

THEY WANT A MEETING.

Thousands Demand That Council Take Up Sunday Car Question—Petition to be Presented to-Day.

Among the callers at the Mayor's office on Saturday morning were several gentlemen who are interested in the movement for Sunday cars. Their mission was to arrange a date for the presentation of a petition signed by about eleven thousand citizens, asking that the council meet at once to make the necessary preparations for taking a vote of the citizens at the earliest possible moment. Ald. Lamb, who is acting Mayor, received the delegation, and appointed 3 o'clock Monday for the purpose. If Mayor Fleming has not returned to the city by that time Ald. Lamb will act for him.

Ald. Hallam, when asked to state his views on the Sunday car question, declared that he was not going to sign any resolution for a special meeting of the council to discuss the matter. He could not see what they wanted to meet for until terms had been arranged with the Street Railway Company. He would not trust the council to do anything to help the city as soon as they would look, and they can't be trusted upon this question. Let the question go to the people after the proper arrangements have been made regarding the nature of the service.

Ald. Gowanlock would not sign the resolution for a special meeting of the council to discuss the matter. He had no objection to the matter, but he would vote when the matter came up in council.

More Than Advertising.

Dependable goods cost so little that economy lies in buying the best, rather than choosing something that simply "will do." Dependable goods never cost as little as now and here. Dependable goods alone can be bargains as we understand the word. Helpful hints follow. You who visit Simpson's daily know why the business grows even in dog days. It isn't the advertising—that is simply the means.
