Treating the Wrong Disease.

Many times women call upon their family physicians, one with dyspepsia, another with p-lpitation another with trouble in the breast, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent doctors, seperate and distinct diseases, for which he prescrib es his pills and jotions, assuming them to such when in reality, they are symptoms caused by uterine disorder; and while they are thus only perhaps to palliate for a time, they are ig norant of the cause, and encourage their practiee until large bills are made, when the suffer ing patients are no better in the end but p o bably worse for the delay, treatment, and other complications made, and which al proper medicine directed to the cause would have entire ly removed, thereby instituting health and comfort instead of prolonged misery.
