PUGSLEY CRITICAL BUT HAD NO NEWS

Minister of Public Works Had Nothing to Say of Dominion Government's Policy in Campbellton.

Yesterday, Dr. Pugsley was in town and a Standard reporter interviewed him with the object of hearing the intentions of the Dominion government with regard to aiding the stricken town of Campbellton.

"Have you anything new as to what is to be done at Campbellton?" was asked him.

"No, there is nothing in that," was his reply.

The only word spoken by the minister in addition to those above, was a criticism of The Standard's course in publishing the news of the result in the Mayes' dredging case.

"Do not forget to tell The Standard," he said, "that before they published falsehoods regarding the Mayes' case, they should have seen me."

This ended the interview.

POLICE RAID HOUSE IN HARRIGAN'S ALLEY

Two Girls and One Man Arrested in Vacant House Last Night—Another Man Got Away.

For some days there have been complaints to the police that men and women were frequenting a vacant house in Harrigan's alley off Brussels street and last night about 9.30 o'clock Acting Sergeant Scott and Policeman Crawford made a raid on the house. The doors were found locked but as it had been learned that those who frequented the place had gained admittance through a window, the officers did the same.

On entering the house they found that it was occupied by two young men and two girls. One of the young men jumped through a window on to a shed and made his escape but the other three were placed under arrest and when taken to the light it was found that the girls were Bella Scott, aged 18 years and Minnie Carberry aged 19 years. The man arrested was Thomas McKinnon, aged 28 years. The trio were taken to the central police station and locked up in the cells.

The three have been charged with lying and lurking and will face the magistrate in the police court this morning.
