

Canadian often declared that when he took two youthful "moose trackers" on the most memorable hunt of their lives, it brought to him a marvelous experience, and heaven itself ordered the whole series of adventures, so that they terminated in a way that was scarcely short of the miraculous.

THE END.