ulster men that a provisional government will be set up before the home rule bill is passed. The belligerent minority has desired to seize the postoffice and customs house and conduct that kind of "armed" republic under martial law, but the conservative element in Ulster has overruled them. The present policy is to continue all the public services as they now are, not interfering with traffic or the telegraphs, so that if the government does not adopt cooperative measures the ordinary life of Ulster will continue. To Police Belfast. Belfast probably will be policed by volunteers drawn from four local regiments, who will be known as the "town guard." The same regiments also will furnish a quota of 10,000 men, fully armed, for the second line fighting force. A so-called special service corps, consisting of about 40,000 men, most of them old soldiers, to be officers by former regulars, and having full transport and machine gun sections, will comprise the first lines of a "fighting column." This force will be ready to rush to any quarter of Ulster where the nationalists defy the provisional government by rioting and reinforce local citizen troops. It is understood the police in Belfast probably will be withdrawn immediately a provisional government is set up, leaving everything in the hands of volunteers.

ORGANIC UNION IS IN DISFAVOR

Presbyterian Organization Committee Endorses Stand Taken by General Assembly. A meeting of the executive of the general committee of the organization of the Presbyterian Church was held on Thursday in Knox Church, Toronto, Mr. John Penman presiding and Rev. Hugh Munro acting as secretary. There was a large attendance from various points in the city and from a distance. Gratification was expressed at the vote of the assembly, which showed the growth of the movement for preserving the church, especially as the resolution passed at Woodstock did not commit the church to organic union, and in that respect was much milder than anything that had formerly passed the assembly. A good many people formerly in favor of organic union have reported that they were now desirous of having the organic union propaganda discontinued, as the agitation was hurting the cause of religion and threatening the disruption of the church. In view, however, of another vote being possible, sub-committees were appointed to attend to the matter of extending the organization and issuing special literature giving information on the subject.

TO DEVELOP POWER FROM THE ST. REGIS. Chief Engineer of Conservation Commission Instructed to Make Report. Special to The Toronto World. CORNWALL, July 24.—The conservation commission has directed the chief engineer to make a survey and profile of the St. Regis River from its headwaters to its mouth at the St. Lawrence River, including such lakes and streams as are tributary to the St. Regis. He is also ordered to make preliminary plans of dams and possible water storage basins with estimate of the cost thereof together with a description of existing power developments. The water powers of the St. Regis yet undeveloped, are extensive and important.

BURGLARS BROKE YONGE WINDOW AND GRABBED SIX TRAYS OF RINGS

Early Sunday Morning Bobbery is Latest to Be Reported to the World—Two More Housebreakings Added to List of Cases Reported on Thursday. Burglaries, shop and housebreaking have increased within the past month to such an extent that special men have been assigned to investigate each crime in the hope of getting somebody for a job. Following the series of burglaries of Wednesday night, The World learned of half a dozen more since then. What the actual number of burglaries has been within the past month only the police officials know, and they refuse to give this sort of information to the press on the grounds that the culprits themselves read the story and are brought to a sudden realization that the police are after them.

Jewelry Store Robbed. Early last Sunday morning two unknown men smashed in the plate glass window of the jewelry store of J. J. M. Landy, 405 Yonge street, and got away with six trays of rings, worth altogether in the neighborhood of $2000. Thursday Detective Sackett recovered one of the stolen diamond rings in a Queen street pawn shop, and yesterday secured two more of the stolen articles on York street. On account of the number and value of the rings which were taken the burglary is one of the most important committed on a jewelry store in Toronto within the past year. The thieves had the brick bat with which they broke the window wrapped in a heavy cloth to deaden the noise; in spite of this, however, the fall of the glass attracted the attention of a constable, but the looters made good their escape.

Twelve Houses Burglarized. The police had two more reported burglaries from the Royce avenue district yesterday, where, during Wednesday night last, six unknown men, operating on stolen bicycles, burglarized twelve different residences within the area of a couple of blocks. In No. 11 division also there were two reported cases of housebreaking, one from a Euclid avenue residence and the other on Willcocks street. Special men assigned by the department to investigate the outbreak of crime in this district have so far unearthed little new evidence. A close watch is being kept on the pawn shops and second-hand stores where the stolen goods may be disposed of, but up till late last night nothing had been turned over.
