

CHAPTER VIII.

Brant accompanies the expedition against Gen. St. Clair, who is defeated near Pittsburgh—Brant's influence sought and his ability acknowledged by the United States—He visits Philadelphia—Notices of the visit by the newspapers—A change in the Government of Canada—Difference in regard to the interpretation of the title to their lands on the Grand River—Erection of a Church on their Reservation—Brant's speech at Niagara in regard to their lands.....Page 55

CHAPTER IX.

Brant's correspondence in respect to their lands and the settlement of a Missionary among his people—His wives and children—Death of his oldest son by the hands of his father—The education of his children—His correspondence in relation thereto—Removes to the head of Lake Ontario—Builds a dwelling there—His death, &c., &c.....Page 63

