AGE AND CREATIVE GENIUS.

To the Editor of the Sun.—Sir: As a supplement to topics being just now discussed these items may be of interest:

Johann Kepler was 59 years old when he gave to the world his discovery of the law of the distance of the planets from the sun.

Francis Bacon was 59 years old when he published his Novum Organum.

Pierre Curie was 58 years old when he published his atomic theory.

Otto von Guericke was 48 years old when he invented the air pump.

Johann Rudolph von Glauber was 55 years old when he discovered sodium sulphate (Glauber salt).

Sir Isaac Newton was 44 years old when he published his law of gravitation.

Gottfried Wilhelm Leibnitz was 54 years old when he was commissioned to establish the academy of sciences in Berlin.

Antonius van Leeuwenhoek was 88 years old when he discovered blood corpuscles, infusoria, spermatozoa, &c.

Nene Reaumur was 47 years old when he brought out his thermometer.

Benjamin Franklin was 45 years old when he invented the lightning rod.

Joseph Priestley was 41 years old when he discovered oxygen.

Jan Ingenhousz was 49 years old when he discovered the respiration of plants.

Henry Cavendish was 53 years old when he discovered hydrogen.

Christian Huygens was 61 years old when he published his theory of the undulation of light.

Count Berthollet, Klaproth, John Dalton, Gay Lussac, Count Rumford (Benjamin Thompson), Woebler, Liebig, Alexander von Humboldt, and, in fact, the majority of the eminent chemists and physicists did their most important work in advanced years.

WEAK INDIGESTION.

Indigestion and dyspepsia have wrecked many lives. People who are weak and miserable should know that health would return if the digestion were made normal. This is just the condition Huteh's Tablets bring about. It cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, liver and kidney trouble, and produces sound sleep. It will make you well. See that you get Huteh's, for stomach trouble.

It's a doctor for ten cents. A big bottle with 300 in it for $2.00.

THE COFFEE WE DRINK.

More than one billion pounds of coffee, valued at $38,000,000, came into the United States last year, practically all for the use of the people of the United States. The total quantity of coffee imported from foreign countries during the year, as shown by figures recently issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its bureau of statistics, was 1,112,703,548 pounds, valued at $37,427,099, and from Porto Rico, 2,392,524 pounds, and from the Hawaiian Islands, 1,827,491 pounds—the total value of the coffee from these two island divisions of the United States being $515,852, bringing into the country $43,835,947, 417,000,000 pounds, and the value to $38,000,000. During the same period (the calendar year 1904) there was exported to the world approximately 1,653,000,000 pounds of coffee of foreign production, valued at $4,685,592, so that the consumption of coffee during the year was approximately 1,653,000,000 pounds, valued at about $13,000,000.

The figures of the world's production of coffee in the coffee year 1903-4, which have just reached the bureau of statistics, show that the coffee exported from the various producing countries of the world, and therefore the quantity entering the world's markets during that year, was in round terms, 2,260,000,000 pounds, or barely double the quantity brought into the United States alone during the calendar year 1904.

IN AND OUT.

A prominent physician in Baltimore recently perpetrated a witticism at his own expense. It was late at night. The doctor had lost his night key; the door was locked; he was cold from a long ride; and the more he rans the night bell the more the suspicion grew in his mind that some one had chloroformed the entire household. Finally, however, his sister was aroused by a long ring of the bell. Naturally she thought that there was some one at the door who wished to see the doctor; and that, as the doctor was out, she would herself have to answer the summons; else the caller would keep her awake for a long time. So, hastily throwing a loose gown over her nightdress, she hurried to the door. Opening the door the least bit, in order not to present her disheveled to an intruding eye, she shouted through the crack, in a tone of sleepy impatience, "The doctor's out," and was about to close the door, when the physician thrust one foot through, at the same time exclaiming: "Yes, I know the doctor's out; but he wants to get in!"

CONVENIENT.

There was once in New Carolina court a case that has gone down in history in the judicial annals of the state. It appears that a debtor named Jenkins, when solicited to close an old account by note, agreed to do so provided he should be allowed to draft the instrument. This was granted him, whereupon he presented the creditor with the following:

"I Samuel Jenkins, agree to pay John Huggins $200 whereunto he is indebted, but it is understood that said Jenkins is not to be pushed. Witness my hand and seal this day of May, Samuel Jenkins."

DANIEL WEBSTER AND THE BRANDY.

Mr. Webster's fondness for brandy gave one of his important clients a very curious case. He was called to Philadelphia to defend the good old rubber patents, and the head of the firm met him at the station. When they had entered the carriage, he at once turned to Mr. Webster and referred to one feature of the evidence to be presented in the trial the following day.

"I speak of it, Mr. Webster," he said, "as it has a peculiarly important bearing on the case, and I thought you might not have understood its significance."

Mr. Webster, who was looking dreamily out of the carriage window, was recalled to a consciousness of the client's presence. He yawned, and, settling back against his cushions, remarked:

"I've always hoped I might some day come to Philadelphia, because I've been told that there is no place in the United States where they serve finer brandy. When I came away from Boston, I said to some of my friends, 'Boys, I'm going to find out about that Philadelphia brandy, and if I find that it really is the best, I shall have made a useful trip.'"
