The Church Union Vote

The question of Church (Inion is now before the congregations of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The vote is already being taken in the mission fields the General Assembly having made provision that these should cast the vote before Oct. Ist. The congregations are called upon to vote before the first of December. The Presbytery of St. John passed a resolution on Tuesday recommending that the congregations within the bounds vote on this question on Sabbath, Nov. 14. Of course, it will be impossible for all the congregations are composed of two or more sections, and in these regular services can be held only fortnightly or even monthly. Nevertheless, there is no small value in having all congregations which can reasonably do so cast their vote on king the congregations are composed of two or more sections, and in these regular services can be held only fortnightly or even monthly. Nevertheless, there is no small value in having all congregations which can reasonably do so cast their vote on the light ground of faith, if he does not live there himself.—The Baptist Standard.

Dr. Brown received on Monday week last, a cablegram conveying the sad news of the death of Miss Edna Corning of typhoid fever on the 3rd in the same miss Corning last December very that her strength was so undermined that when the fever set in her constitution had little power of resistance. Since her return to India about five years ago she has chiefly been in charge of the Central Boys' many the congregations are composed of two or more sections, and in the set of the congregations are composed of two or more sections, and in the set of the congregations are composed of two or more sections, and in the set of the congregation of the congregation are composed of two or more sections.

The call from Grand Falls to Rev.

J. C. Mortimer, of Hampton and Rocthese, Presbytery of St. John, on Tuesday of this week.

The claims of the congregation calling were set forth by Rev. Gordon Pringle, linterim moderator of session, and S. Farley, student supply in Grand Falls of Valleyfield, P. E. I., and sister of the summer months. A formidable delegation from Hampton, Hampton River and Rothesay pleaded strongly for the retention of their minister. Mr. Mortimer declined the call, smuch to the satisfaction of his present charge, and much to the regret of Grand Falls, which had put forth a bistore, Rev.
