4TH S. B. REUNION

The members of the 4th Siege Battery held a reunion dinner in Bond's last evening and decided to make the celebration an annual affair. There were about seventy-five present and after dinner speeches were delivered by the late O. C., Major L. W. Barker, who presided, Major Roy Ring, Major Douglas White, Captain J. H. A. L. Fairweather and Thomas Morrissey. The following committee was appointed to look after the canteen fund, which still amounted to $1,200, and to arrange for annual reunions: Captain Slader, G. G. Vincent, A. Henderson and Charles Scott. An appeal was made to all who were not members of the G. W. V. A. to join the ranks of that organization.

REV. MR. DAWSON'S BUSY DAY.
Rev. G. F. Dawson, pastor of Exmouth street church, had a busy day on Wednesday and established a new record in his ministerial career by officiating at five weddings. From eight o'clock in the morning until eight at night, was a steady succession of nuptials. Four of the weddings took place in the church, which also established a record for the congregation. One of the happy brides was the daughter of the pastor.

HERE FROM SIBERIA.
Sergeant Allan M. McLean arrived at the city yesterday with the party of troops returning from Siberia. Before going to Siberia, Sergeant McLean was attached to the headquarters staff here and is well known throughout the city. He expects to receive his discharge soon and will again enter business. Meanwhile he will spend a short vacation at his old home in Bristol, N. B., where his mother, Mrs. A. J. McLean, resides.

Fifty new members were initiated into the City Public Service Employees' Union last evening. Peter C. Sharkey and George Melvin of the Trades and Labor Council delivered addresses.
