"I will go and find one for you," Walter said. "Haven't you better go to bed, Vera? Don't forget that you are likely to be up very late tomorrow night." Very few words sufficed to tell Mrs. Delahay what had happened. Walter saw her into a cab after which he returned to the house. He was relieved to find that Vera had already retired. Lord Ravenspur was walking moodily up and down the library. One of the maids was going to sleep in the studio, he said. "We can get the damage repaired to-morrow. And now tell me everything. I am certain that you have something unpleasant to disclose."

"And there is no way of clearing your name?" Walter asked. "Well, perhaps there is one," Ravenspur said thoughtfully. "You see, the head of the family can interfere. Vera's mother is in a position to say—"

"Your sentiments do you honor," Walter said "but unhappily, I don't see how you can carry them out."

CHAPTER XXVII Flight. It was a long time before Lord Ravenspur replied. He paced up and down the studio immersed in his own gloomy thoughts. Then gradually his face cleared, his eyes flashed with resolution.

But I pity the midnight intruder who comes along and gets introduced to one of them. That will be one way of protecting myself for a time, and it will give the scoundrel something to do. I devise fresh means of putting an end to me. I have thought it all out, and the best thing we can do is to disappear."

"Disappear?" Walter cried. "What do you mean?" "I mean exactly what I say. The thing can be done to-morrow night. There is nothing easier."

Walter looked a trifle embarrassed. He had quite forgotten that Vera might show a natural curiosity.

Here's the Cure for Sick Kidneys

TEST THEM FREE

Perhaps you are skeptical about GIN PILLS. So was Mr. Brown. He had tried so many things for his kidneys, without getting any better, that he had just about made up his mind that he could get well.

WEDDINGS

Mercer-Coleman. Apohaqui, June 15.—A very pretty event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Sproul, at 3 p. m., Wednesday 17th, when their granddaughter, Miss Mercer, became the bride.

Ried-Williams. Andover, June 18.—A very pretty church wedding took place on Wednesday at 2.30 p. m. in the Union Baptist church.

McFarlane-Gross. Thursday afternoon Miss Josephine Beatrice Gross, daughter of the late W. S. Gross, was married to John R. McFarlane.

Davis-McGillivray. At the Baptist church, Vancouver, on June 10, Miss Eva May Wandhaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGillivray, was married to Garfield W. Davis.

Vincent-Lewis. On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at 15 Richmond street, Miss Helen S. Lewis, second daughter of Capt. Andrew and Julia Lewis, of McAdam Junction, was united in marriage to C. Victor Vincent, C.P.R. conductor.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will reside at 60 Elm street.

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

SEPARATE WHITE WAISTS SARTORIAL STANDBYS. Several kinds of lace contribute to the development of the new separate white blouses. Much Brussels is employed for the plainer sort, although they can scarcely be termed simple, as elaborate is the handwork shown in the rows of pin tucking and shirring employed to ornament them before the lace trimmings are applied.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

WILL O' THE WISP IS A FINE PRODUCTION. The initial production of "Will O' The Wisp" by Mary Emerson and Company at the Opera House last night met with a hearty reception and the play should be liberally patronized this evening.

NICKEL HAS AMERICAN PICTURES BY PATHE. The Nickel has the honor today of presenting for its patrons the first of Pathe Freres' American pictures—The Redskin's Justice and The Cascades of Brazil. This famous film of French photographers has invaded the Old World thoroughly with its pictures of the American out-of-doors and the Brazilian travel view will show what the Frenchmen are doing elsewhere on this side of the ocean.

FINAL REHEARSALS FOR THE SILVER KING. Final rehearsals for the Silver King, which will be presented by the A. O. H. Dramatic Club on Monday and Tuesday, June 22 and 23, in the Opera House, are now taking place.

REID'S VAST ESTATE GOES TO HIS WIDOW. Wil of Sir Robert Reid Made Public Yesterday. Montreal, June 18.—The will of the late Sir Robert Reid, one of the wealthiest men in the Dominion, has been made public in the first place by the will stipulates that the Reid-Newfoundland Railway is to be sold for the benefit of his estate.

SHE DRANK POISON THINKING IT WATER. Sad Death of a New York Girl Due to an Accident. New York, June 17.—Miss Myram Bloomer, 29 years old, a daughter of James Frank Bloomer, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and who since last January has been stopping with her brother, J. Ralph Bloomer, a broker, in an apartment hotel, on East Twenty-sixth street, drank a quantity of poison by mistake to-night and died shortly afterwards.

THE ESPERANZA WON. New York, June 18.—The schooner yacht Esperanza, which raced the Zuhrah from Bermuda to New York for a $200 cup, passed Scotland Lightship this morning. The Zuhrah has not been sighted.

NUTRIOTONE

Is Bringing the Pasture to the Stable

Here is results of Bennett's second trip among the Nutrioton customers who have made a thorough use of it since last October. Halifax people are getting great results, stating they would not be without it at twice the cost. Mr. Worman, of Lounsbury Co., Ltd., Moncton, says it does better work with any preparation he ever used.

Messrs. W. D. Carpenter & Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Gentlemen.—We started using Nutrioton last October and are most pleased with the results from this wonderful Tonic. Since we started feeding it we have had some twenty horses in our stables and have given each one a course of Nutrioton, and in every case, the results have been most satisfactory.

Messrs. W. D. Carpenter & Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Gentlemen.—Last fall my horse was all run down after a hard summer's work in the ice business, and he would not get up to his former condition. I have used Nutrioton with several more, and it has put my horses up into fine, sleek condition; cleaned out worms, and would not be without it, as I am convinced that it is a far better tonic than I have ever used before.
